

Government Orders

Mr. Danis: Mr. Speaker, we have done a substantial amount of work today. I think it would be proper to call it three o'clock, if the members agree.

Mr. Angus: Mr. Speaker, I am just wondering if we might have missed a step. I am advised that we have to adjourn this particular debate before we can call it three o'clock, or am I mistaken?

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Paproski): There is no necessity to adjourn this debate.

The hon. member for Glengarry—Prescott—Russell on a point of order.

Mr. Boudria: Mr. Speaker, I am not even sure that what I want to do is a point of order, but as one who has proposed more amendments than probably anyone else, I just thought I would indicate my appreciation to the Clerk and the staff for the excellent advice that they have provided on this most sensitive issue, namely, the amendments to the abortion bill.

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Paproski): It being three o'clock, this House stands adjourned until Monday next at one o'clock p.m. pursuant to Standing Order 24(1).

The House adjourned at 12.47 p.m.
