TORY CANVASSES
PUNCTURED BY SIR HIBBERT

(Moncton Transcript.)
Sir Hibbert Tupper has been making some speeches in Nova Scotia, having come from the Pacific Coast to do so. Probably it was hoped that he would render some service to the Grand Old Party, but, by all accounts, he has reversed the performance of the prophet Balaam.
Sir Hibbert always was rather dogmatic, and inclined to think that if he only blew his trumpet hard enough the world would dance to his music. Coming east with his views all pre-arranged, Sir Hibbert plunged into Nova Scotia politics without deigning to take note of the local situation—and he caused some- what of a commotion, and also some consternation in Conservative circles.
Colonel Cantley, Conservative candidate in Pictou county, and his friends had worked themselves into a fine state of righteous indignation and alarm over the menace of a Liberal victory to the industries of the country. They had been shouting that the return of a Liberal government would mean the adoption of free trade, and the ruin of the coal, steel and all other industries. It was really a dreadful prospect they had conjured up, as a warning to any elector thinking of voting for a Liberal candidate. But when Sir Hibbert arrived on the scene, did he give aid and comfort to the calamity howlers by joining in their sorrowful wail? Not at all. Sir Hibbert calmly assured them that they were barking up the wrong tree; that they were making a tremendous blunder over a menace that had no existence outside their imaginations. Sir Hibbert calmly ignored the hallucination of Col. Cantley and the Halifax Herald that the Liberal party was actuated solely and wholly by the desire to introduce free trade without delay; he told his auditors that the Liberal party had no intention of adopting free trade, and con- sidered P. M. MacDonald, his former opponent, on his admission to protection, or some measure of it where special circumstances seemed to sanction it. Sir Hibbert also boldly punctured the hope of Crear domination, the pretension that a Liberal government if not itself disposed to adopt free trade would be compelled to do so by Mr. Crear and his farmers. Sir Hibbert thought Mr. Crear's theories were dan- gerous, but he declined to be alarmed. He did not think the National Progres- sive movement would grow to any great proportions. He could not see it becom- ing a dominant factor in the political situation.
Sir Hibbert came east to help the Grand Old Party, that is what he was the idea. Possibly he did not know just how completely he was taking the wind out of the sails of the Liberal party. O. P., but if he looked for adequate re- ports of his speeches in the Tory papers of Nova Scotia he must have been disappointed. He did not appreciate the minor of having their pet pretensions thrown out of court.

SURVIVORS TELL TALE OF DEATH AND DISASTER AT SEA

The crew of one of the late storm victims, the stout little schooner "Vogue" of St. John's (Nfld.), six in number, in- cluding the captain and mate, were sheltered at the Seamen's Institute last evening. They arrived from Boston on the noon train, having been landed at that place by the Norwegian steamer Edda Clausen, outward bound from Manchester (Eng.), which picked up the unfortunate men 150 miles from St. John's on the outward journey from Coupon (Nfld.), to Gibraltar, with lum- ber.
The full force of the storm struck them on Saturday, Nov. 12 and the high seas swept a man from the bowsprit and he was lost. Later on the same day the lifeboat and dory were carried away from their fastenings by the high seas which continually swept over the little vessel. From Sunday, Nov. 13, until Thursday, Nov. 17, the deck of the ves- sel was awash continually. Later, on Tuesday, she was sighted by the Nor- wegian steamer Edda Clausen, which took off the men and landed them at Boston.

RED CROSS RELIEF

Three calls for relief were made at the Red Cross depot yesterday. One re- turned soldier came to seek employment. He has a wife and five small children and has been out of work for some time. He was referred to the local branch of the society which deals with such cases. A sailor, who had just come to St. John, and had only this clothing, called at the depot and asked for aid as he had been in the imperial army. He was also sent to the local branch emergency com- mittee. The third emergency case was that of a semi-invalid who had settled in England but who was sent back to Canada. He wanted both work and as- sistance and he was also sent to the emergency committee. The day before a man came in to ask for bandages. He had been wounded in the knee, and it had been re-opened by a fall a short time ago and he was in need of band- ages. The knee was bandaged and he was fitted out with new socks.

The Federal Public Works Department has begun the work of fitting up shed "D," Sand Point, for cattle. The job will be completed in three weeks, and accommodation will be provided for 600 cattle. The cost is estimated at $10,000.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Lynch-Reid.
In the Cathedral at seven o'clock yes- terday morning Rev. W. M. Duke officiated at the marriage of Mrs. Eleanor Reid, 246 Prince Edward street, to John E. Lynch. Mr. and Mrs. Lynch will make a short tour of Nova Scotia and later will reside at 246 Prince Edward street. The groom is employed in the plumbing business in the city. The bride received many useful and attractive gifts from her large circle of friends. Mem- bers of the City Cornet Band presented to the groom a chest of silverware as a token of their regard.

Moses-Watson.
The marriage of Miss Helen Agnes Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. J. Watson, 86 Coburg street, and Wal- ter Harper Moses, A.B., LL.B., of New Orleans, was solemnized on Nov. 22 at Cambridge (Mass.) by Rev. Arthur E. Wilson, pastor of the Universal church. Mr. and Mrs. Harper, who have the best wishes of many friends, arrived in the city yesterday and, after a visit of a few days with the bride's parents, will leave for Chicago, where they will reside.

