Mr. Pinard: Mr. Speaker, we agree with the suggestion made by my hon. colleague. Of course, if we had rammed something through, the Hon. Member would not have agreed to sacrifice 10 minutes of his time. However, we do agree.

Mr. Beatty: Mr. Speaker, I apologize for raising this matter at this point but I would like your guidance on this matter. If we call it six o'clock now, would it cut 10 minutes off the total amount of time allotted for debate, or would that amount of time be reserved?

Mr. Speaker: In the interpretation of the Chair, no time will be taken off the debate. Time will run in the normal course.

It being 6 p.m., this House stands adjourned until tomorrow at 11 a.m. pursuant to Standing Order 2(1).

At 5.51 p.m. the House adjourned, without question put, pursuant to Standing Order.
