On the Island of Borneo has been found a certain race of which expenses have been discovered in the Philippine Islands, in Terra del Fuego, and in South America. They wasked assually almost creet on two legs, and in that attitude measure about four feet in height. They are dark, wrinkled and hairy. They construct no habitations, form no families, scarcely associate together, sleep in caves and trees, feed on snakes and vermin, on antis, eggs, and on each other. They cannot be tamed or forced to any labor, and are hunted and shot among the trees like the great gorrilla, of which they are a stunted copy. When they are captured alive, one finds with surprise that their uncenthy in the property of the property of
