

I Can Do the Work of 4 Men

"My hired man enlisted. Two of my boys are at the Front, and one is in England. I am left at home to do all the work. I have all the chores to do, all the stable-cleaning, all the feeding, watering and milking. I have to look after the horses and the cows. The Government tells me that I must keep up production as before the war. I must milk as many cows, fatten as many feeders, grow as much grain as before. And I do. How do I manage? Let me tell you.

Barn Book Showed Me How

"I got the BT Barn Book and saw how to fix my barn so I could cut out three parts of the work.

"I learned how a manure carrier would clean my stable in less time than the four men could do it.

"I found how a hay carrier would save three or four men at harvest time.

"I found how steel stalls would save time in feeding the cattle, tying them up in their stalls and keeping the stable clean. Steel horse stable fittings save time in feeding and caring for the horses.

"I saw how water bowls would save nearly all the work of watering the stock, how they would water the stock almost automatically.

"The barn book showed me how to plan and build my barn myself, how to do the cement work, get floor levels, build the mangers, gutters, walks and passages, and erect the frame and roof.

"The equipment came ready-made from the factory. It was ready to install, and I only required a few mornings to put it in. It solved the labor problem for me this year."

Send coupon for your copy of the barn book. It is a help to you during this WAR crisis. Every farmer should have a copy.

We mail it free to every one who is building or remodelling his barn. There are not many copies left for distribution, so send coupon at once.
