

A REAL DEPILATORY

One that will remove every trace of hair, with no harsh, irritable or sore after-effects.

McKenzie's Depilatory Powder

IS GUARANTEED.

"A trial will convince you."
Mailed or sent anywhere, upon receipt of price.50c*Cairncross the ChemistsFour Graduate Druggists.
216 DUNDAS ST. W. PHONE 880.
"Experts in Kodak Photography."SPECIAL TRAINS TO LONDON DURING FAIR
WEEK TO BE ADDEDThirty-Five Additional On the Grand Trunk Lines to City.SEVERAL FROM BORDERNo Special Service Announcement by C. P. R. Is Made Yet.

That the officials of the G. T. R. fully expect that record-breaking crowds will visit this city during the Fair week is borne out by the fact that 35 special trains will be added to the service to and from this city on the three main days of the week. These trains will be operated over all lines leading to this city.

They will be operated as follows:

On Sept. 14 and 15, a train will leave Windsor at 6:30 a.m., arriving in London at 9:40 a.m. After stopping at all intermediate points, return trains will leave London at 10:50 p.m., arriving Windsor at 1:55 a.m.

Special trains will leave Brantford for London on September 13, 14 and 15 at 8 a.m., arriving in this city at 9:50 a.m., making stops at all intermediate points. Return trains will leave London at 10:50 p.m., arriving Brantford at 1:55 a.m.

On September 13 and 15, a train will leave Sarnia for London via St. Marys Junction at 6:50 a.m., arriving in London at 9:10 a.m. At night a train will leave London at 10:30 p.m., arriving Sarnia at 1:55 a.m.

On the same dates a train will leave Sarnia for London at 9:10 a.m., arriving London at 10:10 a.m.

A special will be run from Sarnia to London, making stops at all intermediate points, on September 13 and 15. It will arrive in this city at 10:50 a.m. At night a train will leave London at 10:50 p.m., arriving Sarnia at 1:55 a.m.

On September 13 only a special will leave from Sarnia to London, leaving Sarnia at 7:25 a.m., and arriving at Stratford at 9:05 a.m. Returning it will leave Stratford at 12:30 a.m., arriving Sarnia at 2:10 a.m.

On September 13, 14 and 15 special will leave Stratford for London at 9:10 a.m., arriving in London at 11:20 a.m., arriving Stratford at 12:45 a.m.

No announcement of a special service has been made by the C. P. R. as yet.

BOYS AND GIRLS WILL BE GUESTS
OF W. FAIR BOARD*Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.To Entertain Young Stock
Men and Women.

Arrangements have been made by the Western Fair directors with the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. to take charge of the boy and girl farmers who will be in the city during Fair Week to enter stock in the calf competition.

The Y. M. C. A. will take charge of the boys and provide a man to be in constant attendance with them. Sleeping accommodations will be provided either in a tent to be erected on the fair grounds or in the boys' game room of the "Y." This matter will be fully decided upon at a meeting of the Fair board directors and officials of the "Y."

A program of physical drill, gymnastics, swimming and amusements, is at present being drawn up by the officials of the "Y" as special attractions for the boys and girls who are being done to provide a week of sports and amusements, and in every way to give them a good time during their stay here.

The girls will have their own sports and amusements and will be looked after personally by Mrs. Henderson, of the Y. W. C. A.

HOTELKEEPER
MAY NOT SELL
TO NON-GUEST*Decision On Sunday Selling In Stated Case by Justice
Middleton.*WITHIN GENERAL LAW*Innkeeper Subject to All the Laws Applicable to Merchants and Traders.

Explains the legal status of news and cigar stands in hotels in regard to the sale of merchandise on Sundays, the following letter has been received by The Advertiser from Rev. W. M. Rochester, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, Toronto. The letter, which is not explanatory, gives a recent legal decision on the matter pronounced by Justice Middleton.

It is as follows:

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Permit me through your columns to direct attention to a matter of public concern.

