PARIS, July 7.—The rench war department this afternoon gave out the following statement on recent operations in the Dardanelles:

"On our left the Turks massed in a nullah, to the northeast of our newly-captured trenches, and attempted several attacks. None of these was able to get home owing to the steadiness of our troops and our effective artillery support. The bombardment died down towards 11 a.m., tho it was "Not only was the result a complete failure, but while our losses were negligible and no impression was made on our line, the enemy added a large number to his recent very heavy casualties. It seems plain from the disjointed nature of his attack that he is finding it difficult to drive his infantry forward to face our fire."

Disconnected Systems dent for freight upon other roads, as nearly all its traffic is eastbound. The so-called "national transcontinental" stops at Winnipeg half way across the continent and does not touch at Mentreal, Toronto or any Ontario city or port, except that it gets down to Fort William by running rights over the Grand Trunk Pacific. The Hudson Bay Railway will have a port on Hudson Bay, but its inland terminal is hundreds of miles from Winnipeg. It is not linked up in any way with the other government roads. Hence the absolute necessity for the government acquiring either the Grand Trunk Pacific or the Canadian Norwedge. The Germans have won some trenches at the tip of the wedge, but at other points, according to French accounts, they were repulsed with heavy losses.

G. T. P. Difficulties.

There are several objections to taking over the Grand Trunk Pacific. One is that the Hudson Bay Railway would still be unconnected. still be unconnected with the rest of the government system; another is a lack of branch lines. But perhaps a most serious objection is the difficulty of getting title. The government could not take ever the Grand Trunk Pacific.
