

	Single.	p. doz.
	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.
[Fff] Age of Reason.—Lord Erskine's Defence of the Cause of Newton, Boyle, Locke, Hale, and Milton, versus Thomas Paine
[Ggg] Erskine's Opinion of Paine's Age of Reason
[Hhh] The Conversion of St. Paul, a Proof of the Truth of the Christian Revelation
[Iii] Cui bono? or who would be the Gainer by the Overthrow of Christianity?
[Kkk] Use your Reason
[Lll] A brief Account of the Conversion and Death of Count Struensee
[Mmm] Advice to the Labouring Classes, with especial Reference to Tumultuous Assemblages, &c. &c.
[Nnn] One Plain Argument to prove that Christianity could not be of Human Invention. [Extracted from the "Boyle Lectures" of the Bishop of Durham]
[Ooo] Infidelity caused by Ignorance and an evil Conscience
[Ppp] The beneficial Effects of Christianity. By the Right Rev. Beilby Porteus, D. D. late Lord Bishop of London	0	0½	0 4
[Qqq] Rousseau's Admissions concerning the Gospel and the Character of Christ
[Rrr] The Fruits of Infidelity contrasted with the Fruits of Christianity. By G. S. Faber, B. D.
[Sss] Testimony of Adam Smith to the Reasonableness and Credibility of Christianity
[Ttt] Reasons of the Christian's Hope
[Uuu] Extracts from a Confession of Faith. By Lord Chancellor Bacon
[Vvv] The Contrast, or Addison and Hume describing their respective feelings and opinions
[Www] On the Authenticity of the New Testament
[Xxx] Influence of Religion on Society
[Yyy] Hold fast that which is good. By Archdeacon Bather			