According to Capt. A. J. B. Mellish, of the 82nd Infantry, Charlottetown, who is in the city on legal business, there is much agitation in military circles in P. E. Island as the result of the proposed amalgamation of military district No. 17, with headquarters at Charlottetown, with the New Brunswick district.

Capt. Mellish says that it is generally known among military men that it is the intention of the Government on the expiration of Col. Moore's term as D. O. C. in September, to abolish the headquarters staff and D. O. C. at Charlottetown and to place the island force under control of Lt. Col. Humpage the new D. O. C. at St. John, with Lt. Col. T. H. WILL ESTABLISH HOME FOR GIRLS AT NAUWIGAWAUK

Mrs. Eleanor Close Leaves For England To Make Arrangements—Government Officials Visited Yesterday.

On invitation of Mrs. Close, who established the Eleanor Home Farm at Nauwigawauk, Mr. W. W. Hubbard, Provincial Secretary of Agriculture, and Mr. A. B. Wilnot, superintendent of immigration, paid a visit to the home yesterday. Conversing with a Standard reporter last evening Mr. Wilnot said that they had been well pleased with the work which was being done, and thought that a great deal of good was being accomplished. The Eleanor Home Farm was established four years ago by Mrs. Close, with capital obtained from the British Government. Boys between the ages of seven and twelve are received and the idea is to give them greater advantages than they would otherwise have in the old country. The Home is governed by a local advisory board, and is in charge of two ladies, one of whom is a trained nurse. The farming arrangements are in charge of a competent farmer. The boys all attend the district school and when at the Home are taught to make themselves generally useful. There are at present fourteen boys in the Home and Mr. Wilnot says they show every sign of becoming useful and desirable citizens. Since the home for boys has proved such a success, Mrs. Close proposes to establish another one for girls. The property on which the present home is situated consists of 150 acres, and it is her intention also to establish the new home there. Mrs. Close has been in Canada for the past two weeks, and left yesterday for England, where she will endeavor to raise money for the scheme.

Undergoing Repairs. The Government tug Helens which has been tending the dredge floating in being repaired and repaired at the Government Ship, Lower Cove.

BOARD MAKES CONCESSIONS TO TEACHERS

Grammar School License Without Examination To Those Taking B. A. Degree—Second Class Also To Benefit.

School teachers in the province will be interested to hear of an important change made in the regulations of the Board of Education affecting the granting of higher licenses to qualified teachers attending the University of New Brunswick. In consequence of applications received, the board has consented to the granting of a grammar school license to first class teachers who take the B. A. degree and enter college through the medium of the regular July matriculation. This does away with the formality of an examination which entailed much trouble and expense and will be welcomed by the teaching fraternity. Another regulation exempts second class teachers who have attended the University from taking those subjects in the first class final examinations which are studied as a part of the college course. This means that the applicant writes four papers instead of twelve, and that superior license is granted without further examination. Three students at the U. N. B. last term, who held second class licenses, preferred the request for the changing of this regulation and were at length successful. All three took the four subjects at the final closing examinations and were granted first superior license.
