All the Current Events of Farmersville and Vicinity Correctly Reported.

Business Education.

Brockville Business College has gained the front rank among the Colleges of Canada. Nearly two hundred students have been in attendance during the past year. The course offered at this college is most thorough and complete and will afford young persons just the preparation necessary to enter upon any business calling. The rates at this school for board, books and tuition are cheaper than at any other first-class college. Write for their circulars.

Personal Mention.

J. H. Hawkins is visiting friends in Port Hope this week.

Myron E. Wilson and Fred, Fitch, of Briar Hill, N. Y., were visiting at B. Loverin's this week.

Sale by Auction.

Mrs. O. Jackson, of Plum Hollow, will offer for sale on Wednesday, the 3rd of November, at 2 p. m., a part of lot 4 in the 7th concession of Bastard, being a portion of the estate of the late Ephraim Jackson, jr. The sale will take place on the premises. See bills for particulars.

Reform Meeting.

The Reformers of Rear Yonge and Escott will meet in the Town Hall, Farmersville, on Saturday evening, the 9th inst., at 8 p. m., to appoint delegates to the reform convention, which will be held at Delta, on the 14th of the present month.

New Carriage Shop.

Charles S. Pearson has opened a carriage shop at Elgin, and intends, by strict attention and thorough work, to merit the public's patronage.

Photography.

S. M. Switzer is in town this week endeavoring to secure a location for a photograph gallery. If successful in his object, he will open out a gallery here, and will no doubt establish a paying business. We saw some fine specimens of Mr. Switzer's work at the Elgin fair, and in conversation with parties in the neighborhood of Newbury we found that his work was well liked.

Entertainment.

An entertainment will be given by the pupils and friends of S. S. No. 7, (in the brick school house, one mile east of Farmersville), on the evening of Friday next. An interesting programme has been prepared, and those who attend will be sure to enjoy themselves. The entertainment will begin at half past seven. Admission, 15 cents.

That Sewer.

There is considerable grumbling amongst those interested in the building of the sewer through the centre of the village, over the action of the officials in not furnishing a statement of the disbursements in connection with that much needed work. There seems to be no hesitation in paying any reasonable assessments, but they wish to know where and how the money was expended.

Harvest Dinner.

The harvest dinner which was held at Greenbush on Wednesday last, was not as largely attended as was expected, on account of the cold wet weather. Although a platform, seats, tables, etc., had been prepared in the grove, it was decided to have the dinner and speeches in the church. The dinner was gotten up in a manner creditable to the ladies, while the speeches, well they mainly consisted of reminiscences of the speakers' early days and the hair breadth escapades of the reverend gentlemen when they were boys. We did not learn the receipts.

Encouraging.

Mr. Brown the canvasser for the cemetery repair fund informs us that he has collected between sixty and seventy dollars, and has only been out a part of two days. He says that thus far the people have responded cheerfully to the appeal for funds. If those living at a distance having friends buried in the old M. E. burying ground wish to contribute towards putting the cemetery in a better condition than at present, their contribution will be thankfully received by the committee. Money may be sent to Mr. G. W. Brown, or to this office. The committee will meet at the Reporter's office on Monday evening next, at 8 p. m., sharp for the transaction of business connected with the proposed renovation of the cemetery grounds.

Directors' Meeting.

A meeting of the directors of the Unionville Fair Association was held at Forth's hotel on Monday last. Present, secretary, treasurer, Beecher, Forth, Johnston, Shipman and Manhard were present. After the reading and adoption of the minutes of last meeting, a large number of bills were read and ordered to be paid to the ticket sellers, gate keepers, etc. Before adjournment, the following resolution moved by Mr. Johnston, seconded by Mr. Manhard was carried unanimously. That this board feeling under deep obligations to Mr. Forth for his kindness in furnishing the members of this Board with entertainment for themselves and their horses at meetings of the board, for which he has always refused remuneration therefore they ask his acceptance for the sum of $10.00 as a partial payment for the many obligations incurred.

