I Received the narrative now presented to the public, accompanied by a letter, of which the following is an extract. "I am sensible that the reports circulated in " England will be perfectly contrary to the truth; and " as it is of great consequence to correct any false im- " pressions, which those accounts may have occasioned, " I think a letter from an eye witness will have a good " effect. I wish you to amend the English, which I " know to be very defective, and to add any observations " that may occur to you, but not to alter any of the facts, " as I have rigidly adhered to the truth."

I have no doubt of the fidelity and correctness of this narrative, and I have strictly complied with my correspondents request, in adding some explanatory observations, but leaving the facts as he has related them.
