A Dangerous Fall.

This morning about 8.30, while the laborers were absent to breakfast, a lad named Mallard while climbing up the rail of the s.s. Benedick slipped and fell fully 25 feet between the ship and the wharf and went into the water. A man named Morgan was in his schooner nearby and hearing the boy's cries rushed to his aid and found him clinging to the shores. The man climbed down and fished him out. The boy was in a bad state and the man was just in time to save him from drowning. He was badly hurt about the back and side, received a drenching and after a while was able to proceed home. Boys are always prowling about these ships and wharves, and the wonder is that more accidents do not occur.

Mr. Thomas Squires died at 51 Queen's Road yesterday morning in his 71st year. He leaves a wife, four sons and three daughters. He was a well known citizen and went to the seal fishery in the days of the "beaver hats." He afterwards was employed with the Anglo-American Telegraph Co. when they first started to build the line through this country. For a number of years he was stevedore at Harvey & Co's, where he was highly esteemed. The Telegram extends its sympathy to the relatives.

"Songs of the Sea."

At the above church to-morrow evening there will be held a unique service. The hymns will be those relating to the sea, and the sermon by the Pastor, Rev. Fred. R. Matthews, will be on the subject of the "Anchors of the Soul." The present service will particularly interest those who go down to the sea in ships, and as the hymns are well-known, and the words have been specially printed for the use of the congregation, every person can enter with heartiness into the singing. Service commences at 6.30, and ushers will be in attendance to welcome any visiting friends from the city or the outports.

S. S. Service.

To-morrow Wesley Sunday School will hold their Rally Day, when every scholar is asked to bring a friend. Rev. J. Thackeray will preach. Scholars will assemble at 2.15 p.m. A good programme will be rendered, Mr. H. V. Tuft and Mrs. Partridge, late of England, will sing solos. Rev. J. W. Bartlett will deliver an address; singing under direction of Mr. James Pratt. The Pastor, Rev. J. K. Curtis, will preach.

Here and There.

The regular yesterday took out about 40 passengers.

A SEVERE FROST.—We had severe frost last night. The surface of Burton's Pond was caught over with a thin coat of ice which the sun's rays melted by 9 o'clock.

LOGGERS ACTIVE.—A large number of men left Norris and Port Harford by the last west going express to go to work logging at Millerton and Grand Falls.

HERRING FISHERY.—The preparations for the herring fishery are all ready going on at Bay of Islands. It is likely that there will be more men at the work than ever before.

EVANGELICAL CHURCH, HUTCHINGS STREET.—Evangelistic services on Sunday, 11 a.m., 3 and 7 p.m. Rev. T. Laite will preach morning and evening. All are invited; books provided.

TRADE IMPROVING.—Yesterday and to-day business showed much improvement on Water Street in the stores. The fine weather for handling fish the past few days is the cause. A large number of schooners arrived last night, and the wharves are again beginning to present a busy scene.

MADE BIG VOYAGE.—Capt. John Lewis of the banking schooner Hispaniola, arrived home at Holyrood yesterday. Capt. John had his usual good luck this season in his fine vessel, the Hispaniola, and landed over 2,800 qds. of fish. We congratulate him on his success.

Councillor Mullaly met Jack McGrath of this city, while at Halifax last week. Jack, who is studying law at Dalhousie, is a very steady and sensible young man, and has successfully passed all the examinations. He told Councillor Mullaly that he intended to return to his native land in a few months to take up his profession.

Doctor Crippen

Cross-Examined.

Special Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Oct. 21.

Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, accused of the murder of his wife, known to the theatrical profession as Belle Elmore, matched wits to-day with Richard Muir, one of the cleverest criminal lawyers in England. The fact that the defendant was to undergo cross-examination by this representative of the Crown increased interest in the proceedings, and when Lord Chief Justice Alverstone, always punctual to the minute, entered the New Bailey Court room, and the prisoner at the same time took his place in the dock, the spectators were already in their seats awaiting the opening of the case against the lawyer and the cool doctor. Before Crippen re-entered witness box, from which he gave direct testimony yesterday, the Lord Chief Justice announced that at its own request the jury would be allowed later in the day to examine microscopically the skin from the part found in the Hildrop Crescent cellar which bears, it is alleged by the prosecution, a scar such as Belle Elmore received from a surgeon's knife 12 years ago. The defence claims that there is no scar but that what appears to be such was caused by a fold in the skin. Although the steamer Montrose is at sea, the quarter master who Crippen testified yesterday entered into a conspiracy to hide him during the flight to Canada, is in London, and Mr. Muir had a long talk with him last night. When Crippen was escorted to the witness box he assumed the same characteristic attitude he did when found. He rested his elbows on the railing, clasped his hands, and looked inquiringly about the court room. Mr. Muir, losing no time in preliminaries, asked Crippen whether he had seen or heard anything of his wife since early on the morning of February 1. He replied in the negative, and in answer to further question could not prove any fact showing that she left the house alive. He supposed that she had gone to Bruce Miller, her professional acquaintance, who lives in Chicago. That was the only guess he could make. He made no inquiries. The witness said that he last saw his wife between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning of February 1, when they retired as usual. That morning he prepared his own breakfast. Returning home in the evening he found that Mrs. Crippen had disappeared, as she had threatened to do. He made no inquiries regarding the passengers listed on vessels sailing for America, nor had he since suggested that inquiries regarding the whereabouts of his wife should be made. Mr. Muir suggested that if the witness's wife were alive she would call upon her sisters in the United States. Crippen's reply to this was that if his wife had gone with another man, she would not have "the face" to go to her sisters. This opinion from the witness box drew forth the doctor of "Ohs" from the spectators. The doctor did not say whether his wife took any quantity of furs and dresses. Regarding the disposition of Belle Elmore's jewellery, the witness stated that he considered that he was quite entitled to tell Inspector Dew that he had not pawned his wife's valuables, as these had been purchased with his own money, and he considered them his. He had used the proceeds of the sale to pay for advertising. He did not know what cash his wife had at the time she left. "I asked her," said the witness, "if she wanted money, and she replied, 'No, I want nothing.'" Counsel took up the subject of the letters and statement to Belle Elmore's friends which the husband had made regarding her death. Crippen admitted that all were lies and smilingly assented to the suggestion that he had to play the roll of a bereaved husband. He thought that he played the part pretty well. The witness suggested that it was not impossible that the human parts found in the cellar of his home had been placed there during the periodical absence of himself and wife.

(Daily News Message.)

LONDON, Oct. 21.

Witness said that he had resolved to go away on July 9th after realizing that suspicion would be directed against him. He feared that he might be arrested and held until she was found. Crippen was under cross-examination for four hours, and throughout the whole time was the personification of coolness. When the defendant was excused from the box, Turnbull, the director of the Pathological Institute of the Gordon Hospital was called, and bluntly declared that the so-called scar on the body of the victim could not be a scar.
