aptly called, is fit for consumption by oung children and whether it is of real or only advertised value as a highly efficient food is an oft-debated topic, says a writer in the London Globe. The Journal of the American Medical Association in a recent issue published a paper from the hands of Dr. Myers and Dr. Rose, and the conclusions reached Rose, and the conclusions reached these two observers after an exended series of experiments, are a help towards judgment in the matter, says the Medical Press and Circular. They find the banana to be the most useful of all fruits by reason of its high ca oric value, its cheapness, the readine, with which it may be obtained, and not a competent sanitary covering. Its min-eral constituents entitle it to be ranked as a possible substitute for the potato.

Catarrhal Deafnass May Be Overcome

A Simple, Safe and Reliable Way That Calls For No Ugly Trumpets, Phones or Other Instrume ...

To be deaf is very annoying and embarrassing. People who are deaf are generally mighty sensitive on this sub-ject. And yet many deaf folks carry their infirmity. Therefore people who are hard of hearing, who suffer from head poises, or who are actually deaf from catarrhal trouble, will be glad to know of a simple recipe that can be easily made up at home for a few cents cost that is really quite efficient in re-lieving the disagreeable deafness and head noises caused by catarrh.

From any drug store one ounce or Parmint (double strength) about 75c worth. Take this home and put it in-to a simple syrup made of 1-4 pint of hot water and four ounces of ordinary granulated sugar Take a tablespoonful four times a day.
