CRICKET.

LUCKY SPORTSMEN

Gave Their Dinner to the Dogs and Escaped Death by Poison.

Chatham, May 18.—"Tilbury sports' favorite outing place is the lighthouse at the mouth of the River Thames.

At one of the club houses a biscuit and scone were served, and the fish was placed on a saucer near the cupboard. A good haul of fish had been made by three of the members, who were about to feast on them when it was discovered by means of the bitter taste that the cook had mixed the scone with strychnine and fish dressing in mistake for some other commodity.

The fish were thrown out and devoured by dogs who shortly afterwards died. The Tilbury citizens fortunately escaped any serious consequences.

Peculiar Death of a Chicago Three-Year-Old Boy.

Chicago, May 18.—Three-year-old Lawrence Engelm met death through a strange accident. In playing with the rope the child in some way placed the noose about his neck and swung off the porch. He was strangled to death before his mother could come to his relief.

CANADIAN FRUIT

Lack of Care, Lack of Skill, Lack of Honesty.

Serious Conditions Revealed by Prof. Robertson Before the Agricultural Committee.

Ottawa, May 18.—Prof. Robertson told the agriculture committee that the Canadian apple trade in Great Britain is not in a good way, owing to lack of care, lack of skill and to lack of honesty in packing the fruit and to damage sustained by the fruit in its carriage across the Atlantic.

Representations have been made to steamship agents for proper ventilation of holds in which apples were carried, but up to the present few ships have been so equipped.

In proof of the deception practiced in packing, Prof. Robertson read a letter from ex-Mayor Warner, of Yarmouth, N. S., where the salvaged cargo of the Canadian was sold. Mr. Warner expressed disgust at the way in which the barrels were packed, with wind-falls in the center. He sent on two samples of top rows and fillings, which Prof. Robertson showed the committee. The latter was a miserable specimen, not one-sixth the size of the apple which was used at the two ends of the barrel. Prof. Robertson stated that he had considerable evidence of the deception practiced in packing, and that the Canadian apple trade is being injured by the Canadian apple trade if it was not stopped.

Several members suggested that inspectors should be placed at the different ports in order to prevent badly-packed fruit from being shipped, but Prof. Robertson pointed out that this was a difficult question to settle. If the fruit-growers would only realize the injury they were doing themselves they would give up the practice.

Mr. Grindley, the special agent of the department in Britain, pointed out how the Nova Scotia and California apples had made a place for themselves by being of uniform quality and size, and of one or two varieties, although the so-called Canadian apples were of far better quality. But these latter were of so many varieties and so badly packed that they were not wanted on the London market, and were sent down into the provinces.

A model packer was Mr. R. W. Shepherd, of Comox, who shipped Famous apples to the Prince of Wales and the army and navy stores in boxes with a pastboard compartment for each apple, and of these arrived in excellent condition. Mr. Grindley spoke strongly on the necessity for proper packing and grading, and packing fruit in a cool state. He was glad to know that the steamship companies were beginning to use ventilated compartments for apples.

Hon. Mr. Fisher stated that thousands of Ontario apples like those shown by Prof. Robertson had been sent to England last year, to the great disgrace of Canada.

Mr. Grindley gave much good advice regarding growing, grading and packing.

Hon. Mr. Fisher went over some points of interest to shippers and growers. He had for a year past received so many letters that he felt it was necessary to investigate statements. The committee had taken exception last year to the spreading abroad of statements regarding dishonest packing, but the reports were such that he was satisfied that the matter must be faced. Hundreds of barrels had been sent of such a sort that the trade would be ruined if something was not done. The English people wanted an honest apple, and if they did not get it from Canada this country's trade would be gone.

The question of inspection had been brought up, and notice, but there was great difficulty in the way. The only way to thoroughly inspect apples was to empty a whole barrel out, and the fruit could not be repacked without loss. Besides, when it was repacked in a new barrel, it was shipped from Montreal, it would be seen how impossible it would be to inspect all the shipments.

But something could be done to obtain good conditions on the steamer and the department would continue its efforts to have the companies provide properly ventilated holds. This season, if he got the vote he asked for, he would have officers at Montreal, John and Halifax, to specially look after the shipping and loading of apples. The difficulties in the way of government inspection were numerous, and he preferred to bring all the facts of the matter before the public. As to the quality and grading of the fruit, the growers and shippers had the remedy in their own hands.

Scrofula From Birth.

Dr. Radway—Dear Sir: It is with pleasure I tell my pen in hand to inform you of the great cure effected by your medicine called Sarsaparillian Resolvent. I have a girl three years old last September who has suffered with scrofula ever since she was two years old. It fact, the doctor told us she was born with it. We had our best local doctors severely tried, and seemed like all hope was gone, for they told us if the disease settled on her lungs she could not be cured. This frightful disease began to show upon her lungs severely, and I began to think that our little girl could not live very long, our physician's medicine doing no good. The medicine I received a copy of your medical publication called "False and True," which you sent me. After seeing by your treatments, I at once resorted to them, and by the time she had used one bottle she was most well. The doctors were making their appearance, and she was entirely gone, her lungs almost healed, or at least she has quit coughing. She has begun on the second bottle, and I believe by the time she uses all of it she will be well. She had a very bad cough. I am yours with respect, SAMUEL S. BARRETT, Flat Top, Mercer County, Pa.

"LIFE A BURDEN."

Dr. Radway—Dear Sir: For a long time past I have been suffering in the most distressing manner from a long train of symptoms which have baffled the skill of all the medical men down here, and which I feared, if not arrested in their progress, would terminate in the total destruction of my strength. Loss of appetite and desire of stimulating and artificial means of sustenance at irregular times, want of healthy sleep and consequent depression on arising in the morning rendered life quite a burden to me, until a friend induced me to try your medicine. I got a bottle of Radway's Sarsaparillian and a box of Radway's Pills, and took them according to directions. I soon found relief. I got three boxes and three bottles more, and I am in better health than ever before. I remain your humble servant, ARTHUR D. WRIGHT, Unionville, Mich.
