LAW BUILDING

Barnhill Block to Bear New Name Under New Ownership.

This spring will see the passing of one of the landmarks in the business section of the city—the Barnhill building but will bear the name of F. Neil Brodic, who recently purchased it, Mr. Brodie told a Times reporter this morning that he planned to commence to remodel the interior of the structure in about two weeks.

The Mayor remarked that he had hend hoped to have had a report from the Civic Power Commission on the appointment of Barry Wilson as engineer, but had received a telephone communication from Mr. Willet a few minutes before the meeting stating that he had been unable to get in touch with the chairman of the commission and did not have their report ready.

Commissioner Frink said the council for approval all must be.

Mayor Fisher then produced a copy of a list of the employes of the Civic Power Commission and the wages each to the council for approval all must be.

The general layout of the building will not be changed, but Mr. Brodie intends to improve the interior to bring it up to modern standards. New steed clings will be installed throughout. The entrance and stairs will be remoded, the lower hall will get a marble finish with tile floor and the other halls will be received. The whole building will be rewired and the steam health will be returned as the steam health building plant will be overhauled.

Mr. Brodie will continue to occupy the whole upper floor. The entire middle story is now used for the lawer floor is occupied by A. C. Pairweather & Sons, insuance agents, and the other side by the council.

Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., or'd the firm of Weldom & McLean, asked today if it was true that they had purchased the Ritchie building and what the plans were for the future in that connection, said that he had nothing to say at the present time.

LARGE BUILDINGS

PLANNED FOR 1924

Several in St. John and

Several in St. John and

Other Parts of the Province.

Present indications point to an active spring in the building industries, according to F. Neil Brodie architect, of this city. Mr. Brodie said that in addition to the usual amount of smaller work, he was now working on plans for several public structures in different parts of the province, work on which would likely be started early in the spring.

Amongst the principal works now being planned, Mr. Brodie said, was the Memorial School at St. Stephen, a nurses' home in connection with the Miramichi Hospital at Newcastle, and succession in the sex of the structure in different parts of the province, work on which would likely be started early in the spring.

LOCAL NEWS

A communication from the Belgian Consul-General at Ottawa, calling attention to the fifth exhibition to be held at Brussels, April 1 to 16 of this year and asking that St. John exporters consider sending exhibits, was received this morning by the Board of Trade.

Detective Biddescombe is still absent from the city on some mission in connection with the solving of the murder mystery. Sergeant Detective Power, who is in charge of the case, would not give out any particulars as to his assistant's activities.

Citizens are manifesting keen interest in the inquest and are anxiously waiting to see if some new evidence will be forthcoming that will result in the authorities placing a charge against some individual.
