Home Rule.

It is a thousand pities that racial and religious animosities are being stirred up and aggravated over the proposed grant of Home Rule to Ireland.

It is a singular infelicity on the part of Sir Edward Carson to fan the flame against Home Rule by a reference to the Imperial sentiment displayed during the late Canadian elections. He should have remembered that there was a time when the relations between Canada and Britain were more strained and embittered than those between Great Britain and Ireland, and that the change came about by the grant of Home Rule to Canada. Since the establishment of responsible governments in Canada and the other white men colonies, the relations between these colonies and the mother country have grown more and more cordial, until they have reached the satisfactory conditions which they exhibit to-day. Sir Edward Carson should not forget the radical change which has been effected in the relations of the Home Country to South Africa by the grant of Home Rule to South Africa. The reference to the Colonies and Home Rule made last May by the Prime Minister was far happier. Speaking at Manchester Mr. Asquith said:—

"This question of Irish Home Rule has come to be seen to be more and more a part of a great Imperial problem. The people in our great Dominions overseas, who have how possible it is in experience to reconcile Imperial supremacy with local autonomy and freedom, are, I believe, uniformly and overwhelmingly in favour of that view."

Fire at Moore & Company's

At noon to-day Mr. Stan Walsh of the firm of Moore & Co., Plumbers, Duckworth Street, found the office and workshop on the second flat filling with smoke and as the minutes went by this became more dense and the smell of burning wood more pronounced. The whole staff of plumbers in the place set to work and the wooden partitions were partly cut down to try and locate the blaze and later the workmen were quickly on the scene considering the condition of the streets, with their apparatus and taking the chemical hose inside played it on the flames while a powerful stream of water was taken from the fire plug opposite Edens grocery, and the hose being brought up over a ladder to the roof of an annex in the rear the stream was sent in through this, and with another shortly after, flooded the fire out. Citizens in hundreds were drawn to the scene at 1 p.m. and a number of them with the police removed all the stock or gear so, to get it out of danger. There was a good deal of damage done with water and smoke and the fire ate its way to the upper flat though, the woodwork which surrounds the chimney on the western side of the building. The firemen worked expeditiously and well. We understand that the place is insured. The cause of the blaze was a defective chimney and had the fire occurred late at night and with a high wind a disastrous conflagration must have resulted.

The Police Court.

To-day 5 drunks were discharged. Supt. Grimes and Const. Tucker summoned four teamsters and one cabman for driving on Military Road sidewalks on the 31st ult. The men retained Mr. W. J. Higgins, who pointed out to the court the impassable condition of the streets by reason of piles of snow and deep gulches, and in this I. G. Sullivan concurred, remarking that in going to the fire last night over the rough roads the chemical engine had met an accident. His Honor agreed with this, but the law was on the Statute Book and taking the circumstances into account he imposed only the minimum fine of $1 or 3 days on each.

Keenly Contested Curling.

The final match between the Greens and Whites was played in the Curling Rink last night for the Greiner Cup. The Whites were 31 points and the Greens with one team each to play. The Whites were skipped by H. W. LeMessurier and the Greens by W. Joyce. The contest was keen and play good, and the Whites turning the tables won out by 9 points. This gave the Whites the cup with a plurality of 4 points in the aggregate and they keep the cup for a year.

Put Into Salcomb

There was some uneasiness expressed about the non-arrival of the English Schr. "Lady St. John's," which left Cadiz salt laden for this port, 70 days ago. Yesterday afternoon A. S. Rendell & Co., had a wire from Salcombe, England, saying that the vessel had put in there. Though the telegram did not say so, it is thought the vessel received damage in the recent stormy weather and that Capt. Milson put in there for repairs.

Enjoyable Time.

The Ladies' Committee of the C. C. C. are again to the fore working as hard as ever to make the "At Home" on February 12th, beat all previous records. This annual 'time' has always been looked forward to by the dance loving public of the city and the event of this year will no doubt eclipse any that have been held in the past.

Hotel Burnt.

A fire broke out in Mr. Joseph House's Hotel at Topsail about 1.30 this morning and in about half an hour there was nothing left standing but the two chimneys. All the rest was a heap of ashes. The place was formerly known as Daley's and was occupied by Mr. Thos. O'Brien for about 15 years till last spring, when Mr. Joseph House undertook to run the place. The house was closed up and untenanted, Mr. House himself having gone over to England to come out as chief steward in Baine Johnston's steamer Erna. How the hotel caught fire is a mystery, considering that there was nobody living there. It is believed that the rats got hold of matches there, and as they will be gnawing brimstone when they can't get anything else they may like, set fire to the place.

Mr. White's Story

To-day Mr. White told us his story of the dispute at the Clothing Factory. In the old building the pants-makers worked their machines by the foot. In the new building the machines are run by electricity. The workers on piece work were paid at the same rate under the new conditions as under the old. For instance, pants' pocket makers received 3 1/2 and 4 1/2 cents for making the pockets of the pants. But the management expected a bigger output with a consequent increase in the wages of the workers. The workers, however, refused to turn out more work, although they were relieved of the foot labour. As a last resource he told the girls he would reduce the rates, knocking off half a cent from the 3 1/2 and 4 1/2 cent rates. The girls refused to work under the conditions and left. Some, however, have returned to work, and he is obtaining the increased output the management desired.

KILLED MANY SEALS.—Yesterday, 55 years ago, an old resident of Hearst's Content informs us that that harbor filled up with old seals which were beating north. They swam in clear water and there was intense excitement in the place. Hundreds of men from that place, New Perleau and Turk's Cove assembled and shot hundreds of them from the harbor front.

CHILD SCALDED.—A little boy, son of Mr. John Newman, of the General Post Office, residing at 97 Cabot Street, fell backwards into a tub of hot water this morning at his home and was badly scalded about the back and thighs, but not deeply. Dr. Tait was sent for and, having dressed the affected parts, said that he hoped for a speedy recovery. The child suffered considerably.

King George Shot We

No Sooner Had a Tiger Broken Than He Hit the Dust—A Collection of Wild Animals.

London, Jan. 20.—Jacob Hoot, first for the Graphic, who had permission to make sketches of George's shooting expedition, sends to his paper with a letter, copies of which he writes:—
"The Maharajah of Nepal and three sons spared no trouble or expense to give all a good time on our ten days' visit as his guests. Tiger infested jungles. There were two camps, in each of which days were spent, which were filled with every comfort, including electric lights.

"His Majesty shot altogether seven tigers; he has been shooting remarkably well, and it is no
