LESSIVE PHENIX

Replacing Chemicals Soda and Ashes.
ECONOMY OF TIME AND SOAP.

Stains of any kind.

Manner of employing the LESSIVE PHENIX.

WASHING IN THE BOILER.—Take 6 pounds of Lessive Phenix to 200 (two hundred) pints of water. Dissolve it in boiling water; pour it in the boiler and strain this mixture constantly, boiling till the operation is finished. Rub each piece at a time, adding half as much water, and rinse.

HOME WASHING.—Dissolve in boiling water, through the mixture over the linen which has been placed in the washing-machine or in any kind of utensil. Let it boil well. Rub it in the mixture as we have said above and rinse.

NOTA.—For ordinary linen boil the articles for four hours, but those used in the kitchen or house work require six hours. By no means employ soda or any chemicals. A larger quantity of the mixture will not spoil or hurt the linen.

NOTA BENE.—Before adding the water for washing, put aside a little of the Lessive which has been left when straining. This Lessive will help to remove any spot. It is sufficient to soak the piece marked in this mixture and rub it between the hands.

Flannels get quite smooth washed with the Lessive Phenix.

The Lessive Phenix is an indispensable article to clean floors, kitchen tables, silver and all household utensils. Counterfeiter will be prosecuted.

and are entitled to the best in the world for the money. The smoker who has not yet tested the new brand

ESPERANZA, a clear Havana Cuban-made cigar, cannot have had full value for his money. ESPERANZA has been pronounced by life-long smokers to be far superior in taste and aroma to any imported cigars that can be procured, be they costing considerably less. ESPERANZA cigars are made on strictly Cuban principles from the choicest and costliest Havana leaf, purchased direct from the planters, and made into cigars by skilled Cuban workmen brought on for that purpose. They are the finest Domestic Havana Cigars that quality of tobacco and Cuban Workmanship can produce.