It is assumed apparently that hotel stands at which cigars, candy, tobacco, papers, periodicals, etc. are sold may conduct their business as usual on Sunday. This view, however, is not correct.

The view of the law is that such stands to the same legal restraint on Sunday as ordinary merchants handling the same goods. Common sense and the principle of fair dealing would suggest this. The high court of Ontario, however, has made the matter clear from a legal standpoint. The Honorable Justice Middleton, in certain stated cases, declared as follows:

An innkeeper may think it a matter of convenience to his guests, and a source of profit to himself to become to some extent a merchant, and receive as "food and refreshment" what is sold to him. He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

He may not always be easy to draw the line between a merchant and a hotelier. He is as to these adjuncts to his innkeeping, subject to all the laws applicable to merchants and traders and enjoys the same immunity because he is also an innkeeper.

TWO MORE PAY FOR SELLING TO
SPECIAL AGENTS*Myers Gootson and George
Ogrodink Fined $500
For Bootlegging.*FORMER WILL APPEAL*Spotters Convict Five of Six Charged — Seventh Leaves London.

Myers Gootson and George Ogrodink were fined $500 and costs each after they had been convicted of bootlegging in police court this morning. During their stay here, John Martin and Michael Stogner, Ontario Government special officers, secured five convictions out of six cases brought to court, and secured a warrant for a seventh person, who fled. Gootson intends to appeal the case, R. G. Fisher, his counsel, stated.

Gootson endeavored to prove that he was in Port Stanley on July 7, when he was alleged to have sold a bottle of whiskey to Martin and Stogner. He stated that he, his wife and Mrs. Cohen, a next door neighbor, started for the lake at 1:30 o'clock that day to celebrate Mrs. Cohen's birthday. Gootson stated that he got off the train at St. Thomas to do some business with John Lurback, a junk dealer. Then, after he had had supper with the St. Thomas family, he went back to the train with the others of the party.

Bought Bottle.

Martin and Stogner swore that at 8:00 o'clock on evening of July 7 they went into Gootson's office at 573 Ottawa avenue to buy some tobacco. They asked him for more necessary than the sale of intoxicating drinks. Under the Lord's Day Act of Canada, it is illegal to sell or give away any such articles on Sunday.

By your courtesy we invite the attention of all concerned to this matter and respectfully request in the interest of the preservation of our weekly rest day that they comply with the requirements of the law.

MR. ROCHESTER,
General Secretary.*TWO NEW STREET
LIGHTS ARE ORDEREDLighting of Dundas Street East Laid
Over at Present.

Following instructions issued by members of No. 1 committee of the city council, City Engineer Brazier has ordered a street light to be placed at the east end of Thompson road, this spot being very dark and dangerous at night, according to motorists who have travelled along the thoroughfare.

Another light being installed at the C. P. R. crossing on Richmond street, a few feet north of Pall Mall street, on the east side of the road. This lamp was ordered on recommendation of Ald. W. A. Wilson, who declares that a railway siding leading across Richmond street, makes this spot a dangerous one without nearby street lighting.

No action will be taken to install street lights on Dundas street east, although the owner of land here, who intends opening a new real estate subdivision has offered to pay the expenses entailed. This is explained by the fact that this portion of Dundas street is now a provincial highway, and the city does not wish to interfere with improvements to it. City Engineer Brazier declares that lights are necessary here.

The opposite side of the road is in Middlesex county.

GUNDY TO RETURN.

Toronto, Aug. 19.—Attorney-General Raney denied that there was any intention to supersede Magistrate W. E. Gundy as a result of his recent decision on the right to export liquor to the United States. Mr. Gundy, he said, had been granted leave of absence at his own request. H. T. Willis, K.C., was holding court at Windsor during his absence, but Mr. Gundy would resume his duties on his return.

In the death of S. H. Craig, Dufferin avenue, the city loses one of its most esteemed and admired pioneer residents.

