THE

Genuine Thing!

10 per cent. off for Cash

As Mr. STEWART is leaving for the British and Continental Markets in July, he has determined to reduce his large stock of Dry Goods and Clothing by $20,000 this month. To effect this he has resolved to allow a discount of 10 per cent. on all purchases of $1 and upwards. So rare a chance of securing cheap goods seldom occurring, the public should avail themselves of making and saving money. Quotations of prices being no real criterion of cheapness, an inspection of goods is solicited.

WILLIAM STEWART.

N.B.—A lot of Dress Goods slightly damaged by water from a leak in the roof will be offered at less than half price.

Cottons will be sold at the Genuine Cost—and are exempted from the 10 per cent. reduction.

The Inspection of Butter.

We have to thank Mr. Storton, M.P., for an early copy of the Act passed during the late session of the Dominion Parliament, providing for the inspection of certain staple articles of Canadian produce. Chief among these is butter, and as the trade in this important branch of farming industry in this county is now large, and yearly increasing, we are sure that a synopsis of the Act, embracing every important provision, will be not only interesting but valuable to our readers.

The Governor in Council has the power to appoint an Inspector of Butter, as well as of the other articles mentioned, in any city, county, town or place it may be deemed expedient, such Inspector to hold office during pleasure. He must be duly qualified and have passed an examination before a competent Board of Examiners. No Inspector must deal or trade in, or have any interest directly or indirectly, in the production of any article subject to inspection, under a penalty of $200 for such offence, besides forfeiting his office. Inspectors are also required to give security for the due performance of their duties. The Governor in Council may at any time require the Inspectors to make returns to any public department or officer, Board of Trade or municipal authority as may be designated. The Act provides that heavy fines can be imposed on those who with a fraudulent intention alter or in any way deface the Inspector's marks or brands, and any one assuming the title or office of Inspector without authority is also liable to a heavy fine.

We come now to the special provisions for the packing and inspection of butter. The Inspector must in the first place see that all butter to be inspected must be properly packed, and if not so packed, the Inspector is authorised under the Act to have it repacked, the owner to pay the expense. All butter for inspection must be packed in firkins or kegs, made of the best seasoned wood and well hooped, and of the following sizes and dimensions:—The firkin to contain as nearly as possible fifty-six pounds of butter, the length of the staves from croe to croe to be fourteen inches and a half, the diameter of the head to be eleven inches and a half, the thickness of the staves to be, as nearly as may be, three-quarters of an inch, and the thickness of the head as near as may be, half an inch, the package to weigh, as nearly as possible, but in no case to exceed ten pounds when dry; the keg to contain as nearly as possible, eighty-four pounds of butter, the length of the staves, from croe to croe, to be seventeen inches, the diameter of the head to be thirteen inches, the thickness of the staves to be as nearly as may be, three-quarters of an inch, and of the head, as nearly as may be, half an inch, and the package to weigh, as nearly as possible, but in no case to exceed thirteen pounds when dry;—and the weight of each package shall be branded on the outside of the firkin or keg, at the centre of the stave or hinge, with the name of the maker thereof, under a penalty of one dollar per package, upon any cooper contravening the requirements of this Act, as aforesaid.

In inspecting, the Inspector may throw aside all salt or pickle which, in his judgment, is not necessary to its preservation, and if there is too little he can add what additional quantity it requires. When inspected he should mark the gross weight in pounds and tenths, on the head of the keg, also the tare, which shall include one pound weight for each firkin, and two tenths weight for each keg, for sackage, over and above the cooper's tare; and the quality of the butter shall be marked as first, second, third, fourth, or as grease, according to the quality of the butter, adopting the system of classification in use in Ireland.

The Inspector shall provide himself with sufficient premises for the storage and inspection of butter, and failing to do so he is liable to a fine, besides paying the actual damage sustained by the owner.

For ten days' storage and inspection, marking, branding, &c., the Inspector is allowed ten cents on each package; if re-inspected, seven cents. For any cooperage or repairs on the kegs or firkins, he is to be allowed five cents per package. The Act also provides that the Inspector shall be paid so much a month for storing butter; and that all charges for inspection and storage shall be paid before the butter is taken out of the Inspector's charge.

The inspection of butter offered for sale or exportation, in packages containing fifty pounds weight of butter or more, shall, in any city, town, or village where an Inspector is appointed by law, be compulsory, and any such package offered for sale without being inspected shall be forfeited, and the person who sold will be liable to a fine of $2 for each package.

This Act comes into force on the 1st of September in this year.

THE POLARIS INVESTIGATION.—The examination of the survivors of the Polaris is concluded, and the report of the Secretary of the Navy has been completed and published giving the evidence of Captains Tyson and Myers, the Esquimaux, Joe and Hans, and several of the crew. The result of the investigation shows that Captain Hall's death was the result of natural consequences, notwithstanding all that has been said to the contrary; that the partying by Captain Tysc and party from the Polaris was purely accidental, and that no blame attaches to Captain Buddington on that account; that the main objects of the expedition were accomplished before Hall's death, and that the latitude having been ascertained, the party were never before attained by the expedition; and that the party will return to the United States at the close of the summer.
