Under the Provisions of the War Measures Act, 1914, His Excellency the Governor in Council has been pleased to order as follows:

1. The Colonial Secretary may, if he considers it expedient so to do, appoint a person to be Censor of the writings, copy or matter printed or the publications issued at any printing establishment or works, and any person so appointed shall have the right to enter and visit the premises with any assistant or assistants, from time to time, and remain there for such time or times as may be reasonably necessary, and to examine, consider, approve or reject any writing, copy or matter printed or proposed to be printed at or issued from the premises, and after the appointment of any such person and the notification thereof to the proprietor, manager or person in charge of the said premises, no writing, copy or other matter shall be printed there or issued for publication therefrom which is not approved by the person so appointed as Censor, and any such printing or issue for publication, without such approval, shall be deemed to be a contravention of this order.

2. The printing or circulation or procuring to be printed or circulated of any letter, communication, report or news concerning the operations of the present war or the movement of any of the forces, naval or military, of His Majesty or of His Majesty's allies, or as to any of the naval or military forces or operations of His Majesty or of His Majesty's allies connected with or for the purpose of the war, or criticizing or commenting upon the policy, proceedings or action of the Government or any neutral state, if such printing or circulation or any of the statements contained in such letter, communication, report or news be likely to cause disaffection to His Majesty or to prevent, hinder or interfere with the success of the forces by land or by sea of His Majesty or of His Majesty's allies, or to prejudice His Majesty's relations with any foreign state or otherwise to assist or encourage the enemy, or to prevent, embarrass or hinder the successful prosecution of the war, shall be deemed to be a contravention of this order, and, in any prosecution for or in respect of any such offence instituted by the authority of the Attorney-General, it shall be presumed, in the absence of proof to the contrary, that the printing or circulation of the statements in respect of which the prosecution is brought was likely to cause disaffection to His Majesty or to prevent, hinder or interfere with the success of the forces by land or by sea of His Majesty or of His Majesty's allies, or to prejudice His Majesty's relations with any foreign state, or otherwise to assist or encourage the enemy or to prevent, embarrass or hinder the successful prosecution of the war.

3. For any contravention of this order the offender shall be liable upon indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, and to a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or upon summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, and to a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars; and the proprietor of the premises, and every director or officer of any corporation controlling or operating the premises, where any such offence is committed, shall also severally be liable upon indictment or summary conviction to imprisonment and fine as aforesaid. Moreover, all copies of any book, newspaper, periodical, pamphlet, or tract printed, issued, circulated or published in contravention of this order, in the possession of whomsoever they may be, may be seized and destroyed by any peace officer, and, if the Colonial Secretary so direct, the printing presses, plan and machinery within or connected with the premises may be closed indefinitely or for such period as the Colonial Secretary may name.

REPLY.

October 20th.

My Dear Pupils,—I must say your token of love has taken me by surprise as it came to me unexpected. And I take this opportunity of returning my sincere thanks to you for the manifested appreciation shown me by you.

I am leaving you to obey my Country's call, and I will take with me the fond remembrance of your well-wishes. No doubt they will prove helpful to me perhaps under trying circumstances.

When acting as your teacher I looked on the responsibility as a pleasure, as I saw the ambition displayed by some of you to reach the goal.

And now parting from you I leave with you my sincere wishes for your future success and happiness.

KENNETH NEWELL.

Peace Rumors

It is rumored that Prince Buelow, former German Chancellor, will shortly submit to President Wilson and King Alfonso an outline of considerations on which Germany might be disposed to discuss peace terms.

In addition to the deaths in the ranks of our boys reported last week, there is one more to record, that of Walter Gasse, son of Mr. Peter Gasse, of Tilton. He joined the R.N.E. last October, and went across in the Mongolian on Dec. 17, 1914. While serving on the armed trawler "Mina" in the North Sea, he was drowned with others of his crew, the trawler having struck a mine. He was 19 years of age and was the chief support of an invalid father.

The Methodist Sunday School at Coley's Pt. will hold its annual Rally Day Service on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A special programme has been prepared. An offering will be taken. All friends are urgently invited to attend.

Young men who will have reached the age of 21 years before and including Nov. 4th next will be entitled to vote on Nov. 4th.

One of the strongest letters, certainly the strongest published in the Guardian, on the Prohibition question appears in this issue. It is a comprehensive and sane presentation of the facts regarding the question to be decided on Thursday next, and we ask every person to read it. It is signed "One Deeply Interested."

Woman Spy Shot, As She Faints, By German Officer

Charge Against Her Was Aiding Belgians to Escape to England

London, Oct. 18.—A wave of intense anger, as well as a feeling of horror, has swept over Great Britain at a result of the execution in Brussels of Miss Edith Cavell, an English nurse, daughter of the late Rev. Frederick Cavell, former Vicar of Swardston, Norfolk. It is certain to come up in Parliament.

A despatch to the Daily Mail from Amsterdam says:

"Such details as it is possible to collect here concerning the execution of Miss Cavell at Brussels are as follows: The charge against her was of aiding Belgians to escape to England. It is stated she hid them in her house and provided them with money and addresses in England and helped to smuggle them across the frontier."

The German military court found her guilty and sentenced her to death by shooting. The execution ground was a garden or yard in Brussels surrounded by a wall. A German firing party of six men and an officer was drawn up in the garden and awaited its victim.

She was led in by soldiers from a house nearby, blindfolded with a black scarf.

"Up to this minute the woman, though deadly white, had stepped out bravely to meet her fate, but before the rifle party her strength at last gave out and she tottered and fell to the ground thirty yards or more from the spot where she was to have been shot."

"The officer in charge of the execution walked to her. She lay prone on the ground, motionless. The officer then drew a large service revolver from his belt, took steady aim from his knee and shot the woman through the head as she lay on the floor."

"The firing party looked on. The officer quietly returned his revolver to its case and ordered the soldiers to carry the body to the house, when charge was taken of it by a Belgian woman, acting under the instructions of the Spanish Minister, who had undertaken the responsibility for the body being arrangements for the burial."

"The execution has shocked the whole Belgian community, who speak of it as the bloodiest act of the whole war."

Miss Cavell's relatives knew that she was under arrest, but her mother had not heard from her directly since last April.

What has so deeply incensed many people here is the fact that a German woman on trial for espionage in September, at the Old Bailey, received a sentence of only ten years' penal servitude. An accomplice, a German man, was sentenced to be shot.

Mrs. Bedford Fenwick, President of the National Council of Trained Nurses, and editor of the British Journal of Nursing, said:

"She was of that resolute type that would persist in whatever she thought it right to do."

"I remember her very well. She came to London in 1909, to the International Congress of Nurses, and read a short paper on nursing in Belgium. Her age then was between forty and forty five, and she impressed me as a woman of exceptional strength of character."

"She was intensely devoted to her work at the Ecole Belge d'Infirmiers Diplomes, Brussels. She went there in 1907 to start this school for nurses."

"Whatever she did she would do with a purpose. You may be sure it was no foolish blunder that caused her death."
