HAN

RS, MOLASSES. acco, Cigars, &c.

chester Streets Island.

ASII SALES

TIONS

ERN STATIONS.

, Manager.

)N,

ı all Departments.

stocks on the Island. Vorsteds. Overcoate Men's Knitted Shire

Goods and Mande gs to match. l most stylish Hat ming done after received as soon

ery Departments are Teas a specialty.

N & CO. USE, KENSINGTON.

LAST.

RIGHT PRICE.

HES REPAIRED

Watches sold to

LOY'S,

niboia, atchewan.

tion (160 acres) free to rter section can be preny has a large quantity of R ACRE, with easy terms

t productive soil in the ; its live cattle are ad-ed States cattle are not. ed States cattle are not.

station; and there are
station; and there are
station; and there are
station; and there are
station; and the station of the stati

ation as dom

should use their influ

P. R. Halifax, N. S.

cheapest on the Island.

NEW SERIES

The Charlottetown Herald

Every Wednesday

Jas. McIsaac, Editor & Proprieto

PROM THE "REPALD" OFFICE,

CONNOLLY'S BUILDING,

town, P. E. I.

eription: One Year, in Advance, $1.0

THE EDITOR OR TO THE "HERALD

FOR SALE

CHAR; OTTETOWN PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND WEDNESDAY MARCH 30 1892

BROWN'S BLOCK.

MARKET SQUARE.

CLOTHING.

W have received the Largest, Cheapest and best stock Boys, Youths and Men's Suits ever imported by us.

CARPETS. ADVERTISING RATES.—50 cents or inch for first insertion, and 20 onts for each continuation. Special We are giving big discounts in all lines of Carpets. When in the city call and see this Departmet, the finest and Contracts made for Monthly, guarterly, Half-yearly, or Yearly Advertisements, on application. Remittances may be made by Draft, P. O. Order, or Registered JAMES PATON & CO.

BROWN'S BLOCK MARKET SQUARE.

THE undersigned offers for sale his free-hold farm of 150 acres situated at the sale of the sale has been on the premises. About 50 acres and barn on the premises. About 50 acres are cleared and in good state of cultivation, the remainder being partly covered with hard and soft wood. The land is 6 miles from Cardigan Bridge, 5 miles from Grand Biver Bridge and 6 miles from St. Peter's Bay. It will be sold at a reasonable feature.

