CHICAGO MARKET.

AFTER AN EARLY SLUMP WHEAT TAKES ON STRENGTH AND SELLS AT ITS HIG EST AT THE CLOSE.

Chicago, June 27.

July wheat was lower all to-day than yesterday's close. September did not rise except at the close of market beyond yesterday's close and often-sunk below it. This advance was shared in by Doc. which after lagging all day below the close of Monday $75\frac{\pi}{4}$ rose finally to $76.75\frac{\pi}{6}$. Corn in its three divisions was of small amount but was steady and showed slight improvement. Of oats the same holds true but prevailing impression among brokers is that markets will be higher to-morrow.

Provisions had little trading but prices

Provisions had little trading but prices were slowly improving up to the very close of the market. All signs therefore are towards better markets.

Cash demand for wheat continues poor and there are no signs of a halt in the downward course of prices. Primary receipts are heavy, being 1,318,000 bushels yesterday, as compared with 160,000 bushels a year ago. The Visible Supply has jucreased nearly 1,000,000 bushels, as shown by our table below.

Corn remains steady and shows a disposition to advance. Oats also shows strength.

The following is the visible supply of grain on the dates mentioned:

June 26, June 19, June 27, 1899. 1899. 1898.
