Note and Comment

If you can go on the result of th friendly curling games, the single-rink preliminary round to-night should fur nish a few extra ends. The weather probabilities are for about the same temperature, and thus the curlers will be able to get a good start. There are 26 preliminaries and four games in the first round scheduled to start at 7.30 All except the last four teams continue the first round on Saturday afternoon. The thirty-two left must start again on Monday night to play the second round, curling clubs, Granites were up in the and meanwhile fifty-eight good rinks who will be down and out for the year will have ample time to reflect.