the remainder being partly covered wi		the stage-manager, the gas man. Good heavens? I have left off the names of the dramatist.	of the church before daylight, as was his custo u. Hs lantern was	votion to Mary and his desire for	For him the whole order of the	moter man stands immediately back of this wedge-shaped front, from Cardigan Bridge, 5 miles from Grat Biver Bridge and 6 miles from St. Peter Bay. It will be sold at a reasonal	The province of the party of th				world is reversed. He asks evil to be his good; he scoffs, he sneers at all good things; his life is occupied	and between his department and the rear wheels is the compartment
figure,	LEUKINO & STEKINO	Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer	was made and his dead body was	how anxious he was to be, in every way, the client of the Mother of	all good things; his life is occupied	for the a commodation of pas- sengers. In the rear of this is a
PETER SHARKEY, Corravilla, Lot 53, Dec. 16-3 mos.	are now showing the contents of over	is inquestionally the best preservative of the hair. It is also curative of dandruff,		Gol	seatingly impudent as his compan-	separate compartment for mail and hige class express.
A THE REAL TOPS RESUMED A PROPERTY.	100 Cases and Bales	tetter, and all scalp affections. Minard's Liniment cures Distemper.	supposed the rope broke as he was	have not not come to be enpresinted	"fanov stena" on the street corners	The driving wheels are six feet in diameter and are capable of
uest on tarth	100 Cases and Bales	•	Steeple Jack, as he was called,	It is inestimable, and the future will	in winter, with the double of ject of keeeping warm and showing his	making 500 revolutions in one
SIRPRIST	OF	WHEN NATURE SMILES AGAIN.—When nature smiles in	Charles Shaw, was a young and	that this work was done in the psuses,	familiarity with the variety stage,	The weight of the entire car with
TO THE PARTY OF TH	Fall and Winten Day Coads	the mild spring days, mankind often groups from the effects of bad blood	He was to n in Hull. York-shire.	Dr. Shea was compelled for many years to earn the money necessary	lounges at slubs, who drinks until	arch net tudes store ali
	Fall and Winter Dry Goods,	and kindred troubles engendered by the long hard winter. Remove	and came of a family of steepie	for the programtion of his unique	and who cultivates a habitual tone!	Feast of St. Joseph.
Washday	All of which will be sold at the lowest prices. Everything	the cause of all the trouble by	father before him were noted men		There are two classes of toughs. The
BOURPRISE	New, Good and Cheap, and worthy the inspection of every	remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters,	daring exploits in high climbing.		"hoodlum" is of the lowest class, the cad of the highest; the one is not
EVERY (Can cave built the	buyer.	the best blood searcher and tonic over discovered.	Jack commenced the work which	this great man should not have been	ashamed to steal, the other is,— that is the only distinction between	the chapel of St. Joseph's Convent.
WOMAN and the free land		HAVE YOU SEEN IT?-The	he has followep ever since. At that tender age he assisted his father to	that made the most difficult, delicate	the aristocratic tough and the ple- beian tough. The one has no	inst. The day's observance began to their server smart well and the server to the first the server to the server that a server to the		new Egyptian Dream Bok is creating quite a stir. Whether you		it would have been.	public opinion to fear, the other	o'elock in the morning, by the
St. Creix Soap MTR. Co. SOAP		believe in dreams and visions or not it will interest and instruct all	the top, a distance of 279 feet. During his boyhood he learned	Fortunately, Dr. Shea had the happiest of homes, where affection,	When a young man begins to	spiritual director of the Sodality, Father Reid. This was followed by who read it, as it contains full attractive features. Sent by return	the trades of main and painter and was also a fair carpenter, al-	selves to the blunting of those thorns	and tells lies about the vice he has	members of the Sidality and the bend us 25 SUICHUE wrapped and set one of our of beautiful engravings.		mail on receipt of 3 cent stamp, T. Milburn & Co.,	though that did enter so largely	which impeded the way of the historian. It was the life work of	wallowed in, in order to gain a foot- ing with the victims, he is beginning	children attending the Convent school approached Holy Commun-
		m	into his work. At the early age he left the paternal roof and started		to "toughen": he will soon be a cad; when he lounges all day, and
North British and Mercanti	Mark Wright Co	FOR YOUNG OR OLDGENTLE-	out for himself. He has travelled all over the civilized world and has	make him comfortable under all	looks for a night of drinking as the	After this mass twelve young ladies
FIRE AND IFE	IMAIN ITI ISILI TUU	MEN,—One of my little girle (aged 4 years) had been troubled with	elimed some of the highest steeples to be found. While he was still	was prolonged even longer than his	first indications of either toughness or caddishness is a desire on the	Sodality.
DUCTIDANCE CAMPANY		infancy. We tried diffe ent reme-	very young and helping his father he climbed and fixed a spire on the	owe it to the sedulous care of those	part of the young man to appear	the chapel was crowded with the
INDUITABLE CAMINITIES	(LIMITED,)	dies which gave relief while using, but as soon as discontinued she	church at Louth, Lincolnshire. His highest climb to works was on a	It would be untrue to say that	the myth of Daphne. She was pur-
OF-		would be than before using She lost her appetite and was growing	big factory chimney at Bedford,	the neglect of those from whom he	sued by Apollo, and she prayed that she might be turned into a bay-	serm m, on the life and virtues of
EDINBURG AND LONDON	GREAT BARGAINS	weak and delicate. A friend of mine who had used B. B B with	near Leeds, in England, where at a distance of 400 feet from the earth	But this suffering was never shown,	sented her with the leaves spout-	St. J. seph, was preached by R.v. Father Reid. After this solemn
ESTABLISHED 1809.	—IN—	grand results for the same disease advised me to try it, and also the	he worked as easily as he would on the sidewalk.	except when some token of encour-	ing from her fingers, and one sees	Benediction of the Blessed Sacra- ment took place, His Lordship the
Zotal Assets, 1896, $50,376,00	FURNITURE.	Bardock Pills, which he did.	Some seven months ago he was at St. John, N. B. There was a	trast between the cold light of	is so with the young tough: one can see the hardening process day	Bishop officiating, assisted by Ravs.
TRANSACTS every description of F		She did not take the contents of one bottle before it relieved her, and	big cnimney 150 feet high, the mill to which it was connected having	glow of certain hearts.	by day,-the bay leaves, as it were,	as descon and sub-tescon.
and Life Business on the mo		not only relieved her but perman- ently eured her, for she has not	just been burned, and the owners were very anxious for fear it would	of presenting the Lastere medal to	are seen springing from his fingers, the bark forms layer on layer, and	and evening was by the Sodality
This Company has been well as	ad 	been troubled once since, and she is now eight years old.	fall—in fact it was considered very uneafe. Jack looked at it and told	Notre Dame. The presenting took	in a short time all that is best in the young man has become hardened	They were assisted at the evening favorably known for its prompt pe ment of losses in this Island during t past twenty-two years.	So I	Henry Reynolds, Sarepta, Oat.	them it could be fixed. They		The boy begins to be a tough or a
FRED. W. HYNDMAN.	a 4	Minard's Liniment cures Barns, &c.	protested against his trying the dangerous experiment, but he secur-	would have been appropriate for	cad when he throws aside the lessons of the good, and chooses a prize-	Hermans of the Cathedral Choir-
Age	it i	NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE	ed the job and went to the top and after he got there danced a jig	the voicing of general praise. He	fighter or a variety actor as a model;	The chapel was beautifully decorated for the occassion, the altars were
(md Merchants Bank of P. D. I., Water St., Ch'town, Jan. 21, 1891. } 1y		lie e honseholl remedy for dys		and tears rolled down his cheeks.	sters of the detective stori s, and	richly and tastefully adorned with STATIST		pepsia, it expells rhoumatism and neuralgis from the system, acts as	ging a small derrick on the top of	after a pause: "From my childhood	long; when disobedience and dis-	bautiful flowers and numerous burning tapers This was one of the most successful celebrations held by St. Joseph's Sodality.
NOTICE.	Prince Edward Island Railway.				means by which he gains the applause of his 'friends.' When there water to an all all all all all all all all all Down & Co	89 1-92 WINTER ARRANGEMENT. 1891-92	poison, builds up and revitalizes the bodily functions and restores and	materials for repairs. He used no	I thank har!	is no toleration for the tratfulness of	-The Brompton Oratory, the
ESTATE S. H. BROWN & Co Stanley Bridge.	89 I-92 WINTER ARRANGEMENT. 1891-92	poison, builds up and revitalizes the bodily functions and restores and purifies the entire system.	with a light rigging and at other	I thank her!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Re-
Stanley Bridge.	Desember 1st 1801 Tealing	purifies the entire system.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of	I thank her!, Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes	-The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Ra- formation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note	On and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains will run as follows:—	purifies the entire system.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would sost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appre- tions it turned away? Non-Catholica	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers out wardly de-	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand Book account or other	On and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains will run as follows:—	purifies the entire system.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would cost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet	I thank her!, Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the screness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreliate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shan they were accept to employ	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime ile sinks	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG	On and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains will run as follows: TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST.	C. C. Richards & Co.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on	I thank hee!, Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly des- plied,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now expressions.
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othewise, are required to make immediate payment to HUG	on and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains will run as follows: TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST. STATIONS. No. 1. No. 2. STATIONS. No. 2. No. 4.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would cost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to cling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his per, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly desplied,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels him	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B- MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis duy authorized to grant re	on and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains of will run as follows: TRAINS FOR THE WEST. STATIONS. No. 1. No. 2. STATIONS. No. 2. No. 4.	C. C. Richards & Co. Gestlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidners causing me many aleanless.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would cost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rome, one new and the	I thank her!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appre- iate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shea; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly desplied,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his goods.	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The editice is in the well-known style of the Italian
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B- McKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis duy authorized to grant recipts for same.	On and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains will run as follows:— TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST. STATIONS. No. 1. No. 3. STATIONS. No. 2. No. 4. Charlottetown	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me. many alespless pirtle of pain. The first application	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would cost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to cling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his	I thank her!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shea; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refine-	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. Its sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all ville	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect,
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B- MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS	On and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains will run as follows:— TRAINS FOR THE WEST. STATIONS. No. 1. No. 2. STATIONS. STATIONS. Charloitetown dp 7 15 2 12 Royalty Junction 7 34 306 North Wiltshire 2 17 320 Bloomfeld 7 04 Uluster River 8 30 3 57 (Cleary 8 30)	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMENT so relieved me that I fell into a deep	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would east. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something rabstantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his per, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit: acoustomed to special at-	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly desplied,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. Ite sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an Eaglish architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble, The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet.
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othewise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUGB-MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, whis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned	On and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains well run as follows:— TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST. Trains. Trains. P. M. Charlottetown dp 7 15 2 12 7 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen—In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many aleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNT so relieved me that I fell into a deep aleep and complete recoverey shortly followed.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would cost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to cling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been four yards from the church. The	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appre- iate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refine- ment, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special at- tention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria.	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in Englard since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The editice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble, The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspe.
