Boston, Oct. 13.—The Boston National League club completed the most sensational record in modern professional baseball by defeating the Philadelphia Americans in the fourth and final game of the world's series at Feenway Park today by a score of three to one.

Beginning with their rush from last place in the senior league in the middle of July, the Braves have broken traditions and records in the national sport and speed, during the last three months they emerged, late this afternoon champions of the universe, leaving a trail of startling surprises and upsets in their wake, which it will be hard to duplicate in years to come.

Last, and far from the least of their accomplishments was the overthrow, in four straight games, of the world's famous baseball machine of Connie Mack, with its hundred thousand dollar infield, home run heroes and corps of skillfully blended veterans and youthful pitching stars. Tonight the management of George Stallings, celebrating their ascent to the championship throne, while the wreck of the Athletics' baseball juggernaut is bound for the home of William Penn, stunned and stupefied.

None in baseball circles did an outlook for calamity which, temporarily at least, racked it to the smallest cog.

To the victors belong the spoils, and the credit, and unexpected as was the crushing defeat, the Mackmen took it in sportsmanlike spirit, praising the winners, and offering no excuse for their failure to hold their National League rivals in check. In fact, none are available, for the Boston club outplayed and outgamed their more experienced opponents in every game and department of play.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—"Bob" Shawkey, one of Connie Mack's young pitchers will wed Mrs. Herbert Mason Clapp, who was divorced by the grandson of Mack, the "blacking king," before his death. They will be married as soon as Shawkey returns from a short vacation, following the stalling of baseball's classic.

News that Shawkey and Mrs. Clapp are engaged was received with surprise by friends of the pitcher. Manager Mack said he had not heard of his young hopeful's plans, and fellow members of the Athletics also professed ignorance of Shawkey's engagement to Mrs. Clapp.

None in baseball circles did the announcement create interest. Mrs. Clapp is quite generally known through frequent appearance of her name in public prints.

Met Her at Ball Game.

After their return to the city Mrs. Clapp was a familiar figure, riding in an automobile and wearing a robe of tiger skins and a toque to match. Thus, she gained the title of Tiger.

Shawkey said yesterday he first met Mrs. Clapp in July of last year while she was attending a game at Shibe park.

"It's true," said Shawkey when asked about reports of his engagement. "No matter what anybody says, I'm going to be a lucky man. I'll take a vacation in Maine, a short shooting trip, after the series, and then I'll return to this city to be married."

Mrs. Clapp was at Shawkey's bungalow at Llanerch, where he and his father and sister are living. "Yes,"

JOHN EVERS

The brains of the Braves and winner of an automobile for being most valuable man to his team in the National League.

Due to the shortness of the series, the club owners and National Commission divide a smaller sum of money than in any world's series since 1910.

As the winners, the Boston players receive sixty per cent. of $121,900.94, or $73,140.56, while the Athletics, as losers, profit to the extent of $48,760.33.

Of the Boston club, twenty-six players are eligible to share in the prize money, giving each man $2,813.10, should the money be divided evenly.

On the Athletics, twenty-four players are eligible to divide the losers end, which would give each Mackman $2,031.68 on a share and share alike basis.

Each of the four umpires receive $1,600, the money coming from the National Commission's percentage of the profits.

Connie Mack is the only manager who to date has won three world's championships and he appears to have stumbled over the mystic fourth, just as Managers McGraw, Jennings, Chance and Mack all failed to win four league pennants in a row.

The wise ones had figured out that Connie Mack would send Bender back at the Braves to stage off final defeat, and there was some surprise when Bob Shawkey came out to warm up.

Rudolph opened the game by grooving a strike on Eddie Murphy. The next pitch was a ball. Murphy drove the third one straight at Evers, and was out at first. Oldring, who had been a poor performer at the bat in the series, sent up a high foul to Gowdy and walked disgustedly to the bench.

