Capt. Tyler and Capt. Kearney came into port Friday evening with a valuable raft of logs from Duck Island.

T. C. Smith, secretary of the Chatham Binder Twine Company, is visiting his father in Warton.

Saturday night, too late to notify the public through the press, the manager of the Opera House learned that the company advertised to give the Passion Play here had disbanded and gone home without notifying the manager of the Opera House. There was nothing left to do but to open the doors and refund the money. No one regretted the disappointment more than the local management, and they are losers, as heavy expense was entailed in advertising the production.

NOTHING LESS

Than the most modern facilities—errorless instruments—should be used by the optician. The eye is too delicate and the sight too precious to permit any experimenting with. There should be no possibility of a mistake.

We have these instruments—and guarantee accuracy and satisfaction.

We will examine your eyes, tell you what should be done to correct any possible eye defect—and make no charge whatever for anything but glasses—if you need them.

Call any day.

JOY CLUB

Within Its Territory Col. Samuel Holmes Entertained Friends Yesterday.

The Joy Club—that exclusive and splendid shooting lodge of Col. Sam Holmes, situated on Leguille Bay, and shut off from the world and the uninvited by several hundred acres of excellent shooting preserve—afforded shelter to a select party of duck hunters yesterday. Col. Sam Holmes was there himself to extend the hospitality of the club and to assist in giving his guests a good day's shooting. The Colonel had gone down to his retreat prepared for a week's hunting. He was accompanied by his aide-de-camp, Chas. Hicklin. They drove down in a democrat wagon which was taxed to its utmost capacity with the bountiful supply of provisions necessary to satisfy hungry duck hunters with appetites whetted by the bracing air of Leguille Bay. Rob. Rankin, of Dover, was a visitor; he drove down. The innocent was the fourth member of the party. He wheeled. He had the misfortune to have a puncture when four miles from the city, and with the usual intelligence of innocence, found on investigation that he had a repair kit but no air pump. A kind-hearted farmer in the person of John Urquhart took pity on the thoughtless youth and furnished a bicycle pump. Thus were the difficulties of a great accident overcome, and the innocent reached the Joy club about two o'clock, hungry and ready to eat. The club house was locked and the residents out on the bay. The club's hunger was satisfied in so far as looking through the window at eatables on the table would satisfy it. Late in the afternoon the Joy clubites returned from the bay and blissful in the innateness of the Joy club, Monday broke with rain and the downpour kept the eager and impatient hunters within doors. However, about nine o'clock, decoys were set, and the elusive duck allured to certain destruction—at least almost certain.

In marksmanship Col. Sam Holmes, as usual, and as became an army veteran, had the honors of the day. He got seven of the eleven ducks secured by the party, but with the consent of the Maple City military man, all agreed to say that "We got eleven, or our party got eleven ducks." Natural modesty and a desire not to let us individually telling what we had done. Some of the party returned this morning. Owing to the nature of the roads the returned ones are not presentable as yet, but to ease the strain on the minds of those interested in their wills, and thus concerned about their safety, it may be said that there will be no funeral.

Dear Sirs—I was for seven years a sufferer from Bronchial trouble, and would be so hoarse at times that I could scarcely speak above a whisper. I got no relief from anything till I tried your MINARD'S HONEY BAL-SAM. Two bottles gave relief and six bottles made a complete cure. I would heartily recommend it to any one suffering from throat or lung trouble.

ERNEST SETON-THOMPSON'S New Animal Book

THIS book is by far the most important work of the famous author, artist since his "Wild Animals I Have Known". Fully equalling that in popular book, in character, solidity, illustration and general worth.

Lives of the Hunted

Being a true account of the doings of five Quadropeds and three birds

By ERNEST SETON-THOMPSON

200 Illustrations

It is more richly illustrated than any previous book with Mr. Seton-Thompson's own inimitable drawings, of which there are more than two hundred. There are many full page drawings, and nearly every type page is ornamented with the delightful sketches characteristic of the author's latest work.

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT

A Plain Talk To Sensible Men About Clothing

WHY AUSTIN'S? Follow These Facts (Prove Them If You Wish.)

We sell in our clothing department more clothing at retail than any other concern in Western Ontario. We are better than manufacturers in that we can choose the best factory in the land for each particular grade of clothing, and we can change our factory when better conditions or facilities are obtainable. We get all the advantages of manufacturing by making our own specifications of what shall go into the clothing in cloth, trimmings and workmanship, and in every case, in every grade, the clothing made for Austin & Co. is better than any other clothing elsewhere at that price.