Born in Port Hope, the deceased was a member of the old Phoenix volunteer fire brigade and of the original Seventh Regiment. He served at one time as a member of the old Phoenix volunteer fire brigade and of the original Seventh Regiment. He served at one time as a member of the old Phoenix volunteer fire brigade and of the original Seventh Regiment.

For many years Mr. Craig conducted a contracting and lumbering business on Richmond street, city. When the water system was installed he superintended the construction of the plant and laying of mains. During the last thirteen years he had been employed by the hydro-electric commission in the right of ways department.

His widow, Mary Ann McLean Craig, two sons and four daughters survive.

His sons are, Alexander and Gordon (Harry), his daughters, Eva, Mary, Ann and Isabella. He was born in Port Hope, Ontario, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, bound and gagged the teller and accountant, and made off with $2,000 in cash. The robbery was discovered 15 minutes later when Constable Kilkenny of Queenston entered the bank to transact some business and found the two men bound and gagged on the bank floor.

The man who was bound and gagged, was a man of about 35 years of age, and was wearing a dark suit and a light-colored shirt. He was bound with his hands behind his back and his mouth was gagged with a piece of cloth.

The other man was a man of about 40 years of age, and was wearing a dark suit and a light-colored shirt. He was bound with his hands behind his back and his mouth was gagged with a piece of cloth.

The two men were found in the bank floor, and were bound with their hands behind their backs and their mouths were gagged with a piece of cloth.

The two men were found in the bank floor, and were bound with their hands behind their backs and their mouths were gagged with a piece of cloth.

The two men were found in the bank floor, and were bound with their hands behind their backs and their mouths were gagged with a piece of cloth.

The two men were found in the bank floor, and were bound with their hands behind their backs and their mouths were gagged with a piece of cloth.

The two men were found in the bank floor, and were bound with their hands behind their backs and their mouths were gagged with a piece of cloth.

The two men were found in the bank floor, and were bound with their hands behind their backs and their mouths were gagged with a piece of cloth.

The two men were found in the bank floor, and were bound with their hands behind their backs and their mouths were gagged with a piece of cloth.

ASPHALT ROAD,
LONDON TO PORT,
IN NEAR FUTURE*Sir Adam Beck's Proposal
Meets With St. Thomas
Mayor's Approval.

St. Thomas, Aug. 19.—Should Sir Adam Beck be successful in securing the co-operation of the municipalities affected by the proposed improvement on the gravel road between London and the lakeside, an asphalt pavement will be constructed between London and Port Stanley and electric lights installed from end to end of the highway. This announcement reached Mayor Brinkman today, and the mayor assured Sir Adam that this undertaking would receive the unanimous endorsement of the local council. The proposition under way was that the municipalities nearby assume a proportion of the cost of the improvement, on the frontage plan, and the Government to do the construction under the provincial highways act. Sir Adam promised that this improved highway would be lamped and lighted within the next three years, and the adjoining townships given their quota of power. As soon as the highway season is over the details of the scheme will be given the municipalities.

FAKE CANVASSER HAS VICTIMIZED
MANY CITIZENS*Reported To Have Robbed Publishing Firm of $3,000.

That a reputable United States publishing firm, with branches in Canada has been victimized here by a renegade agent to the extent of more than $3,000 during the past few weeks, was the information given The Advertiser today.

Bona fide agents of the firm are now searching for the culprit, and if he is located, criminal proceedings against him will be immediately instituted. It is said that the police, however, have not yet been notified of the matter.

According to a city official, who proved "good picking" the swindler, he was at one time a collector of the firm, and his modus operandi has been to visit local book stores and libraries on the installment plan.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

To the surprise of the official, who was at one time a collector of the firm, and his modus operandi has been to visit local book stores and libraries on the installment plan.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

The month one, when armed with a receipt book, visited the city official, informed him that he owed $20 on the books (which he had purchased) and that under a new arrangement $14 cash would be accepted as payment in full of account. Naturally seeing an opportunity to make a few dollars, the official paid up, received a receipt with the firm's name printed thereon, and the man departed.

