FREDERICTON, NOVEMBER 11, 1893.

BETTER BE READY.

A gentleman, who claims to have undoubted authority, says there will be a general dominion election before Christmas of this year, and many circumstances point in the same direction. The cabinet ministers, during the past few months, have been making speeches in every province of Canada, from Prince Edward Island to British Columbia. They have been running around, at the public expense, making alleged tariff enquiries, but the country is beginning to see that the campaign of tariff enquiry was but a hollow excuse for electioneering. At every city and town where these gentry have prosecuted their so-called tariff enquiry, they have made their visit an excuse to deliver a party harangue. What other object did they have, than to cultivate the ground in view of an early election? We say it is high time for the liberals to awake; they were caught napping when the last dominion election was sprung on them; they ought to take warning now, and be ready for that which Sir John Thompson has said "may come like a thief in the night."

There is a rumor afloat that G. Fred. Fisher may contest York for the house of commons, as an independent. THE HERALD would not be surprised if he did ; the tory party has treated the Fisher boys unjustly. Away back in 1882, C. H. B. Fisher was promised a senatorship, which has never come to him, and neither he nor his brother are consulted by the tory managers in this constituency. Their appointment of an official, the Fishers are excellent progress made not in it with the managers. Not only are these gentlemen-once the head and front of the tory party in this countypersistently ignored by the patronage dispensers, but the government, which ha Evidences of the popularity and practical good of the work done in this direction during policy, and if Mr. McKenzie's sails, we got into power. We became identified with the protective policy, and if Mr. McKenzie had adopted encouraged by the liberal subsidies granted made rich, because we were going to shut by the government, have sprung up all over the province, and there is an eager were going to allow the manufacturer to manufacture goods, and we were going to rush for their products. Even from be-yond the bounds of the province, en-quiries are received from merchants anxious to secure the handling of New Brunswick cheese. Hodgson Bros, & Co., to come in, and we believed him. We of Montreal, large shippers of dairy pro-duce, applied to Mr. Inches, secretary for duce, applied to Mr. Inches, secretary for agriculture, for permission for dairy com-missioner Robertson to select cheese for them from time to time from our factories, but of course the secretary could not give any firm such a preference. Savage the past two or three years, are brought to notice almost every day. This year, particularly, butter and cheese factories, in Halifax. He and his brother were for several years in the industrial achool. Before his marriage Savage was thought to be all right, though for the past fifteen years his mother has been an inmate of the provincial insane asylum, a despondent but apparently harmless lunatic. His father has been dead for many years and was a sea captain. Shortly after the marriage the couple removed to New York, where Savage obtained employment in various ways, and latterly has been a conductor on an electric car. Even before Savage was married, though little was known of it, the murderer acted strangely. Mrs. Savage, the murdered wife, was in this city last year on a visit. Two months ago she returned here, obtained employment as a tailoress and was supporting tending to purchase from 50,000 to 100,000 throats by competition. We will form a herself and child. An Ottawa despatch says that the presence at Ottawa of major Markham of the St. John Sun and Mr. Stewart of the the St. John Sun, and Mr. Stewart of the Halifax Herald, is taken as an indication that a general election is at hand, and that the proprietors of the two chief tory newspapers in the maritime provinces are in consultation with the premier, who is anxious to learn how the people down this way feel about the matter.
