BRIEFLETS.

Rev. Sister Dugas, Superior of St. Boniface Hospital, returned from Montreal last Thursday.

Rev. Father Kavanagh's bazaar at St. Francois Xavier netted seventeen hundred dollars, an unprecedented sum for a bazaar in a country parish.

Mr. Albert Kabis de St. Chamas, through but recently arrived from France, has already given French lessons with great success in some of the best families of Winnipeg.

The Very Rev. Jean Marie mitred abbot of Bellefontaine, France, started east last Thursday morning and will visit the Trappist monasteries at Oka and Lake St. John before returning to France next month.

An unique series of weddings took place recently in the Catholic Church at Adelong, Ireland, when the Misses Hoffman (three) were married to three brothers named Quinn. Two of the brothers who were married were twins, and also two of the sisters. One other brother of the Quinn family is already married to a sister of the Hoffmans.

A movement is on foot among the late Sister Mary Xavier's many friends in Winnipeg and St. Boniface, to erect a monument in her honor. The general opinion seems to be that the tribute she would most value would be some addition to St. Boniface Hospital, such as the much needed new building for the Maternity Annex, which might then be called the Mary Xavier building.

His Grace Archbishop Langevin returned from the east last Friday evening, went to Gretna on Saturday for the blessing of Father Woodcutter's new Church bell on Sunday, pontificated at Vespers in Neche, where Father Lavigne's people gave His Grace a fine reception, returned last evening to St. Boniface and is to-day blessing the new church at St. Anne's.

That railway to St. Ann's which Southeastern Manitobans have been hoping for these past thirteen years is at last an accomplished fact. The first train—a real pilgrimage train—started this morning at 8. No less than forty-five inmates of St. Boniface College joined the excursion to be present at the blessing of Father L. R. Giroux's new church. His Grace, who returned last Friday evening, will conduct the impressive benediction service.

Reverend Fathers Messier, Paquin, S.J., Cloutier, Campeau, Lavigne and Jutras were present at the celebration last Wednesday of Rev. Father Fillion's anniversary. Twenty-five years ago, on October 26th, 1873, the present curé of St. Jean Baptiste arrived in Manitoba and has since greatly contributed to the spiritual and temporal prosperity of the country. On Wednesday morning the reverend parish priest celebrated High Mass with deacon and subdeacon; in the afternoon the convent girls gave a musical and dramatic entertainment; and in the evening the citizens of St. Jean presented a beautiful address and a well-filled purse. Ad multos annos!

Rev. Father Morin, the indefatigable French Canadian immigration missionary, who has made four round trips this year and has brought in nearly 200 immigrants during that time, passed through Winnipeg last Wednesday with a party of 39 new settlers, who will join the colony at Motinville, 25 miles north of Edmonton, in which there are thirty families now on their own farms. This last batch came from South Dakota. Rev. Father Bouchard, from the Saguenay, accompanied the party and will attend to the spiritual needs of the colony.

Père Coudert, O. M. I., has been nominated Titular Bishop of Banias and coadjutor with the right of succession of Mgr. Melizan, O. M. I., Archbishop of Colombo. The new bishop was born at Manglieu in the diocese of Clermont-Ferrand in 1861, and was ordained for the Ceylon mission by Mgr. Bonjean. Mgr. Coudert's popularity with the clergy is attested by the way in which 45 missionaries at the close of their spiritual retreat in Colombo, which had been preached by the Bishop-elect, offered their homage and congratulations. The consecration will take place this month. Ceylon, it may be here mentioned, has about 3,200,00 inhabitants, of whom about 285,000 are Catholics.—The Tablet.

Two Sisters of Misericordia, the Rev. Mother de la Misericorde, Superior General of the Order, and Sister Mary Magdalen, arrived here last week to take charge of the Maternity Aennx of St. Boniface Hospital. The "Soeurs de Misericorde"—title which they translate, not Sisters of Mercy, but "Sisters of Misericordia"—were founded in Montreal about 50 years ago by the saintly Bishop Bourget, with a view to works of mercy particularly for friendless and forsaken women. Besides their mother-house in Montreal, they have a house in Ottawa and a very large establishment in New York. Sister Mary Magdalen, whom the mother General will leave here, will soon be joined by three or four other Sisters of her Order.

MONTH OF THE HOLY SOULS.

The Franciscan Sisters, Missionaries of Mary, of the Convent of Our Lady of Mercy, St. Laurent, Manitoba, observe the holy custom of offering up to Our Divine Saviour all their prayers and good works during the entire month of November, for the spiritual and temporal welfare of all who seek their aid in this way, and, in particular, for the benefit of the poor souls suffering untold agonies in purgatory who have no one to pray for them.

