TAKE WISE PRECAUTIONS

There appears to be quite a general epidemic of Typhoid in different parts of this province. While Kentville has escaped it is, considered wise that precautions should be taken so as to prevent this disease from getting a start here. The recent heavy rains have overflowed all the brooks, watercourses and fields and naturally the surface drain age will have a tendency to pollute the waters from which cows drink and the water supply is obtained. To be on the safe side we have been asked to request the citizens to boil all drinking water and milk as well. Better to take extra and perhaps unnecessary precautions now than to let typhoid get a foothold here as it has in Halifax and other places.

Poultry Meeting

This evening in the Court House Prof. Landry, of Truro, an expert on Poultry, will deliver an address which will be of great interest to all breeders and others who relish poultry and their products. This meeting will probably lead to the formation in this county of a Poultry Association, a thing that is much needed to encourage this most important industry. The experimental farm here has added a branch in poultry raising and Mr. Bouden a young man who is enthusiastic and competent in the work has taken charge. This work will be conducted for the benefit of poultry growers and now seems the proper time to make a forward movement in poultry raising. The home market for fowls and eggs is good, and there seems to be no better adjunct to successful farming than this. All interested are invited to attend at the Court House tonight to hear Prof. Landry.

Destructive Fire at Wolfville

On Saturday morning shortly after one o'clock, the stables adjoining the Royal Hotel conducted by Henry Leopold were discovered on fire. The hay and other material in the barn made the flames spread rapidly and the smoke was intense. The firemen worked with a will and saved part of the building but the contents were consumed consisting of hay, harness, wagons and eight horses, six belonging to Mr. Leopold, one to Mr. C. W. Strong and one to Dr. Barrs. The wind was blowing to the northward and thus saved the Royal Hotel. Great credit is due to the firemen in keeping the fire from spreading. Another blaze took place yesterday in the Kenna Block. The damage was light as far as we could learn.

WANTED—A chamber maid, also a general house maid. Apply to a Mr. C. SILVER, AMERICAN HOUSE.

On Friday a student at Kings College, Windsor, was found in the building hanging by the neck. He was not dead when discovered but never regained consciousness. The sad affair has cast a gloom over the college and community. The body was taken home to Lunenburg Co., on Monday morning.

...The Liberal machine seems to have trained experts all over the province who look upon it as a political triumph to deprive their political opponents of the sacred franchise wherever possible. The right to vote is the sacred right of every British subject who is qualified by law to do so. It is the combined exercise of this princely right that makes Great Britain and her Dominions beyond the seas the proudest and greatest democracy of the ages. No man should allow himself to be deprived of his vote. The honorable and patriotic principle is to accord to every man, who is duly qualified by law, the right to be registered as a voter. It is the business of political parties to see to his politics after he is registered and not to seek to deprive him of the inalienable right to which every British subject is born—a voice and vote in the affairs of his country.

Several instances have come to the public notice in recent years of criminal interference with the rights of citizenship. The most notable were the McLaughlin case in Colchester and the case in Annapolis County in which certain Liberal revisors seemed to think their loyalty to party could best be shown by depriving worthy citizens of their right to vote. The most recent attempt to juggle with the voters' lists was carried into the House of Assembly last winter by the redoubtable H. H. Wickwire the member for Kings. The Assembly Debates 1913 Page 543 state:—

“Mr Wickwire introduced a bill to amend the list of voters for district Number 13 Canaan in the County of Kings. He said that one of the revisors for the district of Canaan on the 18th, of March, the last day provided by law upon which the voters list should be filed with the Municipal Clerk, filed his list of voters duly signed by the revisors in the office of the County Clerk at Kentville. Subsequently to that time another revisor who lived some distance away and in another district, accompanied by a Dominion Official and a party said to be one of the councillors for this district went to the County Clerk's office, had the list taken out, and added twelve names not there before and deliberately struck off four names. The bill introduced was for the purpose of striking off these 12 names and adding the four names unlawfully removed. The time for appeal had gone by, and this thing would not have been noticed but for the fact that the list was published in a local newspaper. He (Mr. W.) was moving the second reading and also gave notice that he would move for the appointment of a special committee to take into consideration the matter of this bill and obtain under oath if necessary the information he had detailed.”

Mr. Wickwire did not take the trouble to explain, as it did not suit his purpose to do so, that the twelve names he wanted an act of parliament to strike off the voters list and the four he wanted put on had already been fraudulently dealt with by his liberal friends in the district. The twelve names Mr. Wickwire claimed had been added improperly had been duly passed as qualified at the revisal court on March 5th, and the four struck off had been decided unqualified by the same court. The liberal revisor for the district of the revisal section concerned had been trusted to make a correct copy of the list as passed at the revisal court. The revisor's political perversity got the better of him, he undertook to make a few quiet voters for his party. When the failure of the plot became known there was chagrin in the liberal camp at Kentville and Mr. Wickwire rushed furiously into the Assembly with a great air of righteous indignation and demanded redress by an act of parliament and demanded a committee of inquiry into the alleged tampering with the lists. Mr. Tanner the leader of the opposition and his associates were fully alive to the situation and had full information. The whole pro-

OPERA HOUSE WOLFVILLE

Augustus Thomas Powerful Play

Academy Players Will Produce "The Witching Hour"

Mr. Toler and his fellow players will be seen on Monday Nov. 3rd, in one of the strongest dramas ever presented in Wolfville and one that comes at a most opportune moment, while the discussion of "mental suggestion" and "telepathy" has been so predominant in the public mind. The story of "The Witching Hour" deals with this subject closely following the plot of intense human interest. The full strength of the company will be used, with handsome scenic embellishments.

Special Trains from Berwick and Kingsport

Traveling to and From Kentville's Big Joy Festival Made Easy

On Thursday, November 6th, a Special Train will leave Berwick for Kentville at 7 p. m., returning at 11.30 p. m. Also on same date a Special Train will leave Kingsport for Kentville at 7 p. m., and return at 11.30 p. m. Each special stops at all stations both ways. Please bear in mind that these trains are run expressly for the convenience of the travelling public, under a big guarantee. They will convey you to and from the greatest and grandest event ever staged in the county, or in a good many counties for that matter. Clarke and Hiltz are setting a pace in the show business in the Maritime Provinces that will be hard to follow. Their success is largely due to matters of this kind—doing something that was considered almost impossible. Their unlimited faith in the population of the prosperous community which surrounds them, coupled with an expert knowledge of advertising, being sufficient guarantee of the success of any undertaking they may formulate. Remember then the opening of Kentville's Big Arena on Nov. 6—7—8. Its just as big an attraction as a circus.

Persons wishing PHOTOGRAPHS for CHRISTMAS GIFTS should arrange for a sitting at once, while weather is fine and warm, especially the children. By doing so you will be sure not to be disappointed as some are every year.