SURETY RISKS GAMBLING WITH
HUMAN NATURE*Interesting Address by F. N.
Withey Feature of the Kiwanis Club Luncheon.*CRANKS GOOD RISKS*Married Men Generally Better
Than Bachelors, Declared
Speaker.

"Strange as it may seem, I can assure you that the overwhelming majority of the businessmen of this continent are honest," asserted Frederic N. Withey, resident vice-president of the National Surety Company of New York, in the course of his interesting address at the noonday luncheon of the London Kiwanis Club.

Characterizing the activities of surety companies as "gambling with human nature," the speaker explained that their granting of bonds was based purely on the law of averages, which corresponds in nature to the mortality tables of life insurance companies. He declared that to an appreciable certainty, the degree of people's honesty, and but one twentieth of these embezzlers and defaulters were primarily intentional criminals. The small percent who did go wrong have done so through various influences as wine, women or speculation.

The sad part is that the same moral and spiritual law applies to business men as to the general public. "Whatsoever you sow, so shall you reap," Chinese proverb.

Dwelling on the selection of applicants for bonds, the speaker declared that the surety records showed that the Chinese were the most honest businessmen in the world, surpassing even the Anglo-Saxons. The races of continental Europe were next, and the people of the British Isles or those of the United States and Canada. They were more inclined to petty crimes than they of the new world.

The Hollander ranked next, with the Scandinavian races next. The latter, he explained, when he did go wrong, was more apt to go the route and default with a big sum. The Slavs, the Russians and the people of the Balkans had not yet reached, he said, the proper state of development to be considered good risks for the bonding companies.

The speaker declared that the surety records showed that the Chinese were the most honest businessmen in the world, surpassing even the Anglo-Saxons. The races of continental Europe were next, and the people of the British Isles or those of the United States and Canada. They were more inclined to petty crimes than they of the new world.

The speaker declared that the surety records showed that the Chinese were the most honest businessmen in the world, surpassing even the Anglo-Saxons. The races of continental Europe were next, and the people of the British Isles or those of the United States and Canada. They were more inclined to petty crimes than they of the new world.

The speaker declared that the surety records showed that the Chinese were the most honest businessmen in the world, surpassing even the Anglo-Saxons. The races of continental Europe were next, and the people of the British Isles or those of the United States and Canada. They were more inclined to petty crimes than they of the new world.

The speaker declared that the surety records showed that the Chinese were the most honest businessmen in the world, surpassing even the Anglo-Saxons. The races of continental Europe were next, and the people of the British Isles or those of the United States and Canada. They were more inclined to petty crimes than they of the new world.

The speaker declared that the surety records showed that the Chinese were the most honest businessmen in the world, surpassing even the Anglo-Saxons. The races of continental Europe were next, and the people of the British Isles or those of the United States and Canada. They were more inclined to petty crimes than they of the new world.

The speaker declared that the surety records showed that the Chinese were the most honest businessmen in the world, surpassing even the Anglo-Saxons. The races of continental Europe were next, and the people of the British Isles or those of the United States and Canada. They were more inclined to petty crimes than they of the new world.

The speaker declared that the surety records showed that the Chinese were the most honest businessmen in the world, surpassing even the Anglo-Saxons. The races of continental Europe were next, and the people of the British Isles or those of the United States and Canada. They were more inclined to petty crimes than they of the new world.

The speaker declared that the surety records showed that the Chinese were the most honest businessmen in the world, surpassing even the Anglo-Saxons. The races of continental Europe were next, and the people of the British Isles or those of the United States and Canada. They were more inclined to petty crimes than they of the new world.

The speaker declared that the surety records showed that the Chinese were the most honest businessmen in the world, surpassing even the Anglo-Saxons. The races of continental Europe were next, and the people of the British Isles or those of the United States and Canada. They were more inclined to petty crimes than they of the new world.

The speaker declared that the surety records showed that the Chinese were the most honest businessmen in the world, surpassing even