Those persons who desire their prayers, either for themselves or their friends, living or dead, Catholic or Protestant, are invited write their request, sign the same with full name and address and forward on or before the first day of November to Reverend Mother Superior.

During the past years the Sisters of this Institute have received many letters from different parts, expressing the gratitude of the recipients for favors obtained through their prayers. The sick claims to have been healed in a miraculous manner; unhappy marriages have been blessed; wayward children have been reformed; extraordinary vocations to the religious orders have been obtained by numerous pious souls; sin has been overcome and virtue acquired.

HE KETP HIS PROMISE.

There lived in a Scotch village a little boy, Jamie by name, who set his heart on being a sailor. His mother loved him very dearly, and the thought of giving him up grieved her exceedingly; but she finally consented.

As the boy left home she said: "Wherever you are, Jamie, whether on sea or land, promise me that you will kneel down every night and morning and say your prayers, no matter whether the sailors laugh at you or not."

"Mother, I promise you I will," said Jamie, and soon he was on a ship bound for India.

They had a good captain, and as some of the sailors were religious men, no one laughed at the boy when he kneeled down to pray.

But on the return voyage, some of the sailors having run away, their places were supplied by others, one of whom proved to be a very bad fellow. When he saw little Jamie kneeling down to say his prayers, he went up to him, and, giving him a sound box on the ear, said to him: "None of that here, boy!" Another seaman who saw this, although he swore sometimes, was indignant that the child should be so cruelly treated, and told the bully to come on deck and he would give him a thrashing. The challenge was accepted, and the well-deserved chastisement was duly bestowed. Both then returned to the cabin and the swearing man said: "Now, Jamie, say your prayers, and if he dares to touch you I will give him another dressing."

The next day the devil put it into the little boy's mind that it was quite unnecessary for him to create such a disturbance in the ship when it could easily be avoided if he would only say his prayers quietly in his hammock so that nobody would observe it. But the moment that the friendly sailor saw Jamie get into his hammock, without first kneeling down to pray, he hurried to the spot, and dragging him out by the neck, he said: "Kneel down at once, Sir! Do you think I am going to fight for you, and you not say your prayers, you young rascal!"

There are men who imagine that out-door work is a sovereign cure for all ills. They work like slaves at their business, take insufficient time to rest and sleep, and abuse and neglect their health in every way. Then, when they break down, they keep on just as before, except that in addition to their usual work, they go out every day and spade a little in their gardens, or try to imitate Mr. Gladstone by cutting down a tree or chopping the family fire-wood.

A more ridiculous method of curing a man who is suffering from nervous exhaustion and is threatened with nervous prostration could not be well conceived. A man who has overworked does not need more work, but less work and more rest. The man who has lost his appetite needs something to restore it. The man whose nerves are shattered needs something to tone and strengthen them. Get the nerves right and sound, and refreshing sleep will follow. A man who sleeps well and eats well, and digests and assimilates his food will not remain ill.

In cases of this kind Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery goes to bed rock—to first causes. It creates a hearty appetite; it makes the digestion and assimilation perfect; it invigorates the liver; it purifies the blood and fills it with the life-giving elements of the food. It builds up new flesh, new muscle and new nerve fibres. It is an unfailing cure for nervous exhaustion and nervous prostration, and the best of all medicines for overworked men and women. An honest druggist won't urge an inferior substitute upon you, thereby insulting your intelligence.

It is a dealer's business to sell you what you ask for—not what he prefers for selfish profit's sake to sell. A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from slow poisoning. Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. All medicine dealers sell them.

During the whole voyage back to London this profane sailor watched over the boy as if he had been his father, and every night saw that he knelt down and said his prayers. Jamie soon began to be industrious, and during his spare time studied his books. He learned all about ropes and rigging, and, when he became old enough, about taking latitude and longitude.

Several years ago the largest steamer ever built, called the "Great Eastern," was launched on the ocean, and carried the famous cable across the Atlantic. A very reliable, experienced captain was chosen for this important undertaking, and who should it be but little Jamie!—for the world knows him now as Sir James Anderson.

BILLIARDS AND BASEBALL.

Nobody ever heard of a merchant who having witnessed his clerk's extraordinary skill at billiards or baseball, resolved within himself, "I will take that young man into the firm." And nobody ever knew a man with a vacancy in his office, or shop or counting room, going to a baseball ground to select the best "bat," "catcher," or "pitcher" there to fill the situation.