THE UNIONVILLE PRIZE LIST.

"We publish in this week's issue a fragment of the Unionville prize list—that relating to growing crops. We were asked if we would publish the whole list and promised to do so, being assured by two of the officials that the copy would be furnished to us simultaneously with the other papers. The part referred to came a few days ago. Our weekly goes to press on Wednesday morning and on Tuesday evening a proof of a part of the list, ending off in the middle of a name reaches us, the only copy so far received except the growing crops. Mr. B. Loverin, the secretary of the society, sees fit for some reason to withhold the copy so he can get it into his own paper a week before us. The directors should see that he does as they instruct him in this matter. Our readers will see that the fault is not ours."

This terrible accusation against us appeared in last week's issue of the Weekly Recorder. Persons reading it might think that our big cotem. had sat upon us with a vengeance, and that we would be wiped out of existence. But, fortunately for us, we live out in the country, where the bracing air acts as an invigorator, and we therefore hope to survive the ordeal. Let us endeavor, in our feeble way, to dissect this wonderful production of the wisecrack of the Recorder.

First, then, our contemporary says that they publish a "fragment of the Unionville prize list—that relating to growing crops." Yet, in the very number containing this statement is found, not only the growing crops list but the four classes of horses and four of cattle—exactly the same amount of matter as was furnished to the other Brockville papers, and identical with the first batch of the prize list which appeared in the Reporter. Out of their own mouth they convict themselves.

Then the Recorder goes on to say that they were asked by two of the officials to publish the whole list, and assured that the copy would be furnished them simultaneously with the other papers; and further remarks that "the part referred to came a few days ago." In reply we state emphatically that a corrected copy of classes A, B, C, D, E and F was prepared by our foreman on Monday morning, September 20th, and duplicates were enclosed in envelopes addressed to the three Brockville papers and mailed with our own hands in time for that day's mail. And we have reason to believe the proofs so transmitted did not fail in reaching the offices addressed, for we notice that the Times of September 22nd contains the portion of the list sent them on the 20th, although the "fragment" did not appear in either the daily or weekly editions of the Recorder until the following week. A little further on our cotemporary says that on Tuesday evening (we suppose of the following week) a proof of a part of the middle of the list, ending in the middle of a name, reached it, "the only copy so far received, except the growing crops." We were shown a card from J. J. Bell, of the Recorder, to Wm. Neilson, the President, in which the writer says that the copy had not reached him on Wednesday. How is this discrepancy to be accounted for?

In reply to another portion of the accusation, we say that the proofs of the second batch were mailed simultaneously from this office to our contemporaries, consisting of classes G to S inclusive, and did not break off in the middle of a name, as asserted by the Recorder. The Times had enterprise enough to get this part of the list in last week's issue; but its complaining cotemporary, with characteristic slowness, only succeeded in publishing it, in the daily edition, on the 4th inst.—exactly a week after the copy left this office. That the copy mailed to the Recorder might have failed to reach its destination, was a possible, although not probable, contingency; but the implied assertion that we deliberately went to the trouble of preparing an incorrect or incomplete proof for our venerable cotemporary, is too ridiculous for belief.

We assert again, emphatically, that the proofs of each batch of the list were pulled from the same galleys for sent from this office simultaneously, in ample time for them all to have published the list simultaneously with the Reporter—that is if the proprietors had any "push" about them.

Now for another part of the question, which we think ought to be made public. In former years, when no paper was published in Farmersville, the Recorder always asked for payment for publishing the prize list; but this year when it was known that the Reporter would publish it gratis, our cotem. displayed excessive willingness to do likewise. We mention this fact for the edification of the members of the Unionville Fair Association, and to show them the true inwardness of the motives influencing our cotemporary, which would now be engaged in billing the directors for printing the list, but for the action of the more enterprising journals of the county, who, with the Reporter, are glad to publish the prize list of so important an exhibition as the Unionville fair.