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned and Assigned and Assigned account of the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise,	On and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains well run as follows:— TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST. Trains. Trains. P. M. Charlottetown dp 7 15 2 12 7 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidners, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNT so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would cost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the church. The skull was crushed considerably.	I thank her!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appre- iate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refine- ment, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special at- tention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. It is sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria.	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The editice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble, The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspeln the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned and Assigned and Assigned account of the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise,	On and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains will run as follows:	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen—In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless aights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMENT so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd,	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would east. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something rabstantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Elezzed His Mother First.	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been inyited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure.	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly desplied,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vite things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked.	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an Eaglish architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspe. In the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nari, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5.
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned and Assigned and Assigned account of the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise,	On and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains will run as follows:	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen—In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless aights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMENT so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd,	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would east. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to cling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.)	I thank her!, Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure.	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly desplied,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked.	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspe. In the south transcept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5,000, exclusive of the two marble
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B- MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned Assigned The BENJAMIN ROGERS ASSIGNE	On and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains will run as follows:	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMENT so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to cling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.)	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his per, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been inyited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Cum-	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, admir.	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an Eaglish architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspella the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned and Assigned and Assigned account of the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise,	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST. TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST. Trains the second to the second tensor of the second tensor	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMENT so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Cows.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would cost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecution of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appre- iate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refine- ment, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special at- tention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more im- portance to the world than Com- mines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of year which more importance to	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. Ile sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, admiristered a singing rebuke to the hierots and crarks who procedaint to proceed the sent of the hierots and crarks who procedaint to proceed the sent of the hierots and crarks who procedaint to proceed the sent of the hierots and crarks who procedaint to proceed the sent of the hierots and crarks who procedaint to proceed the procedaint to the hierots and crarks who procedaint to proceed the procedaint to the hierots and crarks who procedaint to proceed the procedaint to the hierots and crarks who procedaint to proceed the procedaint to the proc	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspeln the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble estatues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned and Assigned and Assigned account of the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise,	On and after Tuesday, December 1st, 1891, Trains will run as follows:	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen —In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless sights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMENT so relieved me that I fell into a deep aleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Carget in Cows. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. —A popular topic is cabinet recovered.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to cling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishop Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower sooisl honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to spesial attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the scatholics. Dr. Shea was not a man of style; he cared as little for	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despited,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vite things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Rebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, admiristered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot be the catholic Church."	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The editice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspeln the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5,000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of heroic year. This altar was purchased
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned and Assigned and Assigned account of the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise,	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST. TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST. Trains	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless eights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNT so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really dees not concern the public so much as the	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the eburch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishep Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in	I thank her!, Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his per, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to as Catholics. Dr. Shea was not; man of style; he cared as little for the literary dress of his researcher.	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. It is sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Rebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, admiristered a singing rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand." he said, "the folly of the control of the folly	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed intercally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspel in the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5,000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic size. This altar was purchased to comprise marble statues of horoic size. This altar was purchased to comprise marble statues of horoic size. This altar was purchased to comprise marble statues of horoic size.
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned and Assigned and Assigned account of the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise,	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNT so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Carget in Cowa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really document to concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something and steep and the later of the church per sound in the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Eleased His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishop Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentine! of the same tury," he said, "You are soon to work the sentine!"	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appre- iate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shea; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man rearred in an atmosphere of intense refine- ment, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special at- tention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more im- portance to the world than Com- mines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to us Catholics. Dr. Shea was not a man of style; he cared as little for the literary dress of his researches; as he cared whether the duet of his	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Rebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this counter."	The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspellanthe south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5,000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic year. This altar was purchased from a Dominican church in Bessia. The nave, 51 feet in width, is groined throughout with cement
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned and Assigned and Assigned account of the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise,	TRAINS FOR THE WEST.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBINT so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolia. Minard's biniment cures farget in fews. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really dees no concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleaning of the human system against the approach of series.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shund. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecution of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishop Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the same tury," he said. "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your blessing but first of all the past the	I thank her!, Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his per, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to as Catholics. Dr. Shea was not importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to as catholics. Dr. Shea was not importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to as catholics. Dr. Shea was not in the literary dress of his researches as he care whether the duet of his rarles was on his coat: but we might the mere rhetorician say with Browning;	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. It is sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Rebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, admiristered a singing rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country." John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Hundred and the unasvery	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed intercally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspel in the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Norl, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5,000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of heroic size. This altar was purchased to comprise marble statues of heroic size. This altar was purchased to comprise marble statues of heroic size. This altar was purchased to comprise marble statues of heroic size. The nave, 51 feet in width, is groined throughout with cement—covered with elaberate decorations; on each side are nisles, 30 feet in width. The piers supporting the
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned and Assigned and Assigned account of the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise,	TRAINS FOR THE WEST.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Geatlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many alcepless eights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNT so relieved me that I fell into a deep alcep and complete recovery shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolia. Minard's liminest cares Carget in Cowa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. —A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does no concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleaning of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Bardock Block Ritters, and hoth parties recognize.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shruch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecution of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishop Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. Many you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the same tury," he said. "You are soon to give us all your bleasing but first of all, let the first blessing of you mother, who is present here te-day mother, who is present here te-day mother.	I thank her!, Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his per, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to as Catholics. Dr. Shea was not in the literary dress of his researches as he cared whether the duet of his rarless was on his coat: but we'll might the mere rhetorician say with Browning; Bees us all the while	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despited,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vite things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henvy Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country." John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Hundred and the unsavory Fulton are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The editice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspeln the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5,000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic year. This altar was purchased from a Dominican church in Brescia. The nave, 51 foet in width, is groined throughout with cement covered with elaberate decorations; on each side are nisles, 30 feet in width. The piers supporting the arches of the nave are each faced.
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned and Assigned and Assigned account of the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise, and are required to make in the Assigned account or other wise,	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBINT so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolia. Minard's biniment cures farget in fews. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really dees no concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleaning of the human system against the approach of series.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to cling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Elessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishop Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the same tusy," he said, "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of you episcopacy be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here te-day and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congrega	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man rearred in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to as Catholics. Dr. Shea was not a man of style; he cared as little for the literary dress of his researches as he cared whether the duet of his rarles was on his coat: but well might the mere rhetorician say with Browning; Bes us all the while How spucely we are dressed out you and 1! A second and the angels alter that	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Rebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country." John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Hundred and the unsavory Falton are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country, the Pivmonth master said.	The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an Eaglish architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspellanthese sometimes of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic statu
