TEACH EFFECTIVELY.

It is generally agreed among educators and others who have nation's interests at heart that the schools of the country shall continue during the war with as little interruption as possible. At the same time it is felt that the schools shall do all they can to aid in meeting conditions which have grown out of the war. Inasmuch as some of the greatest problems are concerned with increasing the production of food and with conservation in its use, there is a special interest at this time in the teaching of agriculture and home economics. Now, as never before, the nation is appreciating the value of these subjects in the school curriculum. With most educators it is no longer a question of why these subjects should be taught, but as to how they may be taught most effectively.—H. P. Barrows, Specialist in Agriculture Education, in States Relation Service, Doc. 73, United States Department of Agriculture.

STARVATION IN BOHEMIA REPORTED.

Why Austria is Anxious for Peace.

WASHINGTON, April 18—Thousands of families in Bohemia, especially at Prague and vicinity, are starving, according to an official despatch from France today, which quoted the Leipzig Volks Zeitung. Last week it was estimated that there was a deficit of one hundred thousand loaves of bread in Prague.

Arthur E. Greely applied at the U. S. Marine corps recruiting office, Buffalo, for enlistment. He was rejected because he was so tall. Greely stood six feet nine inches. He is 22 years old and weighs 168 pounds. Sergt. Kohler, when measuring Greely's height, had to stand on a chair to get the tape high enough on the wall to get the full measurement. The limit in height for the marine corps is 73 inches, and Greely stretched the tape to 81 inches.

In the home of the late Lemuel Bigney, Wentworth, the pastor, the Rev. Chas. Johnson, was shown in the grandmother's Family Bible, a list of Methodist ministers who had been entertained there during the 40 years previous to 1872, the year of the old lady's death. There were 63 names on the list together with 7 Presbyterian one Baptist.

PRAYER OF A SOLDIER.

The prayer which follows was found in the pockets of a British Colonel after he was killed in action in France on October, 11th, 1917:

Father of all, Helper of the free, we pray with anxious hearts for all who fight on sea and land and in the air to guard our homes and liberty. Make clear the vision of our leaders and their counsels wise.

Into Thy care our ships and seaman we commend; guard them from chance sown mines and all the dangers of this war at sea; and as of old give them the victory.

To men on watch give vigilance, to those below calm sleep. Make strong our soldiers' hearts and brace their nerves against the bursting shrapnel and unseen fire that lays the next man low.

In pity blind them from the sight of fallen comrades left upon the field.

May Christ Himself in Paradise receive the souls of those who pass through death.

Let not our soldiers ever doubt that they shall overcome the forces of that king who "seeks to wade thru slaughter to a throne and shut the gate of mercy on mankind."

O God of Love and Pity have compassion on the wounded, make bearable their pains or send unconsciousness.

To surgeons and dressers give strength that knows no failing and skill that suffers not from desperate haste.

To tired men give time to rest Pity the poor beasts of service who suffer for man's wrong

For us at home, let not that open shame be ours, that we forget to ease the sufferings of the near and dear of brave men in the fighting line.

O Thou, who makest human hearts the channel of Thy answers to our prayers let loose a flood of sympathy and help for children and their mothers who wander desolate and suffering, leaving wrecked homes and fields and gardens trodden under ruthless feet.

With Thee who sufferest more than all, may we with reverence Thy burden share, for all are Thine and in Thine image made; they too are Thine who caused the wrong.

O Father may this war be man kind's last appeal to force. Grant from the stricken earth, sown with Thy dead, an everlasting flower of peace shall spring, and all Thy world become a garden where the flower of Christ shall grow.

And this we beg for our dear Elder Brother's sake, who gave Himself for those He loved, Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

No King ever travelled more simply than did George V, who has just visited the battlefield. He crossed the Channel on a destroyer just like an ordinary "teer." He was whiffed up and down the lines like a hard-working army inspector, shaking hands with the enlisted men and eating ordinary mess food wherever meal-time caught him. Seeing a slightly wounded Australian at the railway station the King walked up to him and said: "I've often heard about you." The Australian, holding out his hand, responded, "Put it there." The King shook his hand warmly and appeared immensely pleased to be taken as an "equal."