Collins slashed a single over second and was left at first as Baker sent a high fly to Whitted in center field.

tapped a slow roller which Deal ran in on, making a fine throw to first for the out. Walsh, playing for Strunk, who has an abcess on his hand, slammed a two base hit against the fence low enough for him to have caught it. Jack Barry was tossed out. Maranville to Schmidt, Walsh being unable to advance on the out. Schang struck out.

Oldring's First Hit of Series.

The National leaguers got a man on in their half of the second, after two were out, but he failed to advance. Whitted sent a hot liner that Oldring hit in the series, a clean single to center field. He tried to steal second, and was out on Gowdy's fine throw to Maranville.

The Royal Rooters Band struck up a lively tune, and Connie Mack sent Pennock, Wyckoff and Bressler out to warm up. The crowd roared for Connolly to help, but while he was at bat Shawkey by a quick throw, nipped Evers off first, and the side was out.

The Athletics looked a bit dejected as they came off the field. There was a noticeable increase in the enthusiasm of the Boston players as they took their positions in the sixth, with a two-run lead, and their pitcher going fine. Maranville robbed Collins of a base hit by sprinting back of second, picking up a sharp hit grass-cutter, and tossing out the Athletics' speedy runner while off his balance. Baker raised a high foul to Deal, and McInnis was thrown out on another fine fielding play by Maranville.

Herbie Pennock, one of the Mackmen's left handers, replaced Shawkey, and Mann was sent in by Manager Stallings to bat for Connolly against the left-handed pitcher. Mann flied out. Walsh, Whitted singled to left field and went to third on Schmidt's wicked drive at Collins for one base. Gowdy fell a victim to strikes, and at a moment later Schmidt was caught between first and second. Pennock to McInnis to Collins to McInnis, retiring the side.

Mann sent in to left field in Connolly's place in the seventh inning. Walsh received a base on balls, and went to second on a wild pitch. Barry struck out, and on the play Gowdy off the bag for a double play, Evers taking the throw. Schang again struck out.

Boston's seventh inning was quickly over, although one man reached first. Maranville was thrown out by Collins, and Deal was given a base on balls and was left at first, as Moran fouled out to Baker.

With the seventh inning over, it looked as if nothing could prevent Boston from winning the series. Rudolph, who had been touched up for seven hits in the first five innings, seemed to have the Athletics measure as he appeared to be pitching stronger. Pennock was an easy out, Evers to Schmidt, Murphy flied out to Mann, who made a fine running catch toward center field, Oldring flied out to Evers.

Captain Evers, first up in the eighth for Boston, took his strike-out good naturedly. Mann was thrown out by Collins, but Whitted stole second, the only steal of the game, and moved up to third on Schang's passed ball. Schmidt ended the inning by striking out.

The Athletics' erstwhile heavy artillery, Collins, Baker and McInnis, who all hit over 300 in the American League season, came up in the ninth in a last desperate effort. They made a sorry showing. Collins struck out, Baker bounced a grounder to Evers and was thrown out, McInnis swiped at the ball and shot it toward Deal. The third baseman was on it like a flash, whipped it across to Schmidt, and the monarchs of baseball fell from their throne.

Put Game on Ice in Fifth.

Barry made his first and only hit of the series in opening the fifth inning. It was a single which Maranville could not handle in time to beat the Athletics' shortstop. Barry went to second on Schang's out, Evers to Schmidt, and came home on the Athletics' only run on Shawkey's big two base drive to left center. Murphy was an easy out, Evers to Schmidt, Shawkey moving up to third. Oldring swung at wide balls and was out on strikes.

The new world's champions won the title in their half of the fifth inning. Mann walked, Evers sent a two base hit to left field, and Baker brought cheers from the fans by shooting a single into center field. The big crowd made much of the Athletics' only run on Shawkey's plate. Moran took a big lead over second, and then the Braves' captain, after two strikes, dropped a single into center field, on which both Rudolph and Moran scored.