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or otherwise, are required to make in mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, whis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned To Service of the S	TRAINS FOR THE WEST.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNF so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular typic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicine for this purpose is Burdock Block Bloc	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something and steep the country of the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishep Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentine of the same tury," he said, "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your episcopacy be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here to-day and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mitre.	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shea; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man rearred in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the interry dress of his researches as he cared whether the dust of his rarles was on his coat: but we're in the literary dress of his researches as he cared whether the dust of his rarles was on his coat: but we're was cond and the angels alter that The second has passed, and the The second has passed, and the The second has passed, and the this conditions of the literary dress of the researches alter that the province of the second has passed, and the The second has passed, and the this conditions of the literary dress of the researches alter that the province of the second has passed, and the this conditions of the literary dress of the second has passed, and the this conditions of the literary dress of the second has passed, and the second has passed, and the second has passed, and the second has been alter that the province of the second has passed, and the s	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country." John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Hundred and the unsavory Pulson are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country the Plymouth pastor said e "Thank God for Cardinal Gibbons	The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian remaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspella the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of heroie size. This altar was purchased from a Dominican church in Brescia. The nave, 51 feet in width, is groined throughout with cement covered with elaborate decorations; on each side are nisles, 30 feet in width. The piers supporting the arches of the nave are each faced with grouped pilasters of beautiful marbie from the Radford quarries, near Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor.
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned Assigned to the state of	TRAINS FOR THE WEST.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNF so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular typic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicine for this purpose is Burdock Block Bloc	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something and the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the aburch. The skull was crushed souniderably. Eleased His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbished Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentine! of the sanctury," he said. "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of you episcopacy be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here to-day and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mith had been placed upon his head, he	I thank hee!.' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man rearred in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Proissart and of very much more importance to the literary dress of his researches as he cared whether the duet of his rarles was on his coat: but welf might the mere rhetorician say with the second and the angels have changed all for this so of Mary. He is gone, with his confidence.	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country." John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Handred and the unsavory Falton are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country the Plymouth pastor said "Thank God for Cardinal Gibbons In Long may he wear his red closi and bis red can and if there shoul and bis red can and if there shouls and bis red can and if there shouls and bis red can and if the red can are and if the red can and if the red can are and if the r	The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an Eaglish architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspella the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nari, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic size. This altar was purchased from a Dominican church in Brescia. The nave, 51 feet in width, is ground throughout with cement—covered with elaberate decorations; on each side are nisles, 30 feet in width. The piers supporting the arches of the nave are each faced with grouped pilasters of beautiful marble from the Radford quarries, near Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor.
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or other wise, are required to make in mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned To the County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned To the County Court at Clifton, with the County Court at Clifton, with the Stormach Liver and Bowels, unlocks the Stormach Liver and Bowels	TRAINS FOR THE WEST.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Geatlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNT so relieved me that I fell into a deep aleep and complete recovery shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's liniment cures Carget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction and cleaning of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Burdock Blow Bitters, and both parties recognize it as best blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and received.	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to cling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Elessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishop Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the same tury," he said. "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of you episcopacy be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here te-day and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mith had been placed upon his head, he passed down from the altar ampaused in the centre sisle before the first new. A tall, grav-haire	I thank hee!.' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man rearred in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the literary dress of his researches as he cared whether the duet of his rarles was on his coat: but well might the mere rhetorician say with B. owning; Bes us all the while How spucely we are dressed out you and 1! A second and the angels alter that The second has passed, and the angels have changed all for this so of Mary. He is gone, with his great scholarship, his seal, his crystalline simplicity, his kindness, his crystalline simplicity	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Rebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country." John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Handred and the unsavory Falton are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country the Plymouth pastor said "Thank God for Cardinal Gibbons In Long may he wear his red closi and his red cap, and if there should be an olection now, and you and sould vote, I would vote to make the catholic church."	The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an Eaglish architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspellanthese status on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble status of horoic status on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble status of horoic status on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble status of horoic status on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble status of horoic status on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble status of horoic status on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble status of horoic status on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble and the status of horoic status on either side. The Lady chapel status of horoic status on either side. The Lady chapel status on either side. The Lady chapel status o
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or other wise, are required to make in mediate payment to HUG B- MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, whis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned To the Secretary of the Secretary o	TRAINS FOR THE WEST.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless aights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNT so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolia. Minard's liniment cures Carget in Cowa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleaning of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicine for this purpose is Burdock Block Bitters, and both parties recognize it as beet blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and receipments in the best style, printed at the Herald Office	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishep Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the sanctury," he said. "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your episcopany be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here teds and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mith had been placed upon his head, b passed down from the alter am paused in the centre sisle before the first pow. A tall, gray-haire woman, her eyes beaming with the contraction of the sancture of the contraction of the sancture of the contraction of the sancture of	I thank hee!.' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shea; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the ilterary dress of his researches as he cared whether the dust of his rarles was on his coat: but well might the mere rhetorician say with the mere rhetorician say with the second has passed, and the angels have changed all for this so of Mary. He is gone, with his great scholarship, his szai, his cry talline simplicity, his kindness, his singleness of purpose, his love of God. But he has left those to whom	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. It is sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Rebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would bot out the Romary John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Hundred and the unsavory Fution are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in the country the Plymouth pastor said e "Thank God for Cardinal Gibbons Long may he wear his red cloal and his red cap, and if there shouls be an election now, and you and sould vote, I would vote to make him Pope. His word fung or with courage and strong significance.	The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble, The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspella the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic size. This altar was purchased from a Dominican church in Brescia. The nave, 51 foet in width, is grouped pilasters of beautiful marble from the Radford quarries, near Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor. The Review of Reviews for March says that "Prince Googge takes Prince Eddie's place and the stately functions of royalty will go on without even a temporary break. But there is no one to take the place
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned AND	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST. STATIONS. No. 1. No. 2. No. 4.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many alcepless eights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S Liniment of MINARD'S Liniment of MINARD'S Liniment complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Cows. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Burdock Block Block Blotters, and both parties recognize it as best blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and received or the best style, printed at the mountains of	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to cling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the eburch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishop Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentined of the sanctury," he said. "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your mother, who is present here te-day and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mitth had been placed upon his head, he passed down from the altar ampaused in the centre sisle before the first blessing. The blessing with the blessing to receive his first blessing. The blessing done.	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man rearred in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the literary dress of his researches as he cared whether the dust of his rarles was on his coat: but we'll might the near rehetoriclan say with Browning; Bees us all the while How spacely we are dressed out you and !! A second and the angels alter that The second has passed, and the angels have changed all for this so of Mary. He is gone, with his great scholarship, his seal, his crystalline simplicity, his kindness, his angleness of purpose, his love of God. But he has left those to who we owe gratitude; and why shoul that gratitude stop at the grave.	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. It is sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Rebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would bot out the Romary John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Hundred and the unsavory Fution are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in the country the Plymouth pastor said e "Thank God for Cardinal Gibbons Long may he wear his red cloal and his red cap, and if there shouls be an election now, and you and sould vote, I would vote to make him Pope. His word fung or with courage and strong significance.	The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed intercally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspel in the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic size. This altar was purchased from a Dominican churchin Brescia. The nave, 51 fost in width, is groined throughout with cement-covered with elaberate decorations; on each side are nisles, 30 feet in width. The piers supporting the arches of the nave are each faced with grouped pilasters of beautiful marble from the Radford quarries, near Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor. The Review of Reviews for March says that "Prince George takes Prince Eddie's place and the stately functions of royalty will go on without even a temporary break. But there is no one to take the place of Capdinal Manning. He was the real Archbishyn of all England.