Francis-Jonah.
A quiet wedding took place at the Main street Baptist parsonage last evening when Byrd Leslie Francis, St. John, was united in marriage to Miss Clara H. Jonah, of Pettaquamscutt. The ceremony was performed by Dr. David Hutchinson. The young bride and groom are well known in the north end, and are very popular. They will make their home in Millidge avenue and have the best wishes of many friends.

RECENT DEATHS

Colonel James Buchanan.
The death of Colonel James Buchan- an, a resident of this city since boy- hood, occurred last evening at his home, 224 Main street, in his eightieth year. He was born in Liverpool, England, and came to this city at the age of thirteen and has resided here ever since that time. The late Mr. Buchanan was in the employ of J. & A. McMillan for upwards of forty years. He took a deep interest in the militia and was a sergeant-major in the 62nd regiment and a colonel in the cadet movement. He leaves, besides his wife, who formerly was Miss Mary Gay, of Prince Edward Island, three sons and three daughters. The daughters are—Mrs. Walter Sproul and Mrs. E. H. Bean, of this city, and Mrs. Edwin Smith, of Austin (Mass.). The sons are—Rev. W. J. Buchanan, of Woodhaven (N. Y.); George A., of Dayton (O.), and C. H. Buchanan, of Odon (Ind.).

Colonel Buchanan was keenly inter- ested in military matters. In his young manhood he was out at the time of the Fenian Raid and he was possessor of one of the medals given to the militia in recognition of that service. He was a contemporary of the late Colonel A. Blaine, both in military work and in commercial association, for both were members of the J. & A. McMillan staff, together, for term of years. Colonel Buchanan was one of the in- structional officers in the militia in St. John, but perhaps his name is most ti- mitatively connected with the cadet move- ment, in which he was a most en- thusiastic pioneer. In his later years it was a matter of great satisfaction to him to see the strides made in St. John for the betterment of boy life. A man of very kindly disposition, they number many both young and old who heartily regret that his useful life had been brought to a close.

Mrs. Rebecca Starratt.
Mrs. Rebecca, widow of William S. Starratt, passed away at Dorchester Wednesday morning. She was formerly of Hopewell where she was born and spent most of her life. Mrs. Starratt is survived by three sons, C. S. Starratt, Dorchester; S. Jackson Starratt, New York, and Samuel B. Starratt, Hillsboro. John Host, of Moncton, is a brother.

MAY BEGIN WORK ON COURT HOUSE
NEXT SPRING

At a meeting of the buildings' com- mittee of the municipal council held yesterday afternoon in the office of J. King Kelley, county secretary, it was decided to call for competitive plans for the erection of a court house and other buildings on the city property situated at King street east, Sydney street, and Leinster street. It was also decided to go ahead with the work of removing the rock near the old court house. Council- lor Thornton was in the chair and others present were Messrs. Jones, Schofield, Frink, Mosher, O'Donnell, Bowland, O'Brien and Bentley, and the secretary, J. King Kelley.

APPALLING CONDITIONS.

Most of 9,000 Armenian Prisoners Died of Neglect.

London, Nov. 25.—Colonel Rawlinson, a British prisoner secretary who has arrived in London, gave a detailed account to- day of some of the conditions prevailing behind the Turkish Nationalist lines, particularly as regards the treatment of prisoners, which he described as appal- ling.
Of the Armenian prisoners from Kars, numbering 5,000 soldiers and 4,000 civilians employed in labor gangs near Erzerum, says Col. Rawlinson, the majority perished from starvation and neglect, leaving only 750 men and nine- ty-eight officers for repatriation to Ar- menia. These, he adds, were replaced by gangs of Greeks from the coast dis- trict, 800 of whom he met on the Tre- bizon road on their way to join other Greeks already working in the Erzerum district.

MODERN NOVELISTS.

The Eclectic Club enjoyed an inter- esting programme last night when it met at the residence of Mrs. Franklin Stetson, Mount Pleasant, and the sub- ject for the evening was the two mod- ern novelists, Hugh Walpole and Arch- bald Marshall. Mrs. Silas Alward was in charge of the programme and gave the introductory paper. Three readings from Walpole's works were given, as follows: "Fortitude," read by Miss Nan Brock; "Jocelyn," read by Mrs. John Thomson; the "Thirteen Travelers," read by Mrs. W. R. Turnbull. There were two readings from Marshall's writ- ings. Rev. Canon Daniel read a selec- tion from "The Hall and the Grange," and "Fenton Manor." In the absence of the president, Rev. Canon R. A. Arm- strong, the vice-president, Mrs. George F. Smith, was in the chair.

SHRINERS INITIATE.

Forty new members were received into Luxor Temple, Mystic Shrine, last evening, when the nobles to the temple held the initiatory ceremonial in the Masonic Temple in Germain street. Proceedings began with a banquet early in the evening which was attended by nearly two hundred and fifty of the nobles. The initiation commenced shortly afterwards and lasted until near midnight. Refreshments were then served and after motion pictures had been shown, the convention concluded.
