POLITICAL SERMONETTES.

Once to every man and nation Comes the moment to decide, In the strife twixt truth and error, For the good or evil side.

Dear People,—Since I last addressed you, my attention has been called to an extraordinary, I may say a most astounding misconception, relative to that master-stroke of policy known as the Muskoka Deal. I find, to my deep sorrow, that the Perfidious Hasen has succeeded in poisoning the minds of some of the faithful, to the extent that they waver in their allegiance to our Reverend Dr. Pugsley and our much beloved, the Honorable Tweedie. Even one in whose fidelity I reposed entire confidence has said to me that in his opinion the Muskoka Deal had enabled certain persons from Ontario to clean up from $200,000 to $250,000 of good money at the expense of the people of New Brunswick. Wherefore, brethren, it becomes my duty as your political adviser to lay bare unto you the plain truth of this whole matter.

It came to pass, in the year 1893, that certain men from Ontario girded up their loins and journeyed unto the land of the Bluenose, even unto the city of Fredericton, which is upon the river St. John. There they took counsel with the rulers of the people. The rulers, being men of great wisdom, and having withal the gift of prophecy, said one to another: "Behold these men who have come unto us from a far country, even from Ontario, which is beside the Great Lakes. It is given us to foresee that in the year 1902 these men will require many shekels, even $200,000 to $250,000. Now, therefore, let us bargain with them, that they take from us a lease of 460 square miles of timber lands, for the period of twenty-five years. At the end of nine years, or at the time of their great need, they will be able to sell the lease thereof for much gain, even $200,000 to $250,000 in the currency. Then will they rise up and call us blessed, and when they have gathered in the shekels will return unto their own country and say unto the tribes thereof: 'Behold, the province of New Brunswick is a land flowing with milk and honey, for them that are wise to make the right kind of bargain with the government.' And straightway will come unto us other men from Ontario, and all the region round about, and our fame will spread even unto New York and London and the money kings thereof. And they will come unto us, bearing gifts of dry docks and pulp mills and milling machinery; and they will appease the people when they cry out for new rulers, and our names shall be as a sweet savor in the land." So therefore, my brethren, the rulers bargained with the men from Ontario, and it was so; albeit there were some who scoffed and said vain things. But it came to pass as the rulers had prophesied one to another, and the men from Ontario received the $200,000 to $250,000 which was the just reward of their well-doing.

Now, my brethren, it must be plain to every one of you that there is here no cause to cry out against our Reverend Dr. Pugsley or our much beloved, the Honorable Tweedie. The $200,000 to $250,000 which has gone out from among us was but a paltry sum compared with the fame it has brought to our rulers. The ribald partisan of the Detestable Hasen, who cried out in the street but yesterday that "only a set of jays would have their legs pulled in that fashion," was giving coarse expression to a monstrous falsehood. Who but far-sighted statesmen could assure a foreign investor that on a trivial outlay, the government of this province could make him rich in less than ten years? What government but a government of which our much beloved, the Honorable Tweedie, was a member could tell in 1893 that in 1902 the Muskoka Lumber Co. would have need of $200,000 to $250,000? Oh, my brethren, we have great need for gratitude to the great men whose far-seeing statesmanship hath done this thing.

But, most of all, have we cause for rejoicing that our rulers are men of so great political integrity and constancy, whose conversation is ever yes, yes, or nay, nay. For this and all our temporal blessings let us give thanks to our Reverend Dr. Pugsley and our much beloved, the Honorable Tweedie.

OROMOOTO.

It was gratifying to see so large a representation of young men at the Y. M. C. A. reception last evening, and the officers should feel much encouraged at the beginning of their fall and winter work. The president, secretary and physical instructor are all young men, and their business-like statements last evening indicate that they will do their work well. If the members zealously support them the association should have the most satisfactory year in its history.

The Telegraph stated some days ago that Mr. Hasen was reporting his own meetings. The statement was false, and was promptly contradicted. This morning the Telegraph repeats the falsehood. The attention of the public is directed to the fact that a journal which professes to be a leader of public opinion is willing to stoop to petty falsehood. The knowledge may be useful.

Since Higgs has been sentenced to be hanged the Telegraph displays very bad taste in retailing stories told about him by a convicted burglar, whose veracity may at least be open to suspicion, and whose friendly feelings toward the condemned youth may also be questioned.