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or other wise, are required to make in mediate payment to HUG B. McKAY. Clerk County Court at Clifton, whis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned To the same of	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless eights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNT so relieved me that I fell into a deep aleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolia. Minard's liminest cares Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does no concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleaning of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Bardock Blow Bitters, and both parties recognize it as best blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and receivers in the cest style, printed at the Herald Office	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishep Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the sanctury," he said. "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your emother, who is present here teds and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mith had been placed upon his head, h passed down from the alter am paused in the centre sisle before the first pow. A tall, gray-haire woman, her eyes beaming with such a proud love as shines only it a mother's eyes, arose to receive his first blessing. The blessing down in the centre sisle before the first pow. A tall, gray-haire woman, her eyes beaming with such a proud love as shines only it a mother's eyes, arose to receive his first blessing. The blessing down in the centre sisle before the first pow. A tall, gray-haire woman, her eyes beaming with such a proud love as shines only it a mother's eyes, arose to receive his first blessing. The blessing down in the centre sisle before the first pow.	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man rearred in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; acoustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the itterary dress of his researcher as he cared whether the dust of lib rarles was on his coat: but well might the mere rhetorician say with the mere rhetorician say with the mere rhetorician say with the second and the angels later that The second has passed, and the angels have changed all for this so of Mary. He is gone, with his great scholarship, his seal, his cry tailine simplicity, his kindness, his ingleness of purpose, his love of God. But he has left those to whom we owe gratitude; and why shoul hat great tade stop at the grave May he rest is peace! "Here had been, mark, the gener."	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Rebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country, he do the Catholic Church in the sountry, he can be an election now, and you and could vote, I would vote to make the complex of the cannot be an election now, and you and could vote, I would vote to make the country, by politician or he preacher, to make the leaders of the Louisians abomination call a has	The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspellanthese states on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic statues on either side. The Lady comprises marble statues of horoic statues on either side. The Lady comprises marble statues of horoic status of horoic stat
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or othe wise, are required to make ir mediate payment to HUG B. McKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned AND	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FOR THE WEST. STATIONS. No. 1. No. 2. STATIONS. No. 2. No. 4. Charloitetown dp	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless eights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNT so relieved me that I fell into a deep aleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolia. Minard's liminest cares Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does no concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleaning of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Bardock Blow Bitters, and both parties recognize it as best blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and receivers in the cest style, printed at the Herald Office	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishep Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the sanctury," he said. "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your emother, who is present here teds and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mith had been placed upon his head, h passed down from the alter am paused in the centre sisle before the first pow. A tall, gray-haire woman, her eyes beaming with such a proud love as shines only it a mother's eyes, arose to receive his first blessing. The blessing down in the centre sisle before the first pow. A tall, gray-haire woman, her eyes beaming with such a proud love as shines only it a mother's eyes, arose to receive his first blessing. The blessing down in the centre sisle before the first pow. A tall, gray-haire woman, her eyes beaming with such a proud love as shines only it a mother's eyes, arose to receive his first blessing. The blessing down in the centre sisle before the first pow.	I thank hee!.' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shea; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accoustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the first of the literary dress of his researches as he cared whether the dust of his rarles was on his coat; but we't might the mero rhetorician say with Browning; Bees us all the while How sprucely we are dressed out you and 1! A second and the angels alter that The second has passed, and the angels have changed all for this so of Mary. He is gone, with his great scholarship, his zeal, his cry talline simplicity, his kindness, his singleness of purpose, his love of God. But he has left those to whou that gratitude stop at the grave May he rest is peace! "Here had been, mark, the gener in chief, thro' a whole campaign of the second second second second."	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. It is sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Rebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would bot out the Romary John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Hundred and the unsavory Pulton are the conspicaous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country, by John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Hundred and the unsavory who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country, by politician or he was an election now, and you and sould vote, I would vote to make him Pope. His word fung or with courageand strong significance has done more than any other wor in this country, by politician or he preacher, to make the leaders of the louisians abomination call a ha and at the last pretend a retrea God give us courage to turn it in	The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian remaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspella the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic size. This altar was purchased from a Dominican churchin Brescia. The nave, 51 foet in width, is groined throughout with cement covered with elaberate decorations; on each side are aisles, 30 feet in width. The piers supporting the arches of the nave are each faced with grouped pilasters of beautiful marble from the Radford quarries, near Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor. The Review of Reviews for March says that "Prince Googge takes Prince Eddie's place and the stately functions of royalty will go on without even a temporary break. But there is no one to take the place of Copdinal Manning. He was the real Archbish-py of all England. No prejudice against his Emman Church outd blind the common man from seeing that the true Primacy
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or other wise, are required to make in mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned To the World B. W.	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FROM THE WEST.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many alcepless eights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNY so relieved me that I fell into a deep alcep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolia. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Burdock Block Bitters, and both parties recognisit as best blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and receivable for the purpose of the complete of the system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and receivable for CONTRACTORS TENDERS are requested for Plaste ing and inside finishing of the complete of the control of t	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something and the carth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishep Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the sanctury," he said, "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of sail, let the first blessing of your episcopany be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here te-day and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mith had been placed upon his head, b passed down from the altar ampused in the centre side before the first pew. A tall, gray-haire woman, her eyes beaming with such a proud love as shines only is a mother's eyes, arose to receive his first plessing. The blessing down the three wher arms impulsivel about his neck and kissed him. A were affected by the touching scenarios and many a handkerchief war raised to tearful eyes throughor	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appre- late it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man reared in an atmosphere of intense refine- ment, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special at- tention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more im- portance to the world than Com- mines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to us Catholics. Dr. Shea was not- mines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to us Catholics. Dr. Shea was not- mines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to us Catholics. Dr. Shea was not- mines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to us Catholics. Dr. Shea was not- mines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to us Catholics, br. shea was not- mines of Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to us Catholics, br. shea was not- mines of Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to us Catholics, br. shea was not- mines of Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to us Catholics, br. shea was not- mines of Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to us Catholics, dr. shea was not- mines of Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to us Catholics, dr. dr. shear who we was dr. dr. shear who we was dr. dr. dr. shear who we was dr. dr. shear who was a strength of the mines of the work of the mines of Monstrelet or Froissart and of t	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. Ile sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's success sor in Plymouth Church, admiristered a singing rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country." John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Handred and the ansavory Falton are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country the Plymouth pastor said "Thank God for Cardinal Gibbons Long may he wear his red closis and his red cap, and if there should be an election now, and you and could vote, I would vote to mak him Pope. His word flung on with courageand strong significance has deen more than any other word in this country, by politician or he preacher, to make the leaders of the Louisians abomination call a ha and at the last pretend a retrea as God give us courage to turn it in a rout." What a contrast between this broad Christian spirit and it the strong the strong the strong the strong the strong the leaders of this broad Christian spirit and it this broad Christian spirit and it this broad Christian s	The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed intercally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspel in the south transcept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transcept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic states on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transcept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic states on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transcept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic states of the nave, 51 fost in width, is groined throughout with cement covered with elaberate decorations; on each side are nisles, 30 feet in width. The piers supporting the srches of the nave are each faced with grouped pilasters of beautiful marble from the Radford quarries, rear Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor. The Review of Reviews for March says that "Prince George takes Prince Eddie's place and he stately functions of royalty will go on without even a temporary break. But there is no one to take the place of Capdinal Manning. He was the real Archbish por all England. No prejudice sgainst his Roman from seeing that the true Primacy of England lay with Henry E
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or other wise, are required to make in mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned To the World B. W.	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. STATIONS. No. 1. No. 2. STATIONS. Charlottetown dp 7 15 2 12 Reyalty Junction 7 34 3 05 North Williabre 10 20 Summerside dp 12 40 Kensington 1 20 Summerside 4 4 55 Kensington 1 20 Summerside 4 4 55 Reyalty Junction 1 2 35 Reyalty Junction 2 3 55 Reyalty Junction 1 2 35 Reyalty Junction 2 3 55 Reyalty Junction 2 3 55 Reyalty Junction 2 4 55 Reyalty Junction 2 5 6 50 Remark Junction 2 5 6 50 Remark Junction 2 5 6 5 7 65 Remark Junction 2 5 6 5 7 6 Remark Junction 2 5 7 7 5 Remark Junction 2 5 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNF so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against th approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Burdock Block Blotters, and both parties recognize it as best blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and received the control of the cost style, printed at the cost style, printed at the cost of the cost style, printed at the cost of the cost style, printed at the cost of the cost style, printed at the cost style, printed at the cost of the cost	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to cling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishop Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentined of the sanctury," he said. "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your episcopacy be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here te-day and is justly proud of her son. Reery member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mitth had been placed upon his head, he passed down from the altar ampused in the centre sisle before the first blessing. The blessing done she threw her arms impulsivel about his neck and kissed him. A were affected by the touching seen and many a handkerchief war raised to tearful eyes throughous the immense cathedral. The number of Black Dresses we a second of the sanctured of the sanctured was and many a handkerchief war raised to tearful eyes throughous the immense cathedral.	I thank hee!,' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shes; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man rearred in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to us Catholics. Dr. Shea was not a man of style; he cared as little for the literary dress of his researcher as he cared whether the duet of his rarles was on his coat: but well might the mere rhetorician say with the mere reduction as he cared whether the duet of his rarles was on his coat: but well might the mere rhetorician say with the great scholarship, his zeal, his crystalline simplicity, his kindness, his ingleness of purpose, his love of God. But he has left those to whom we owe gratitude; and why shoul that great scholarship, his zeal, his crystalline simplicity, his kindness, his ingleness of purpose, his love of God. But he has left those to whom we owe gratitude; and why shoul that great scholarship, his zeal, his crystalline simplicity, his kindness, his love of God. But he has left those to whom we owe gratitude; and why shoul that great scholarship, his zeal, his crystalline simplicity, his kindness, his love of God. But he has left those to whom we owe gratitude; and why shoul that great scholarship, his zeal, his crystalline simplicity, his kindness, his love of God. But he has left tho	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country," John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Handred and the unsavory Falton are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country the Plymouth pastor said "Thank God for Cardinal Gibbons in Long may he wear his red cloal and his red cap, and if there should be an election now, and you and is could vote, I would vote to make him Pope. His word flung or with courageand strong significance that is country, by politician or he prescher, to make the leaders of the Louisiana abomination call a has and at the last pretend a retrea God give us courage to turn it in a rout." What a contrast between this broad Christian spirit and the narrow, sectarian view of the Koo Nothing cabal that infest. Mus marrow, sectarian view of the Koo Nothing cabal that infest. Mus marrow, sectarian view of the Koo	The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian remaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble, The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspella the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic size. This altar was purchased from a Dominican churchin Brescia. The nave, 51 foet in width, is groined throughout with cement-covered with elaberate decorations; on each side are aisles, 30 feet in width. The piers supporting the arches of the nave are each faced with grouped pilasters of beautiful marbie from the Radford quarries, near Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor. The Review of Reviews for March says that "Prince Googge takes Prince Eddie's place and the stately functions of royalty will go on without even a temporary break. But there is no one to take the place of Copdinal Manning. He was the real Archbish-py of all England. No prejudice against his Roman Caurch oxide blind the common man from seeing that the true Primacy of England lay with Henry Edward, Cardinal Archbishop and not with the Archbishop of Canterbury."
