

THE MAN IN MAINE

IS NOT HERB READ

College Chum Falls to Find

Anything Definite

Bert Robinson Badly Hurt While Working on a Steamer—Several Marriages are Announced.

SACKVILLE, N. B., Dec. 23.—The question as to whether or not J. W. House, a Commissioner in the Province, that the young man seen by him at Sherbrooke, Maine, in November, was Herbert Read, is still unsettled. Indications, however, are that House was in error. On Monday a former Mount Allison student who knew Read well, made a trip to Sherbrooke. During his stay he was unable to learn much that was definite. People in Sherbrooke when shown a picture of a missing man, said that a man who resembled the likeness had been in town, but they were under the impression that he was not Read but another man who belonged to that part of the country. The former colleague was unable to find the man in question at the time but further attention is being given the matter so that something definite may be learned.

Bert Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Robinson, met with a bad accident while at work loading a steamer at the wharf on Monday afternoon. He sustained painful injuries about the head as well as some bruises about the body and a general shaking up. One of his knees was also badly injured. One of the large hoisting hooks caught in Robinson's coat and swung him from his feet. When suspended in the air the young man fell from the hook and struck heavily on the deck below him. The fall was a very bad one and it is surprising that the injuries resulting were not even more serious. As it was, Robinson narrowly escaped falling into the steamer's hold. Had he done so, the result of the accident might have been fatal. Robinson is now doing well.

Archibald Blackley died at his home at Upper Sackville yesterday after a very short illness. He was taken ill as he returned from a skating party on Friday and Saturday. A committee being formed to report on the matter, visited this week at a meeting in Toronto.

The Canadian Cannery, a firm already controls some Cannery Companies—51 in This Country.

TO, Dec. 16.—There is a possibility of a consolidation of the Canadian Cannery Company in the future of cans. An unsuccessful merger was made a few weeks ago about a merger, but it is not that the companies most concerned almost reached a basis of a meeting of the eastern and western companies being formed. A report on the matter, visited this week at a meeting in Toronto.

Other hand, an American firm interested in the manufacturing, and which has three factories in Canada, made a proposition to the independent cannery, could be capitalized at $2,000,000.

NGTON, D. C., Dec. 15.—The situation has caused navy some perplexity over the session of congress by the duty to the provision of the naval appropriation bill. It is not so sure as to whether they will be justified in the marines ashore.

LONGSHOREMEN

PREPARE FOR FIGHT

Bitter Struggle Expected in

Montreal Next Spring

Quebec Medical Men Favor the Reddock Bill—An Amendment Offered.

MONTREAL, Dec. 23.—There is a possibility of a strike among the longshoremen next spring and the men are taking measures to get their demands in shape. They are sending their business agent to all the Atlantic ports to make a report on the wages and methods of pay. They object to the bonus system here and will make a big fight against it next season. With bigger ships coming here next year they think that they have a better chance to force the companies to grant their demands as leaving the larger ships idle would entail great loss.

The medical men of the Province of Quebec yesterday discussed the Reddock bill for a Dominion registration instead of a provincial one all day and accepted it in principle. They, however, favored a change allowing examinations at all university centres instead of at Ottawa alone and a special examination for those who wished to practice in one province only.

Mr. Woolley is about to take charge of a Methodist Episcopal church in Maine.

On next Tuesday at East Amherst the marriage will take place of Miss Elizabeth Atkinson to Arthur Trenholm. Miss Atkinson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Atkinson, East Amherst, while Mr. Trenholm is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ritchey Trenholm, Port Lawrence.

land in the hope of catching votes, an unimpaired opinion cannot be thought interview with his Ottawa correspondent, the Manchester Guardian today publishes another column of the opinion of the present minister of the present government.

Another astonishing perversion reads thus: "Close friendship is now existing between England and the United States and Canada, and the States would almost certainly be disturbed by the advent to office of the Tories, militant imperialists who appear to imagine they strengthen the empire by being insolent in turn to every foreign power not an actual ally. Such weighty considerations as these have made thinking men in Canada all but solidly Liberal in the sense of heartily desiring the success of British Liberalism."

