

CONTENTS

question—Mr. Johnstone and A. G. Archibald sent to England to settle the matter—Their report passed in both Houses—Gold-mining in Nova Scotia—Mr. Johnstone's plea for accepting the Commissioners' bargain—Mr. Johnstone the real instrument in settling this vexed question—Different measures carried through the House by his influence—His extension of the franchise and attitude toward the temperance movement . . . Page 318

CHAPTER XLI.

THE CAMPAIGN OF 1863.

Dr. Tupper's aggressiveness in political and professional life—He becomes political editor of The British Colonist—Mr. Johnstone's persistent struggle in Annapolis County, from his conflict in 1843 with Mr. Howe to his victory in 1863—Mr. Johnstone and Dr. Tupper decline to form a coalition government with Mr. Howe—J. B. Uniacke as premier—Seduction of opposition members by Mr. Howe—Howe's mission to England—He obtains appointment of Fishery Commissioner—Dr. Tupper criticizes this as incompatible—Dr. Tupper's plea for reducing government expenses—Formation of the Constitutional League—Dr. Tupper's influence felt throughout the Province—Mr. Johnstone's adherence to truth and right as opposed to Mr. Howe's ignoring the claims of justice and Liberal principles—Conservative victory on April 28th, 1863—Mr. Johnstone's triumphant return to Halifax . . . Page 323

CHAPTER XLII.

A CONSERVATIVE GOVERNMENT.

Presentation of cheque to Mr. Johnstone from his friends, and his reply to their address, in which he elaborates his views of responsible government—Words of C. H. Spurgeon to Mr. Gladstone which represent public opinion of Mr. Johnstone—Formation of government after defeat of 1863—Proposals and counter proposals of Howe and Tupper—Dr. Tupper's speech on introducing educational bill, and history of its perils up to the time of becoming law—Appointment of T. H. Rand as Superintendent of Education—Guarantee of justice to Roman Catholics in the educational system—Debate on separate schools . . . Page 331

CHAPTER XLIII.

CONFEDERATION IN NOVA SCOTIA.

Review of the history of Confederation—Howe's plan for organization of the Empire as a substitute for Mr. Johnstone's confederation proposal—Dr. Tupper's lecture on the political condition of British