TWO MORE LISTS.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

Here is an efficiency suggestion for mothers. Have a list of things for the children to do on rainy days. I suppose a great many mothers will laugh at that idea. A "no-no." I know a mother who does not call it a notion. She keeps her list in her writing tablet and when the stormy afternoon comes and Satan is just about to perform his usual service for idle hands, she consults it and then says, "You children haven't played dominos for a long time," or "If you'll each write a nice letter to someone you owe a letter to, you may make molasses candy, the last part of the afternoon," or "Isn't this a good time to paste these stamps in your book?" or "Why don't you cut out some pictures for that picture book you're making for the Children's hospital?"

She Put Aside Some Of Their Best Toys.

When the children were small she also made it a point to put aside a few of their best toys for special occasions and rainy days were sometimes ranked as such occasions. Also, if she had a chance to get some little toy or puzzle cheap she laid it aside as a rainy day treat. She does not consult the list in the children's presence. That would give the whole affair too much of a cut and dried aspect. She simply glances over it for inspiration before making her suggestions.

Hard To Summon Ideas Out of This Air.

Of course, all these suggestions sound so simple that it hardly seems as if one needed a list. But it is surprising how hard it is to summon the simplest suggestion to one's mind out of thin air.

I am, I have mentioned before, a great believer in lists. One of the lists which I keep in my card catalogue is a list of possible dinners. When I cannot think what to have, I glance over it. A friend of mine who is a fine practical housekeeper of the old school was with me one day when I was looking to this list for suggestions, and she thought it most humorous. Then she glanced over it. "Creamed codfish, baked potatoes and greens," she read (this is a very simple dinner which is a favorite of ours), "why I haven't had that for a long time. I think I'll have it tonight."

And she wondered why I laughed.

Milady's Boudoir.

WHILE AT THE SHORE.

Many people admire the becoming brown which is characteristic of the summer girl but unfortunately we do not all brown becomingly.

In any case a severe tanning is bound to ruin the skin eventually. Too much exposure to sun and air is fatal to all complexion beauty. When you want to wear your evening dress you will find the tan burn and freckles most unpleasant thing to have to deal with.

The effect is most incongruous, and certainly not pretty if the color of the skin on your arms and neck is two toned, as is generally the result where no precautions against burn and tan have been taken.

If you make a practice of wearing low necked blouses out of doors don't forget your sunshade. Protect yourself against the sun's rays while you sit on the beach after your swim. The ugliest sunburns result from the sun beating down upon wet, unprotected skin. Face, neck, and throat once allowed to become red and scorched through sunburn remain unsightly for a long time.

Before going out lightly dab a little non-greasy cream over the skin and then dust lightly over with some good face powder.

This effectively protects the complexion, neck, throat and arms from the evil effects of exposure to hot sun, which in spite of its health giving properties, serves to dry and burn the skin causing it to wrinkle in many cases.

DOUBT.

Upon this earth we walk about. There's altogether too much doubt. Men doubt the books upon their shelves.

They doubt their neighbours and themselves. They doubt the strength that they possess.

They doubt the motives of a friend; Doubt that the present we will end. Yet joy returns and truth exists And sunshine clears away the mists.

This life appears to be a bout With the remorseless foe of doubt. On every hand its troops are placed And everywhere its guns are faced.

Who yearns to reach a mountain peak, The beauty of the world to seek, Must overcome the doubt that's spread Like tangled weeds where he must tread.

Believing with a faith sublime That he shall reach the top in time.

There is no sustenance in doubt; No strength of heart or muscle stout; No courage for the hour of test; Its fruit is tasteless at the best.

And vanished hopes and broken creeds, And failures sad, and goals unpaired, And splendid victories unattained. It has no future life of bliss, And steals away the joy of this.

Believe in God, believe in man! Put faith in everything you plan. Believe you have the power to do What tasks the day shall bring to you.

And be strong in faith that when You meet the common griefs of men, You still can bear with sorrow's pain, Knowing that joy shall come again. Live out your life with courage stout. There is no malice in doubt.

Fads and Fashions.

Folds and flounces are introduced as trimming.

Tucks are used on coats to trim sleeves and collar.

'Tis surprising, but the chemise dress is still here.

Household Notes.

CROUTONS may be substituted by puffed corn.

Orange gives a delicious flavor to gingerbread.

Add shredded coconut to your cup mustards.

Dye white silk hose which have turned yellow.

Fish, like meat, is high in body-building value.

Doughnuts should be mixed as soft as possible.

Fish stewed with macaroni is an agreeable novelty.

Dish towels and time can be saved by draining dishes.

Fruit should be eaten each night before going to bed.

Doughnuts should be turned frequently while frying.

Try cooking prunes in maple syrup instead of water.

Liquid rice soup is excellent for sick people and children.

Use a piece of cord in slicing cornmeal mush for frying.

Thick soups should not be used with other very rich foods.

A good scalloped dish is made with tomatoes, corn and onions.

Bananas should always be cooked quickly especially when fried.

Jellies can be removed very easily if their molds are of aluminum.

Sheets and towels have a lovely clean odor when folded unironed.

Cottage cheese is delicious when minced pimientos are added to it.

Fried Finnan haddie and potato balls are a good breakfast combination.

The key to the success of cottage cheese is in having the clabber very firm.

Market Notes.

Codfish.—Some buying was done amongst merchants last week, several parcels changing hands at $15 for No. 1 Shore and $9.50 to $10 for Labrador Soft Cure.

Cod Oil.—The foreign demand shows no improvement in Common and the local price is still $130 per ton. Refined is moving in small lots at $2.25 per gallon for a specially good article, but ordinarily nothing over $2 was offered.

Herring.—Because of the falling off in New York demands for Scotch pack the local price has fallen to $17 and Splitts are now so low as $7.

Provisions.—Flour (Standard) is selling at 14.25 to 14.50 wholesale, according to lots, while the retail price is $14.50 to $15. Pork is steady at $48.50 for Ham Butt; $50 for Short Cut Clear and $40 for Family Mess. Beef prices range from $48.50 to $48.50, according to grade. Notwithstanding the substantial decline in Sugar prices in Canada and United States, there is no reduction as yet in the local market. White being quoted at from $12.25 to $12.70 per hundred pounds. The Brown equivalent regulation has been relaxed. Molasses is away up, $1 to $1.10 per gallon, according to package, being asked. There is nothing new to report in Produce.

FORGET IT.

Forget the grief of yesterday; he is the greatest bore I know who buttonholes us on his way, to talk about some by-gone woe. Forget the grudge you've held so long against the gent who lives next door; it's doubtless true you're in the wrong; his head's entitled to be sore. Forget the chances you have missed, forget the hopes that proved a fros; there always is a chance, I wist, as good as any you have lost. Forget your princely pedigree, forget the blue blood in your veins; get out where common mortals be, and maten with theirs your stately brains. Forget the grandeur of the past if you're reduced to low estate; get down to tacks and bustle fast, and keep your winning smile on straight. Forget the dark, unpleasant things; we all have troubles of our own; we love the lad who smiles and sings, detest the one who sheds a groan. Forget the ailments you have had, the fups, the glanders and the gout; forget the truss and liver pad, and talk of tractors, tripe and trout. Forget all weary things that bore, that keep men yawning as you spie; spring gladness when you have the floor, and tell how dad-blamed good you feel!