PEARY INTIMATES HE WILL SEEK THE SOUTH POLE NOW

Speaks at a Banquet of the New England Society

Royal Geographical Society to Give Him Royal Welcome

Thinks He Has Been Very Badly Treated--Will Make Amends

No Trace of the Man Who Fooled the World

NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 22.—Commander Peary very strongly intimated tonight in a speech at the banquet of the New England Society that the expedition which he is undertaking to the North Pole might also try for the South Pole.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—At the headquarters of the Royal Geographical Society it was said to-day that arrangements were well in hand to give Commander Peary a royal welcome when he arrives in England at the end of April. May 4 has been fixed for a big demonstration at Albert Hall, when it is expected that the King and the Prince of Wales will be present.

Discussing the Copenhagen report on Dr. Cook's claim, the General Secretary of the Geographical Society pointed out that the use by the commission of the Danish word "undiscovered" in the phrase in connection with Dr. Cook's alleged records, "having in clear information as an unambiguous degree," was very strong language, as the correct translation of the word is "impendent or ill-defined" not "undiscovered" as it was translated in the report sent out.

It is safe to say that none of the members of the Geographical Society ever seriously entertained the claim, but now that the matter is finally settled their concern is for Peary, and one member said to me to-day, "He has been very badly treated, but let us hope they will make up for it now."

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Efforts of Cook's friends, and even his closest relatives, to locate him are unavailing. His brother and his counsel both admitted tonight that they did not know of the explorer's whereabouts. Although they were making efforts to do so, they said no trace of him could be found.

Members of the Arctic Club of America, at a meeting tonight, adopted a resolution to refer the question of further membership of Dr. Frederick A. Cook to the board of directors with power to act. It was said that charges would be preferred against Dr. Cook by some of the members and presented to the directors for consideration.

THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY, with some exceptions, have special music at the services on Christmas Day and on the Sunday following. In the past the programme of Christmas music of some of the city churches has been very elaborate, and the same is true this year. In some of the churches there will be no service on Christmas Day, the following day being observed. This is true of the Baptist churches. The Presbyterian churches of the city will hold a united service on Christmas morning in St. Stephen's Church. For that service the choir of St. Stephen's has prepared some very fine music. On Sunday the choir of St. Stephen's will sing their Christmas music.

At Centenary Methodist Church a children's choir has prepared processional and occasional hymns and a carol. The church choir will sing the following anthems—"Break forth into joy," by Coleridge-Taylor, solos by Messrs. Taylor and Pidgeon; "Before the heavens were spread abroad," by G. W. Parker, solo by Mrs. A. P. Crockett; "I desired wisdom," by J. Stainer, with ladies' double trio. Christmas hymns and chants are also to be sung. On Sunday the music will be repeated.

At St. George's Church, West Side, the following will be sung by the choir: "Christmas Day," "De Deum," by Barrett; "Jubilate," by Emerson; anthem, "Glory to God in the highest," by Simpson; hymns—"Christians awake," "O come, all ye faithful," "While shepherds watched their flocks," by Simpson.

On Sunday evening there will be special carol singing at St. George's.

CZAR OF RUSSIA

A COMMON SOLDIER

Old Sentry Duty to Relieve Man Who Was Ill

Walked About for Some Hours in Private's Uniform to Test the Equipment.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—The Russian Court Bulletin recorded lately that the czar walked about Lavadia for two hours wearing the uniform and carrying the accoutrements of an infantry soldier in order to test the equipment.

Another story has now reached St. Petersburg to the effect that while the Emperor was strolling in the park with his adjutant he noticed that one of the sentries had been attacked with a hemorrhage. He sent the adjutant to tell the man to quit his post, and report himself to a doctor. The man replied that he dare not do that he was under oath to die rather than leave his post until he was relieved. The czar then approached and told the man that the same oath compelled him to obey his Emperor was empowered by the military code to relieve a sentry. The czar then ordered the sentry to surrender his rifle to him and instructed the adjutant to accompany the man to the barracks and explain. Meanwhile the czar mounted guard until he was relieved.
