

SELF AND SEX SERIES

The following publications of the Wood-Allen Publishing Company have found favor in the United States, where they have received the endorsement of the leading workers in the cause of Social Purity.

The Cigarette and the Youth. By E. A. KING.
Price, 2c.

Sir George Williams, founder of the Y. M. C. A., St. Paul's Churchyard, London, England, says: "I sympathize with your efforts to combat this growing evil, and wish every success, and a wide circulation, to 'The Cigarette and the Youth'."

Baby's Firsts. By MARY WOOD-ALLEN, M.D.

CONTENTS—Tells What To Do:—First Bath—First Dress—First Bed—First Food—First Tooth—First Year—First Work—First Education—The Baby Who Must Travel—The Baby Who Must Stay at Home—"The Ownership of the Child"—Nervous Children. Price, 25c.

Almost a Man. By MARY WOOD-ALLEN, M.D.
Price, 25c.

A frank talk to a boy who was "Almost a Man," and the good it did him. As it is in story form, every boy will read it and be the better for it.

Almost a Woman. By MARY WOOD-ALLEN, M.D.
Price, 25c.

It presents in attractive form the pure instruction needed by the girl. Mothers will find this just what they have been wanting to put into the hands of their daughters.

"The good it will do in its help to mothers and teachers is incalculable. God prosper the woman whom he inspired to write it, and help all who read it to scatter its truth-seeds broadcast."—The Pacific Ensign.

Child Confidence Rewarded. By MARY WOOD-ALLEN, M.D. Price, 10c.

"Unique and valuable."—Frances E. Willard.
"It is worth its weight in gold to the puzzled mother, telling her exactly what she needs to know, and how to present the truth to her children."—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Marvels of Our Bodily Dwelling. By MARY WOOD-ALLEN, M.D. Price, $1.00.

"It is quite refreshing to find a work on one of the most important branches of knowledge, which presents the leading and fundamental features in a simple, clear, comprehensive manner, free from technicalities. This is essentially a great merit in a new work on physiology, under the form of an allegory by Mary Wood-Allen, M.D. This excellent work ought to be read not only, but studied, by every one in and out of our schools, who is interested in preserving the integrity of our bodily and mental functions."—Geo. E. Seymour, Professor of History, High School, St. Louis, Mo.

Teaching Truth. By MARY WOOD-ALLEN, M.D.
Price, 25c.

"Dear Doctor.—Please send me some more copies of your unique and valuable little book. I cannot keep a copy over night. It would be an evange to every young person in whose hand it might be placed. I would also invite the Public School Teachers to examine this rare little book."—Frances E. Willard.

What a Young Husband Ought to Know. By SYLVANUS STALL, D.D. Cloth, $1.00.

The author has treated the most delicate and sacred subjects with that same ennobling force which characterizes the preceding books of the series, addressed to boys and to young men, and which won for these books unsolicited and hearty commendation at the International Convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations at Grand Rapids, Michigan, and at Mr. Moody's World Students' Conference at Northfield, Massachusetts. It ought to be read by every person of mature years, whether married or unmarried, both men and women.

What a Young Boy Ought to Know. By REV. SYLVANUS STALL, D.D. Price, net, $1.00.

From Theodore L. Cuyler, D.D.: "Your admirable little book ought to be in every home where there is a boy. You deserve the thanks of every parent in the land."

What a Young Girl Ought to Know. By MARY WOOD-ALLEN, M.D., and REV. SYLVANUS STALL, D.D. Price, net, $1.00.

It is a mother's talk to a young girl, loving, reverent, and sweet, leading her to reverence herself and arousing in her aspirations toward all that is noble and good.

What a Young Man Ought to Know. By REV. SYLVANUS STALL, D.D. Price, net, $1.00.

From Francis E. Clark, D.D.: "I regard Mr. Stall's new book as of exceeding value to every youth just entering upon manhood. It is written reverently but very plainly, and I believe will save a multitude of young men from evil unspeakable. I shall give it to my own son, and commend it to other young men as I have an opportunity."

What a Young Woman Ought to Know. By MRS. MARY WOOD-ALLEN, M.D., and SYLVANUS STALL, D.D. Cloth, net, $1.00.
