The party will be officials right through from England to their destination. From Halifax the new colonists will travel in tourist cars to Vancouver, regular meals being prepared and served on the train by a staff of trained cooks.

The Hon. J. H. Turner, the agentgeneral for British Columbia in London, is keenly interested in this accession of desirable population to the Pacific province, and has promised to see the emigrants off at Paddington. This party will be the forerunner of a series of similar parties throughout the spring and summer. All the arrangements on this side are being made by Mr. Fred the Canadian Northern railway, while the reception and settlement of the new colonists will be supervised by Mr. Thomas Howell, the general immigration agent of the company, who has successfully settled 50,000 British immigrants in Canada during the past seven years. Practically all the emigrants will be agriculturists or domestic servants, and both men and women will be guaranteed employment before leaving England. In the course of an interview with