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or other wise, are required to make in mediate payment to HUG B. McKAY. Clerk County Court at Clifton, whis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned The County Court at Clifton, whis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned The County Court at Clifton, which was a county of the County Court at Clifton, which was a county of the County Court at Clifton, which was a county of the County County County Court at Clifton, which was a county of the County C	TRAINS FOR THE WEST.	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless sights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNF so relieved me that I fell into a deep aleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. — A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against th approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Burdock Block Blots Bitters, and both parties recogning it as best blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and received for the clean of the deep style, printed at the straight of the control o	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to cling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishop Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the same tury," he said. "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of you episcopacy be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here te-day and is justly proud of her son. Byery member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mitth had been placed upon his head, he passed down from the altar ampaused in the centre siale before the first blessing. The blessing done is the most of the two this neck and kissed him. A were affected by the touching scent here were the two the immense cathedral. The number of Black Dressee we as selling this season, is remarkable. Fit for contact we want to the most neck and the sea neck and the season, is remarkable. Fit for contact we want to the most neck and the most neck and the season and many a bandkerchief we reside the most neck and the season and many a bandkerchief we reside the want neck neck and the season and many a bandkerchief we reside the season and many a bandkerchief we reside the season and neck and the season and neck and the season and neck and the season	I thank hee!.' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shea; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man-reared in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accoustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the cared as little for the literary dress of his researches as he cared whether the dust of his rarles was on his coat: but we'll might the mero rhetorician say with the mero rhetorician say with the second has passed, and the angels have changed all for this so of Mary. He is gone, with his great scholarship, his zeal, his cry talline simplicity, his kindness, his singleness of purpose, his love of God. But he has left those to whom we owe gratitude; and why shou that gratitude stop at the grave May he rest is peace! "Here had been, mark, the gener in chief, thro' a whole campaign of the world's life and death, Doing the King's work all the did day long."	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Rebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a singing rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country." John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Hundred and the unsavory who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country, the Plymouth pastor said to fine the country of the country the Plymouth pastor said on the Catholic body in this country, the Plymouth pastor said on the Catholic body in this country, the Plymouth pastor said on the country of the country the Plymouth pastor said on the country of the country the Plymouth pastor said in the country of the country the Plymouth pastor said on the country of the country sectarian view of the know Nothing cabal that infest Musthelm cabal	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble, The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspe. In the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic sea. This altar was purchased from a Dominican church in Brescia. The nave, 51 foet in width, is groined throughout with cement covered with elaberate decorations; on each side are aisles, 30 feet in width. The piers supporting the arches of the nave are each faced with grouped pilasters of beautiful marble from the Radford quarries, near Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor. The Review of Reviews for March says that "Prince Googta takes Prince Eddie's place and the stately functions of royalty will go on without even a temporary break. But there is no one to take the place of Capdinal Manning. He was the real Archbish-hyp of all England. No prejudice Sgainst his Roman Cnurch outild blind the common man from seeing that the true Primacy of England lay with Henry Edward, Cardinal Archbishop and not with the Archbishop of Canterbury."
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or other wise, are required to make in mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned To the World B. W.	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. STATIONS	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNF so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleanaing of the human system against th approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Burdock Block Blotters, and both parties recognize it as best blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and received orms in the cest style, printed at the Herald Office TENDERS are requested for Plants in gand inside finishing of the control of the contro	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the eburch. The skull was crushed considerably. Elessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishep Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the sanctury," he said, "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your episcopany be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here to-day and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mithhad been placed upon his head, he passed down from the altar ampaused in the centre siale before the first pow. A tall, gray-haire woman, her eyes beaming with such a proud love as shines only it a mother's eyes, arose to receive his first lessing. The blessing domested to tearful eyes throughout the immense cathedral. The number of Black Dressee we as selling this season, is remarkable. Fif five cents per yard, is the most popul quality, no such goods for the most popul quality, no such goo	I thank hee!.' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shea; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man-reared in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; accoustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the cared as little for the literary dress of his researches as he cared whether the dust of his rarles was on his coat: but we'll might the mero rhetorician say with the mero rhetorician say with the second has passed, and the angels have changed all for this so of Mary. He is gone, with his great scholarship, his zeal, his cry talline simplicity, his kindness, his singleness of purpose, his love of God. But he has left those to whom we owe gratitude; and why shou that gratitude stop at the grave May he rest is peace! "Here had been, mark, the gener in chief, thro' a whole campaign of the world's life and death, Doing the King's work all the did day long."	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Rebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a singing rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country." John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Hundred and the unsavory who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country, the Plymouth pastor said to fine the country of the country the Plymouth pastor said on the Catholic body in this country, the Plymouth pastor said on the Catholic body in this country, the Plymouth pastor said on the country of the country the Plymouth pastor said on the country of the country the Plymouth pastor said in the country of the country the Plymouth pastor said on the country of the country sectarian view of the know Nothing cabal that infest Musthelm cabal	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble, The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspe. In the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic sea. This altar was purchased from a Dominican church in Brescia. The nave, 51 foet in width, is groined throughout with cement covered with elaberate decorations; on each side are aisles, 30 feet in width. The piers supporting the arches of the nave are each faced with grouped pilasters of beautiful marble from the Radford quarries, near Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor. The Review of Reviews for March says that "Prince Googta takes Prince Eddie's place and the stately functions of royalty will go on without even a temporary break. But there is no one to take the place of Capdinal Manning. He was the real Archbish-hyp of all England. No prejudice Sgainst his Roman Cnurch outild blind the common man from seeing that the true Primacy of England lay with Henry Edward, Cardinal Archbishop and not with the Archbishop of Canterbury."
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or other wise, are required to make in mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned To the World B. W.	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. TRAINS FOR THE WEST. STATIONS. No. 1. No. 2. STATIONS. Trains No. 1. No. 3. STATIONS. Trains No. 1. No. 3. STATIONS. Trains No. 1. No. 4. STATIONS. No. 4. No. 4. No. 4. STATIONS. Trains No. 1. No. 3. STATIONS. Trains No. 1. No. 4. STATIONS. No. 4. No. 4. No. 4. STATIONS. Trains No. 1. No. 5. STATIONS. No. 4. No. 4. STATIONS. Trains No. 1. No. 5. STATIONS. Trains No. 1. No. 1. No. 4. STATIONS. Trains No. 1. No. 5. STATIONS. No. 5. STATIONS. No. 6. STATIONS. No. 6. STATIONS. No. 8. No. 8. No. 8. No. 8. No. 8. No. 8. No. 9. STATIONS. No. 9. No. 1. No. 1. No. 1. No. 8. No. 8. No. 1. No. 1	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNF so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleanaing of the human system against th approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Burdock Block Blotters, and both parties recognize it as best blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and received orms in the cest style, printed at the Herald Office TENDERS are requested for Plants in gand inside finishing of the control of the contro	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to cling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the shurch. The skull was crushed considerably. Blessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishop Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the same tury," he said. "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of you episcopacy be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here te-day and is justly proud of her son. Byery member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mitth had been placed upon his head, he passed down from the altar ampaused in the centre siale before the first blessing. The blessing done is the most of the two this neck and kissed him. A were affected by the touching scent here were the two the immense cathedral. The number of Black Dressee we as selling this season, is remarkable. Fit for contact we want to the most neck and the sea neck and the season, is remarkable. Fit for contact we want to the most neck and the most neck and the season and many a bandkerchief we reside the most neck and the season and many a bandkerchief we reside the want neck neck and the season and many a bandkerchief we reside the season and many a bandkerchief we reside the season and neck and the season and neck and the season and neck and the season	I thank hee!.' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shea; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man rearred in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; acoustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the illerary dress of his researches as he cared whether the dust of his raries was on his coat: but we'll might the mere rhetorician say with the great scholarship, his zeal, his crystalline simplicity, his kindness, his singleness of purpose, his love of God. But he has left those to whom we owe gratitude; and why should that gratitude stop at the grave May he rest is peace! "Here had been, mark, the gener in chief, thro' a whole campaign of the world's life and death, Doing the King's work all the did ay long." Jas. Paton & Co., Market Square, his imperced the largest and best Cashing the Island,	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country," John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Handred and the unsavory Fulton are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country the Plymouth pastor said "Thank God for Cardinal Gibbons Long may he wear his red cloud and his red cap, and if there should be an election now, and you and could vote, I would vote to make him Pope. His word flung or with courageand strong significance of the country, by politician or he preacher, to make the leaders of the Louisiana abomination call a ha and at the last pretend a retrea God give us courage to turn it in a rout." What a contrast between this broad Christian spirit and the narrow, sectarian view of the Kuo Nothing cabal that infest Mus Hall and parade a lot of disgrace and degraded "cescapes" as expine its of anti-Oatholic doctrines! Boston Républic,	— The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian remaissance, and was built from remaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspe. In the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of heroic statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of heroic statues on either side. The nave, 51 feet in width, is groined throughout with cement covered with elaborate decorations; on each side are nisles, 30 feet in width. The piers suppriting the arches of the nave are each faced with grouped pilasters of beautiful marbie from the Radford quarries, near Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor. The Review of Reviews for March says that "Prince George takes Prince Eddie's place and the stately functions of royalty will go on without even a temporary break. But there is no one to take the place of Capdinal Manning. He was the real Archbishop of Canterbury." We recognize the fact that taste is a most varied factor in dress, and have kept this fact constantly before us, in providing a steek of Black, Colored dress glood that should leave no taste unconsidered. Statust Boos
