CIVIC ELECTION.

On Tuesday next will be the day for electing Civic officers for the ensuing year, when we have entertained a lively hope, that after so much well founded complaint of the directions, and mismanagement of the present incumbents, a simultaneous movement would have been made by the Citizens generally, for their removal, and that better men would have been elected to fill the vacancies. The mismanagement of the board for the last ten or twelve years has been notorious, and although our Taxes have increased, with our growing inability to meet the Impast, although the mode of collection as well as the Collector, has met general condemnation, although thousands of pounds have been lost by the careless and stupid way in which the Ferries have been rented, although our public lands long lying idle, and unproductive, and which if properly farmed would add to the Revenue thousands per annum; although the management of our City market has rided the ire of the whole community and as a source of Revenue proved valueless. And although the City Papers of both sides of Politics, have loudly condemned those abuses, the whole of which has been endorsed by the Grand Juries and the Magistrates in Session, yet the time approaches when the remedy could be applied, as speedily as if all was done to the satisfaction of the public, with the exception of Willington Ward we hear of nothing in the shape of opposition to existing things, and even that opposition, has been got up, as we are informed, to prevent the Election of a person who it is feared will disturb the harmony which now reigns in "sleepy Lallow." Plans have been suggested, which in energetic and skillful hands could be carried out, that would make the valuable properties of the Corporation, not only pay of the City debt within a few years, but meet our taxes also, and form a fund for improvements on an extensive scale, what then are our fellow Citizens about! the discontent is general, let the resolution to remove the evil be as general. Let no one say it makes no difference who is elected; and that man who neglects to record a vote for the general improvement, is equally guilty with the man he is now so ready to condemn. Is our City sunk so low that all men despair of its resuscitation! let it not be said, and so long as the old cross of St. George floats over us, let us show to the world that we in our love of liberty and progress, are worthy of our Saxon ancestry.

FISHERIES.

We observe from the Montreal Papers, that the people of Canada have discovered the fallacy and folly of free trade, and having by their "liberal" views, taken their Children's bread and cast it to dogs, are now endeavouring to retrace their steps; finding their commercial privileges gone past redemption, and being thrown upon their own resources, they now begin to see the necessity of prosecuting one of their most profitable, and inexhaustible resources of this country, in view of which and for the purpose of prosecuting the fisheries, they have established a Fishing Company, and put the shares at so low a price that the poorest man can become a stockholder. The thing we are happy to learn has been well patronised even by the poor man, and the coming season will see many of their schooners in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Bee like gathering their food for winter, and going home 'tis to be hoped well laden with the stores from the "vasty deep." When will the people of this Province avail themselves of this incalculable privilege, with the best fishing ground in the world, and close our doors, we have not only no fish to export, but even have to purchase what we use for home consumption from the fishermen of the Labrador. When shall we learn wisdom?

WAR IN THE WIGWAM.

On the question of the College discharges being taken up in the Legislature, Mr. Gray insisted that the Government, in accordance with responsible Government principles, were responsible, whether they had seen the discharges or not; this question having emanated from the Smasher ranks, has thrown the whole of the "Fraternity" into confusion, but like oil and water when shaken it will partially mingle, yet when at rest again returns to its original position. They may quarrel, they may have sham fights, but the hope of obtaining a share of the loaves and fishes invariably causes them again to rally under the black flag of Smasherism.

A PEARL OF GREAT PRICE.

The Christian Visitor says that not a very large Map of the Province, has already cost the enormous sum of £1563, and yet a further sum is claimed for the labor of compiling, the probable cost when all is paid will be Ten Thousand Dollars for 2,000 copies. The compiler also claims all copy right privileges, and the right to all the plans and sketches. The Editor says he does not know on whom rests the responsibility. Shall we tell him? the Smashers who ordered it, and who are alone accountable for the imposition.

FROM OUR LONDON CORRESPONDENT.

London, March 11, 1856.

Mr. Disraeli gave the assurance so much desired—that there was now no reason to apprehend disturbance in Europe; and when the Right Honourable gentleman said that England would use her influence to induce France and Austria to evacuate Rome, the applause was tremendous. The solution to a great difficulty which had so long agitated Europe was received with tumultuous cheering, not the less so because this termination of Lord Palmerston's movement was altogether unexpected.

ONE WEEK LATER FROM ETROPE.

(By Telegraph to the News Room.)
Arrival of the "Terzia."
New York, March 30.
The steamship Terzia and Kangaroo arrived. The former was correspondingly depressed. In the Blossom Market the demand is increasing, while the supply of money, owing partly to the large accumulation of the Government deposit in the Treasury, has diminished. The lowest rate for choice bills was 2 1/2 to 3. Exchanges on Austria has again risen 2 to 3 per cent. owing to renewed distrust. The Times city article's continued reliance on the result of Lord Cromwell's mission, supported market until downward movement in Paris was telegraphed, when slight decline took place. Increased demand in discount market and at Bank to day.
