The PRODIGAL JUDGE

The Famous Novel by
VAUGHAN KESTER

Copyright, 1911, The Bobbs-Merrill Company

CHAPTER XIII.

The sheriff had brought the judge's supper. He reported that the crowd was spreading, and that on the whole public sentiment was not particularly hostile. Indeed, he went so far as to say there existed a strong under-current of satisfaction that the judge should have been so speedily justified. Moreover, there was a disposition to exalt the judge as having furnished the crowning touch to the day's pleasure.

"I reckon, sir, they'd have felt obliged to string you up if there wasn't no continued the sheriff lastly from the open door where he had seated himself. "I don't say there ain't them who don't maintain you had ought to be strung up as it is, but people are funny, the majority talk like they might, but they don't mean it. There's no telling when we'll get another prisoner. Tomorrow the blacksmith will come iron bars to your window, so folks can look in and see you. It will give a map more air to the place."

"Unless I do get more air, you will be troubled long by me!" declared the judge in a tone of melancholy conviction.

The building was intolerably hot, the advantages of ventilation having been neglected. But the judge was a reasonable soul; he was disposed to accept his personal discomfort with a philosophic philosophy; also hope was firing in his heart. Hope was second nature with him, for had he not lived these years with the odds against him?

"You do sweat some, don't you? Oh, yes, I mean a sweat, a smart sweat, it's the sun that's dangerous. That's the sheriff consolingly. "You had better be sent to jail for," he added, "but you're kindly bent in mind, sir, and I have been convicted of no crime!"

"I've had a letter from the judge," said the sheriff. "He says you might have had company; politics."

Only one "BROMO-PHOSPHATE" is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE, for the signature of E. W. GROVE, the World Over to Cure a Cold in Days.

loaned you was bad—but you don't need ever to pay it back!"

Mahaffy gave way to mirth. "Never mind," said the judge indulgently. "It performed all the essential functions of a perfectly legal currency. Just suppose we had discovered it was counterfeit before I took it to the tavern—that would have been a hardship!"

"It were Captain Murrell gave it to me," explained Mahaffy. "I consecrate myself to his destruction! Judge Bloomin Price cannot be humiliated by impunity!"

"I should think you would have your head Price, until you'd waddled out of danger!" Mahaffy spoke gruffly.

"How are you going to get me out of this, Solomon—for I suppose you are here to break jail for me," said the judge.

Mahaffy expected the building. He found that the door was secured by two ponderous hinges, to which were fitted heavy padlocks, but the solid wooden shutter which closed the square hole in the gable that served as a window, was fastened by a hasp and peg. He withdrew the peg, opened the shutter, and the judge's face, wreathed in smiles, appeared at the aperture.

"The blessed sky," he murmured, "nothing deep, but the solid wood would have broken my spirit!"

"If you can, Price, you'd better come first," suggested Mahaffy.

"Not sufficiently acrobatic, Solomon—its heads or I lose!" said the judge.

He thrust his shoulders into the opening and wriggled upward. Suddenly his forward movement was arrested.

THE REASONABLE WAY

Strong, vigorous men, women and children hardly ever catch cold—it's only when your system is run down and vitality low that colds and coughs can get a foothold.

Now isn't it reasonable that the right way to cure a cough is to build up your strength again?

Mr. Patrick Wren, of N. Birmingham, Ala., knows about this. He says, "I caught a bad cold a year ago and had a bad cough for a long time. Vinol relieved it completely and built up my health. Vinol is the best medicine I ever used or heard of for coughs and colds."

This splendid cod liver and iron remedy does not smell or taste like cod liver oil, but is so delicious that children love to take it. Yet it has the strengthening value of cod liver oil, with tonic, blood-building iron.

Chronic bronchitis yields to Vinol because it builds up the system in all weakened and rundown conditions. You can get your money back any time if Vinol does not do all we say.

GILLEAN'S

Our Unrivalled Annual

1/4 OFF SALE

The only genuine Quarter-Off Sale that is ever held in London. Everything in the store goes under this reduction for a full month before Christmas, starting Saturday, Nov. 25th, and continuing until the 1st of January. The greatest jewelry-selling event that it is possible to imagine. We have done it before, and the volume of business that resulted was entirely satisfactory to us. That's why we are doing it again. Every article remains at its regular marked price, and the sale price is exactly one-quarter off. A reward of $50.00 to anyone who can prove it otherwise.

THE GIFT STORE

Here is a chance for investment for Christmas Gift giving that far-sighted buyers will seize quickly. Purchases will be held until Christmas on a small deposit.