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or other wise, are required to make in mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned To the World B. W.	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. STATIONS	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNF so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleanaing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Burdock Block Blotters, and both parties recognize it as best blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and received of the control of t	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the eburch. The skull was crushed considerably. Elessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishep Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the sanctury," he said, "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your episcopany be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here to-day and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mithhad been placed upon his head, he passed down from the altar ampaused in the centre siale before the first pow. A tall, gray-haire woman, her eyes beaming with such a proud love as shines only it a mother's eyes, arose to receive his first lessing. The blessing domested to tearful eyes throughout the immense cathedral. The number of Black Dressee we as selling this season, is remarkable. Fif five cents per yard, is the most popul quality, no such goods for the most popul quality, no such goo	I thank hee!.' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shea; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man rearred in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; acoustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the illerary dress of his researches as he cared whether the dust of his raries was on his coat: but we'll might the mere rhetorician say with the great scholarship, his zeal, his crystalline simplicity, his kindness, his singleness of purpose, his love of God. But he has left those to whom we owe gratitude; and why should that gratitude stop at the grave May he rest is peace! "Here had been, mark, the gener in chief, thro' a whole campaign of the world's life and death, Doing the King's work all the did ay long." Jas. Paton & Co., Market Square, his imperced the largest and best Cashing the Island,	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country," John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Handred and the unsavory Fulton are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country the Plymouth pastor said "Thank God for Cardinal Gibbons Long may he wear his red cloud and his red cap, and if there should be an election now, and you and could vote, I would vote to make him Pope. His word flung or with courageand strong significance of the country, by politician or he preacher, to make the leaders of the Louisiana abomination call a ha and at the last pretend a retrea God give us courage to turn it in a rout." What a contrast between this broad Christian spirit and the narrow, sectarian view of the Kuo Nothing cabal that infest Mus Hall and parade a lot of disgrace and degraded "cescapes" as expine its of anti-Oatholic doctrines! Boston Républic,	—The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed intercally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representative from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian renaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspel in the south transcept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transcept, here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of horoic size. This altar was purchased from a Dominican church in Brescia. The nave, 51 foot in width, is groined throughout with cement covered with elaberate decorations; on each side are nisles, 30 feet in width. The piers supporting the arches of the nave are each faced with grouped pilasters of beautiful marble from the Radford quarries, rear Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor. The Review of Reviews for March says that "Prince George takes Prince Eddie's place and ine stately functions of royalty will go on without even a temporary break. But there is no one to take the place of Capdinal Manning. He was the real Archbishop of Canterbury." The Review of Reviews for March says that "Prince George takes Prince Eddie's place and not with the Archbishop of Canterbury." We recognize the fact that taste is a most varied factor in dress, and have kept this fact constantly before us, in providing a steek of Black & Celered dress goods that should leave no taste unconsidered.
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or other wise, are required to make in mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned To the World B. W.	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. STATIONS	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNF so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleanaing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Burdock Block Blotters, and both parties recognize it as best blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and received of the control of t	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the eburch. The skull was crushed considerably. Elessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishep Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the sanctury," he said, "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your episcopany be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here to-day and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mithhad been placed upon his head, he passed down from the altar ampaused in the centre siale before the first pow. A tall, gray-haire woman, her eyes beaming with such a proud love as shines only it a mother's eyes, arose to receive his first lessing. The blessing domested to tearful eyes throughout the immense cathedral. The number of Black Dressee we as selling this season, is remarkable. Fif five cents per yard, is the most popul quality, no such goods for the most popul quality, no such goo	I thank hee!.' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shea; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man rearred in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; acoustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the illerary dress of his researches as he cared whether the dust of his raries was on his coat: but we'll might the mere rhetorician say with the great scholarship, his zeal, his crystalline simplicity, his kindness, his singleness of purpose, his love of God. But he has left those to whom we owe gratitude; and why should that gratitude stop at the grave May he rest is peace! "Here had been, mark, the gener in chief, thro' a whole campaign of the world's life and death, Doing the King's work all the did ay long." Jas. Paton & Co., Market Square, his imperced the largest and best Cashing the Island,	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country," John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Handred and the unsavory Fulton are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country the Plymouth pastor said "Thank God for Cardinal Gibbons Long may he wear his red cloud and his red cap, and if there should be an election now, and you and could vote, I would vote to make him Pope. His word flung or with courageand strong significance of the country, by politician or he preacher, to make the leaders of the Louisiana abomination call a ha and at the last pretend a retrea God give us courage to turn it in a rout." What a contrast between this broad Christian spirit and the narrow, sectarian view of the Kuo Nothing cabal that infest Mus Hall and parade a lot of disgrace and degraded "cescapes" as expine its of anti-Oatholic doctrines! Boston Républic,	— The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian remaissance, and was built from remaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspe. In the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of heroic statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of heroic statues on either side. The nave, 51 feet in width, is groined throughout with cement covered with elaborate decorations; on each side are nisles, 30 feet in width. The piers suppriting the arches of the nave are each faced with grouped pilasters of beautiful marbie from the Radford quarries, near Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor. The Review of Reviews for March says that "Prince George takes Prince Eddie's place and the stately functions of royalty will go on without even a temporary break. But there is no one to take the place of Capdinal Manning. He was the real Archbishop of Canterbury." We recognize the fact that taste is a most varied factor in dress, and have kept this fact constantly before us, in providing a steek of Black, Colored dress glood that should leave no taste unconsidered. Statust Boos
ALL persons indebted the above estate, by note hand, Book account or other wise, are required to make in mediate payment to HUG B. MCKAY, Clerk County Court at Clifton, wis du y authorized to grant recipts for same. BENJAMIN ROGERS Assigned To the World B. W.	TRAINS FOR THE WEST. STATIONS	C. C. RICHARDS & Co. Gentlemen — In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold with which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARD'S LINIMBNF so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recoverey shortly followed. John S. McLecd, Annapolis. Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Gewa. CABINET RECONSTRUCTION. A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleanaing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicing for this purpose is Burdock Block Blotters, and both parties recognize it as best blood purifier and general system regulator known. Blank books, bill heads and received of the control of t	with a light rigging and at other times without. He claimed that he could do a job at the expense of what a staging alone would eost. Steeple Jack was very enthusiastic over his work. He feared nothing and would just as soon be 300 feet above ground if he had something substantial to eling to as to be on the earth. Thursday morning when he left the house at L vermore Falls for the church he had two pieces of rope, one new and the other old. The pieces found in his clutched hand, after the fall, was the old, the new not having been used. The body was found three or four yards from the eburch. The skull was crushed considerably. Elessed His Mother First. (New York Tribune.) A touching incident marked the consecration of Bishop Horstmann, in Philadelphia, the other day. At the close of his sermon, Archbishep Ryan addressed a few words personally to the B shop-elect. "May you be ever, as you have been in the past, the sentinel of the sanctury," he said, "You are soon to give us all your blessing but first of all, let the first blessing of your episcopany be bestowed upon your mother, who is present here to-day and is justly proud of her son. Every member of the vast congregation gazed expectantly at Bishop Horstmann, when after the mithhad been placed upon his head, he passed down from the altar ampaused in the centre siale before the first pow. A tall, gray-haire woman, her eyes beaming with such a proud love as shines only it a mother's eyes, arose to receive his first lessing. The blessing domested to tearful eyes throughout the immense cathedral. The number of Black Dressee we as selling this season, is remarkable. Fif five cents per yard, is the most popul quality, no such goods for the most popul quality, no such goo	I thank hee!.' Could any set speech be more moving than this? Could any poem have better expressed the soreness of a heart from which those who ought to have known and appreciate it turned away? Non-Catholics had long admired and valued Dr. Shea; they were eager to employ his pen, anxious to shower social honors on him and his family. But ten years ago he said: "I have never been invited into the house of any of the prominent Catholics of New York." To a man rearred in an atmosphere of intense refinement, where hospitality waited on merit; acoustomed to special attention from non-Catholics, this announcement, made in a rare burst of confidence, meant much. He longed for the sympathy and praise of his own people; it came during the last ten years—in a measure. A great man has gone from among us, an analist of more importance to the world than Commines or Monstrelet or Froissart and of very much more importance to the illerary dress of his researches as he cared whether the dust of his raries was on his coat: but we'll might the mere rhetorician say with the great scholarship, his zeal, his crystalline simplicity, his kindness, his singleness of purpose, his love of God. But he has left those to whom we owe gratitude; and why should that gratitude stop at the grave May he rest is peace! "Here had been, mark, the gener in chief, thro' a whole campaign of the world's life and death, Doing the King's work all the did ay long." Jas. Paton & Co., Market Square, his imperced the largest and best Cashing the Island,	is no toleration for the fretfulness of age in the youthful heart; when good manners and kindly and grasious usages become things for laughter; when selfishness becomes the rule of life; when sisters are bullied and mothers outwardly despised,—then the tough begins to approach his prime. He sinks lower as he grows older. The vicious group he loved soon disperses or is dispersed; he feels himself different from those good people who were once his equals; he has degraded himself; and, worse than all, his contact with all vile things has so saturated him with vileness that he no longer desires to be other than vile.—M. F. Egan in the Ave Maria. Bigots Bebuked. Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the late Henry Ward Beecher's successor in Plymouth Church, administered a stinging rebuke to the bigots and cranks who proclaim to the world their purpose to destroy the Catholic Church. "I cannot understand," he said, "the folly of men who would blot out the Romar Catholic Church in this country," John Jay, Dr. Miner, the committee of One Handred and the unsavory Fulton are the conspicuous person who are guilty of this folly. Of the head of the Catholic body in this country the Plymouth pastor said "Thank God for Cardinal Gibbons Long may he wear his red cloud and his red cap, and if there should be an election now, and you and could vote, I would vote to make him Pope. His word flung or with courageand strong significance of the country, by politician or he preacher, to make the leaders of the Louisiana abomination call a ha and at the last pretend a retrea God give us courage to turn it in a rout." What a contrast between this broad Christian spirit and the narrow, sectarian view of the Kuo Nothing cabal that infest Mus Hall and parade a lot of disgrace and degraded "cescapes" as expine its of anti-Oatholic doctrines! Boston Républic,	— The Brompton Oratory, the greatest Catholic church erected in England since the Protestant Reformation, is now being completed internally, though it was solemnly opened on April 25th. 1884, in the presence of sixteen Bishops, about 250 clergy and representotive from seventeen religious Orders. The interior is now approaching completion, but many years have still to elapse before the exterior can be fininished. The edifice is in the well-known style of the Italian remaissance, and was built from remaissance, and was built from the design of an English architect, Mr. H. A. Gribble. The sanctury, of especial magnigence, is 76 feet high, 50 feet broad and 82 feet long, and has a semi-dome over the aspe. In the south transept is the chapel of St. Philip Nori, with a gorgeous altar composed entirely of foreign marble, at an estimate cost of £5, 000, exclusive of the two marble statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of heroic statues on either side. The Lady chapel is in the north transept; here the altar is of inlaid Florentine marble, about the date of 1693 and comprises marble statues of heroic statues on either side. The nave, 51 feet in width, is groined throughout with cement covered with elaborate decorations; on each side are nisles, 30 feet in width. The piers suppriting the arches of the nave are each faced with grouped pilasters of beautiful marbie from the Radford quarries, near Plymouth.—S. F. Monitor. The Review of Reviews for March says that "Prince George takes Prince Eddie's place and the stately functions of royalty will go on without even a temporary break. But there is no one to take the place of Capdinal Manning. He was the real Archbishop of Canterbury." We recognize the fact that taste is a most varied factor in dress, and have kept this fact constantly before us, in providing a steek of Black, Colored dress glood that should leave no taste unconsidered. Statust Boos

