THE NOMINATIONS.

The Mayor and First Deputy Reeve Elect-ed by Acclamation—The Reeveship and Second Deputy Reeveship Contested.

The nominotions for Mayor, Reeve, and First and Second Deputy Reeve for the Town of Goderich for the year 1883, was held in the Council chamber on Friday morning last, commencing at 10 o'clock, Returning efficer Harry E. Johnston, in the chair. Nominations were accepted up to 11 o'clock, at which time the list stood as follows :-

Johnston, in the chair. Nominations were accepted up to 11 o'clock, at which time the list stood as follows:-For Mayor-Horace Horton. For Reeve-S. Platt, F. W. Johnston. For Second Deputy Reeve-J. C. Detlor. For Second Deputy Reeve-Abraham Smith, Edmund Campion. Mayor Horton, on coming forward to address the ratepayers was well receiv-ed. He stated that the past year had been a comparatively uneventful one. No public enterprises had been inaugu-rated, and the controllable expenditure of the council to take hold be the policy of future Councils. Three years ago the Thon-Council advertises in the city daily papers for manufactures to whom bonuses would be given on con-dition of their establishing business in Goderich. He was not in favor at head to the rest ablishing business in discriminate bonusing, but although we should be slow to take up with every-thing that offered, yet if a good enter-prise was obtainable with the aid of a line were built at all it would have to be all built by Goderach, for the town-ships would give nothing ; and if built it would soon be gobbled up by some other inter silway question things were pretty much as they were at the commentenement boomus we should not stand in our own boomus we should not stand in our own light by refusing to grant assistance. On the railway question things were pretty much as they were at the commencement of the year, so far as getting increased facilities was concerned. The G. T. R. had swallowed the G. W. R., and unless the C. iV. R. or T. G. and B. were brought in as auxiliaries to the C. P. R., had swallowed the G. T. R. had swallowed the G. W. R., and unless the C. iV. R. or T. G. and B. were brought in as auxiliaries to the C. P. R., no other scheme offered. Until, however, it was definitely decided that these branch lines were outside of the less to attempt to bring them into Gode-rich. But if it was finally decided upon that one or both would be assum-ed by the C. P. R., every effort should be put forth to draw them hither, so that our grand lake privileges could be made tributary to them for purposes of com-termain at the position the solution in the favor he would have treateneous the solution in the favor he would have the best man for the position, they should elect him; otherwise they should elect thr. Platt. Mr. S Platt on being called upon to speak was well received. our grand lake privileges could be made tributary to them for purposes of com-his reasons why Mr. Johnston should not be returned to the County Board as Reeve for Goderich. Mr. Johnston had a lmitted that he had been in six years, bor a port of importance on Lake Hu-ron-nay, the most important of all the ports. Unless this end was obtainable, and the way was clear for us to set the built arealing successfully it would had increased the to for the municipal and the way was clear for us to set the ball arolling successfully, it would be useless for us to expend a single sixpence. In reference to the obtaining of nufactures, a section of the local press had been finding fault with the Council for not having initiated a scheme for the sating of factories in town by granting bonuses. For the information of all rned he would state that formulating of bonus schemes was not a portion of the Council's duties. The duties of a council were defined by Statute, and chenes having for their object the inbringing of manufactories should receive their inception outside, and if found worthy should then come to the Council for municipal aid. The tendency was, say, and that was the increase of pau- settlement were these :

Mr. F. W. Johnston was the first speaker, and said it afforded him pleas-ure to see so large an attendance. After being six years at the County Board he had been elected to the highest position in the gift of that body—The Warden-ship. Although assailed by a portion of the local press he had got that position at the hands of his friends in the Council. During his incumbency of office he had tried to do his duty. As warden of the Council he had a great deal to do, but was always in his place. For six years he had been on the Audit Board, and had helped the Co. Judge and Mr. Adamson to audit the County accounts. He claimed credit for the erecting of the iron bridge over the Maitland, and was pleased to say it was built within an esti-mated cost of $15,000. He also took great credit to himself for settling the difficulty with the manager of the Ham-ilton Iron Bridge Co. and getting $400 damages from him. The erection of a County poor house was next referred to, and the speaker declared himself in favor of the erection of one so that the large amount now paid out for relief would not have to be naid out. He had been to ing reached the top of the municipal ladder were good enough reasons why he should now resign and give other men "a show." (Hear, hear and laughter.) No man should have a life lease of the a longer term than was his fair share. Mr. Johnston took all the credit for building the bridge, although he never opened his mouth in favor of the bridge r offered a suggestion to the men who Messrs. Hardy, Gibson, Girvin, Mason, Young and Allan. Not satisfied with putting in the bogus claim for the erec-tion of the iron bridge, Mr. Johnston however, for manufacturers to locate in the larger towns and cities where in-Hamilton and effected the settlecreased railway and other facilities were obtainable. The day had passed when Bridge Co., by which $400 was saved the Bridge Co., by which $400 was saved the county. This claim was an unfortunate good towns were located within 20 miles of each other. The railroad had revo one for Mr. Johnston, for in addition to lutionized things from what they were being untrue, so far as Mr. Johnston's when mud and gravel roads were the personal claim was concerned, it opened tests. He was now what he always had s means for traffic. There was one pro- up for discussion an unfortunate ques. been, and because he was running means for traffic. There was one pro-gressive interest in town, he was sorry to Mr. Adamson, perism. From all parts of the county the efficient clerk of the County Council, the pauper element found its way to the drew up the details for the settlement, county town, and the consequence was and proceeded to Hamilton in company that the amount paid for relief during with Messrs. Hardy and Johnston. Mr. the year just closing was about $1,200 Hardy made the proposition to Mr. or $1,500. He hoped at an early day to Jamieson, according to the plan decided of a County House of Refuge. He ston silently acquiesced. And yet he had the temerity to come before the had the temerity to come before the electors of Goderich to night and the temerity to come before the bad the temerity to come before the electors of Goderich to night and the temerity to come before the bad the temerity to come before the electors of Goderich to night and the temerity to come before the complex of the temerity to be the temerity to come before the electors of the temerity to be the temerity to come before the temerity to be the temerity to be the temerity to come before the temerity to be the temerity temerity to be the temerity temeri New Year." Mr. Hutchison suggested that an the working classes would have a chance the working classes would have a chance the the deserving persons. (Applause.) To the Conservatives it was said, "Platt has turned Grit," and to the Reformers, it is said, "Platt is an old fogy Tory, and John-ston is a young Liberal-Conservative." For his own part, he deprecated the introduction of politics into municipal con less a Conservative. Mr Johnston had said if he (Platt) had told him he was going to rnn and asked him to retire he would have done so.
