Late Miss Winnifred Small.

Impressively simple and markedly solemn were the last sad services conducted over the body of the late Miss Winnifred Small when the funeral took place yesterday from the residence, 30 Brighton Row to Mount Hope cemetery, where the remains were tenderly laid to rest. Rev. Mr. North paid a loving tribute to the bright young life which had been so suddenly drawn to a close, during the services conducted at the graveside.

Smoke and New Buildings. The magnificent buildings which have lately been built in Brantford will be taken care of to the best ability of the city. Referring to the Bank of Montreal and the new post office, the mayor said that smoke would soon make these buildings dirty and spoil their appearance if the smoke nuisance was not entirely eliminated. It was felt that the buildings should be protected in some measure, and Alderman Pitcher will take the matter in hand.

Good Attendance. There was a pretty good attendance of the aldermanic personages at the council last night when only two of the members were absent. They were Messrs Charrto and Wood. Those present were the Mayor, Alderman Ward, Calbeck, Ryerson, Woolams, Sutch, Broadbent, Sigman, Pitcher, English, Robinson and Hollinrake.

Good Idea. It is the most sensible idea you ever handled, declared Ald. Ward, when he approved of the scheme of Ald. Pitcher for the removal of dead trees on the city streets. That gentleman thought the trees should be taken and stored until the winter, when they could be sawed into logs and distributed among the poor people.

Matter of Opinion. Ald. Broadbent was informed when he enquired at the city council last night, that it was purely optional whether a trader opened his shop or not on civic holidays. He was not in favor of the tradespeople having to close up two whole holidays during the old home week, and he discovered that if he is desirous of opening up on either day he is at liberty to do so. Courtesy, however, in respect to the city holiday generally prompted all traders to close up, said the Mayor. Alderman Ryerson was in sympathy with the old home week, but he declared his shop was kept open on all holidays, and he therefore had voted for one holiday.

Will Hear the Band. West Brantford and Holmedale have been neglected in the matter of band concerts, and in future they will have at least a little strain of music once in a while. This was warranted by Ald. Pitcher, who wished the matter of their neglect had been brought to his notice at an earlier date. Ald Calbeck was the good Samaritan.

In Time to Come. The public parks may at some far distant date be lighted efficiently, neatly trimmed and trees taken out, in the more overcrowded sections. This appeared to be the context of what Ald. Ryerson told the council last night when he was asked as to the lighting of the parks. He said he had approached the authorities on the matter, but had been politely told that they would see to it in due course, but no council movements would hurry or facilitate matters. In their good time all would be attended to.

Doesn't Like the Job. The mayor does not care a great deal for the task of being official date stamper, and he reminded the council of this fact when he was asked if he was good enough to date all motions which they handed up to him.

The Bell is Found. There was a mystery as to where the bell of the old city hall clock had gone, but Ald. Ward stepped up with a startling announcement last night which solved the mystery. He declared that the bell was away down at the Eagle Place school where it was taken a long time ago.

The bell will probably be brought back to the city hall, but whether it would strike or not was not gone into. This transpired when to H. Newman was given the contract to keep the old timepiece in order for the rest of the year. Sixty dollars was the fixed price.

Mayor There First. Alderman Broadbent was a little behind the Mayor last night when he got up a motion that a policeman be on duty at every band concert in order to keep decorous order. "Your motion is no good," said the Mayor "for I have attended to that matter already and a policeman will in future attend all band concerts."

Court House to Be Painted. The City Hall looks pretty good in its new coat and so well has it impressed the council that they will have the court house buildings painted similarly. Some, one had suggested putting up a flag on the old pile in the centre of the market, but Ald. Pitcher vetoed the suggestion, saying that the edifice looked better without any red tape sticking around.

Ald. Ward suggested that the Finance committee attend to the painting of the court buildings, as the board of works had been literally drained by painting the City Hall. Ald Hollinrake said it was not up to him, to which Alderman Ward said he did not ask his worthy colleague to get up a ladder to do the job. He simply

Will Suspend Work. The Lorne bridge will not be jacked up until the Old Home Week is passed and gone. This was the decision of Engineer Willwood of the C. P. R., City Engineer Jones and Alderman Ward of the board of works, when they met and discussed the matter on Saturday last.

It was felt that the traffic of the week would be very heavy, and that it would be much safer to have the bridge resting as it is, than upon jacks. The approaches will be widened for the week in order to facilitate matters.

LUTHERANS ARE MAKING PROGRESS HERE

Revived Interest is Being Taken by Members of the Brantford Church.

An important meeting of St. Matthews' Ev. Lutheran church was held in Willard Hall on Sunday afternoon. Since the departure of Rev. N. Willson, the former pastor, no regular services have been held and the congregation has been in a dormant state. At the meeting on Sunday it took a new lease on life.

Rev. J. A. Miller, B. A. of Hamilton, president of the Eastern Conference of the Lutheran Synod of Central Canada called the meeting to order and presided. Letters were read by him from officials of the Synod, the Church Extension Society and the General Council Home Mission Board, assuring the congregation of their interest in its mission and pledging it support. The church extension society has promised a loan of $5,000 to enable it to purchase a property and erect a church building. As soon as possible the Home Mission Board promises to send an efficient pastor. In the meantime, Sunday School will be held on Sunday mornings at 11 o'clock and service on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. This work will be conducted by M. F. Otterbein, a member of Trinity Lutheran Church, Hamilton, and Supt. of its Sunday School. Rev. J. A. Miller will have supervision over the work. Mr. Otterbein who will come to Brantford on Saturday afternoons and stay in the city over Sunday, is an active worker in the Lutheran Laymen's Movement in Canada, being the chairman of its Literature Committee. Good results confidently expected of his labors in Brantford.

Besides Rev. Miller and Mr. Otterbein, whose encouraging words were an inspiration to the congregation, there was also present at the meeting the Secretary of the Lutheran Synod of Central Canada, the Rev. J. J. Clemons, B.D., the editor of the Canada Lutheran and pastor of St. Peter's Church, Ottawa. He also spoke a few words of encouragement, approving of the arrangements made at the meeting and extending his good wishes, good will and prayers on behalf of the work and successful future of the congregation.

Lawn Tennis. Rebyder, by sets of 6-3 and 6-1. In the singles, R. Watts defeated Roberts by scores of 7-5, 6-3, and 6-3, and Gold held an advantage of 4-2 when darkness came on during his set with Rebyder.

Nevertheless, the Parisians displayed commendable pluck, although they were rather nervous at the beginning. After the games, they were entertained to a pleasant little supper by the Brantfordites, who acted as hosts.

When it is seen that Miss Howie's handicap is -1/40, it will be known that the honor was not carried off without a great effort on the part of the present holder. She was conceding three points in two games to her opponent, and then succeeded in winning.

A large concourse of friends watched the contest, which was hot throughout, and cheered the winner heartily upon her success, which is a very popular one with the club members. This is the first year that Miss Howie has achieved the ambition of every Dufferin lady.

Paris Visit "Y" Courts. Paris were visitors on the Brantford Y. M. C. A. courts when they proved fairly easy to the locals, who placed a strong team on the courts.

Rev. Jeaking and R. Watts proved too good for Armstrong and Ellis by 4-6, 6-3 and 8-5.

H. V. Gould and G F Whitney took it easy and defeated Hamilton and