TRAINS FOR THE	EAST	TRAISS FROM THE EAST.
STATIONS	No 7.	No. 11	ATIONS.	No. 8.
Charlot etewn	P. M	7 02 ar7 33	Georgetown	A. M. 7 10 7 35 8 50 9 05 9 37 10 10 10 30	dp2 ar3 dp3 :
Mount Junedy Morell 8t. Peter's Bear River Souris	5 1	7 40 8 17 8 46 9 32	Souris. d Bear River. St. Peter's Morell. Mount Stewart Junetics. s	7 48	P. 1 12 12

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Highest of all in Leavening Power.-Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Local and Special News. linard's Liniment relieves Seuralgia.

"For a long time I suffered with atomach and liver troubles, and could find no relief until I began to use Ayer's Pills. I took them regular for a few menths, and my health was completely restored."

—D. W. Baine, New Berne, N. C.

when such a pleasant, effective, am-economical medicine as Ayer's Sarsa-economical be procured of the neares

The smallast man in it.—Manager: Have ou finished those play-bills? And put I the names on it? ter-Yes, sir. I think so. I have

America's Great Historian-

Maurice F. Hgan in the last num-er of the Ave Maria pays a touching ribute to one whose loss has scarcetribute to one whose loss has scarce-by yet been fully felt by the Cath-olics of this country: Dr. John Gilmary Shea, whose desh occurred last week, was not an old man when he died, as we an old man when he died, as we compute the time f age in a century which is and has been remarkable for its illustrious old men. But his close attention to his favorite pursuit, his habits of re-earch and study, and the necessity under which he unfortunately labored of againg his living outside of the

The "Tough."

"The individual perishes, the type remains." There are some type that ought to extirpate themselves

100 Miles an Hour-

DESCRIPTION OF THE PROPOSED WEDGE

VOL. XXI NO 25

that ought to extirpate themselves; but the species is immutable, and to the end of time the type known as the "tough" will no doubt exist. As a noun, the name of this species is not in Worcester's Detionary; but so an adjustive we find "tough" to travel, and the tough is all these—and more.

The Electrical World says: The standard schedule time of all through cars on the proposed Chicago and St. Louis electric railroad will be Louis but so an adjustive we find "tough" to Louis electric railroad will be made in from two and a half to taree hours. It will be unnecessary to travel, at night; therefore no tarough passenger cars will be run