THE OPPOSITION LEADER.

R. L. Borden is Much Impressed With Western Canada.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6.—R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative party, spent Sunday in Winnipeg, after speaking at Minnedosa on Saturday night. "We have had a very interesting trip, so far, but it has been a little too rapid to allow us to secure as full a knowledge of Canada's great west as we would liked to have. Many things have impressed us, among them the immense wheat fields of Manitoba and the Territories, the mineral, lumber and agricultural resources of British Columbia, and the scenery of the Rockies, the beauty of which defies description. "We have obtained an impression of the Western country which we could not have secured but for this visit, and we are going to the East again as the best possible immigration agents for the Western portion of Canada. It seems strange that our young men, in the Maritime Provinces especially, should leave their homes and go to the United States, when there are open in the Western portion of their own country such magnificent opportunities, not only of obtaining a competence, but a fortune, in a comparatively few years."

PREMIER ROSS

Premier Ross of Ontario, in a speech this week, said:—

"I can take you into my confidence far enough to say that it is not my intention to resign. If my majority is small, I am going to put up with it till it grows."

Continuing, the premier said he was convinced that in another election the government would increase its majority. Some would repeat of their adverse votes he was convinced.

As to the subject of the coalition, Mr. Ross said that the Globe in arguing for such a solution was speaking for its self. "But I am speaking now for the liberal party," said the premier, pointing out that the party has within its own ranks the capacity and power to conduct the affairs of this province. We have the men. We think we will have the majority when the house meets. "We are going to fight. I want you to spell over every letter of that word. We are going to the courts, and we will have our little seances there, and if any constituencies are re-opened we think we will increase our majority."

Y. M. C. A. RECEPTION.

Winter's Work Opened—Address from G. E. Williams.

The winter's work at the Y. M. C. A. was formally opened last night by a reception in the association parlors. Upwards of three hundred young men were present and spent a heartily pleasant evening, with games, reading, music and speeches.

Frank White, the president, in a few well chosen remarks welcomed the guests, and also spoke words of welcome to S. B. Wilson, the new general secretary, and F. W. Green, the new physical director.

Mr. Wilson when called upon expressed his great pleasure at meeting so many of the young men of St. John on that occasion, and hoped to meet them very often during the winter. He said that the general secretary was not the whole association, but only a fraction of it. It was the membership that made the strength of the association.

Mr. Green hoped to see a large number of men in the gymnasium this winter, but emphasized the value of all-round work for men.

Geo. E. Williams spoke feelingly of his leaving St. John and the many friends which he and Mrs. Williams have made here. He expressed his confidence in the new building enterprise and felt that it would come in the near future.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Williams were made the recipients of an address and purse from the directors of the Y. M. C. A. and friends.

Miss Ina Brown gave a reading and John Morrison of London, Eng., delighted the audience with a piano selection.

Refreshments were served by the ladies of the Auxiliary.

CARLETON BAND'S FAIR.

It Was Opened in West Side City Hall Last Evening.

The Carleton Cornet Band fair was opened with a large attendance in the Carleton city hall last evening and will continue for ten nights.

The room was beautifully decorated with patriotic colors and with evergreen. The band, under their new leader, H. F. Talbot, who was formerly leader of the Digby Cornet Band, occupied a stand at the upper end of the large room.

Directly under this is a show case containing the $225 worth of prizes. In the centre of the room is an ice cream booth and candy stall in charge of Mrs. Wm. Langon and Miss Hattie Nice and Misses Nellie Smith and Euna McLeod.

Other booths and games and those in charge are: Fancy table—Miss Ethel Platt and Edwina Irons; beer and cigars, Frank Langon; bean bags, Walter Cameron; bagatelle, Walter Ellingham; nine pins, Clifford Harned; babies on the block, Murray Long; weighing and view machines, Michael Moran; at the door, Alfred Belyea.

There will also be vocal music each evening. Last evening the band played a nice programme. William Langon sang a solo and members of the band gave instrumental selections.

Every evening a prize is given to the holder of the luck admission coupon and on the final night $25 will be given in prizes.

Among the prizes are an expensive dinner set, a toilet set and a fine lamp. In the bean bag guess there are a coffee set and a dressing case.
