

Canada Day

Somewhere between 500 and 1000 people showed up for Canada's birthday party in South Mountain last Friday.

A very special presentation was part of the celebrations. A plaque was given to Linda Lewis who is the woman behind the whole idea of having these celebrations at South Mountain every year.

The talent show was a huge success. They had dancers from Joey's School of Dance and Caroline's School of Dance. Two of the people who tested their vocal chords were Holly Booth and Marlene Fawcett. Much more entertainment was seen including the Quintets from South Mountain.

Overall, the entire day was a success. "There was something for everyone. Every year we make minor changes to make it bigger and better. This year there was something for families, kids, grandparents and everyone enjoyed themselves. People just loved it," Ms. Chamberlain commented.

lob ball tournament

water balloon tossing.

Taking a hunter fence in good style.

Cutting the cake on Canada Day

This entrant in the 3 year-old sack race seems a little perplexed with something. A number of events were held for the kids to occupy them before the evenings fireworks display

Singing O'Canada before the cake-cutting ceremony.

Kids love face painting

Bed races on harness track

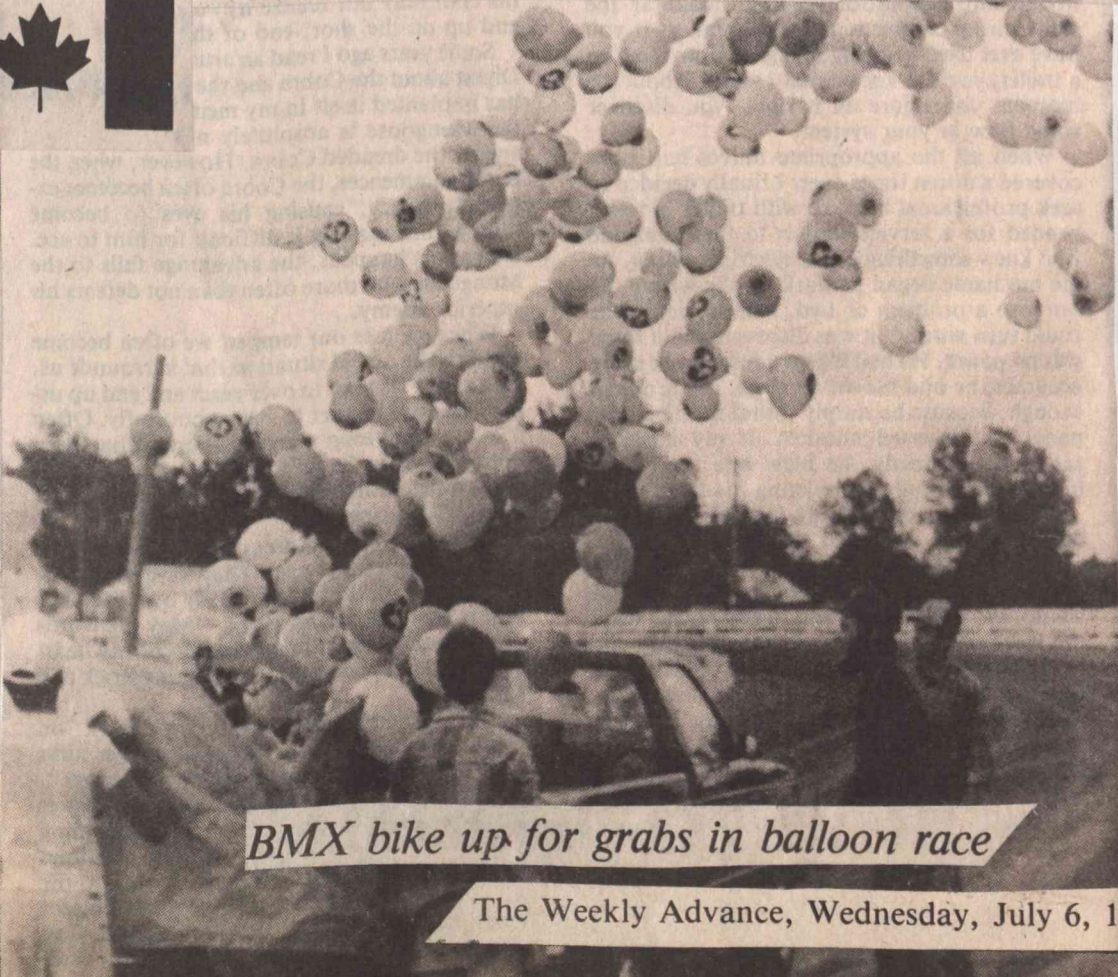

One of the winners

Party clowns

The 4-H Club tug of war team.

BMX bike up for grabs in balloon race