THE CAUSE OF SUFFRAGETTES (Rochester Post Express) If women nowadays_were in a great demand for wives as their mothers were, the suffragist movement would be limited now as then to women of the convention-scorning feminist type. The women of to-day will not do housework except in her home, feeling that her liberty of to day will not do housework except in her home. feeling that her liberty of actory, or shop. Neither will working pris as a rule live in those hotels and boarding houses which offer them super-raceomodations and home comforts the lowest prices on condition that hey subject themselves to those restric-tions with which a prudent mother sur-wounds her daughters in their own home. We need _0 quarrel with this, for it is one of the things that are so, and we was there do a future to the pres-ent disquiet is that so many women are mow denied that freedom of joint-sover-signty in a home of there own to which they have a right to aspire. ## BIRDS FAR AT SEA

Ones Often Caught Rare Sailors. The ship's barber of the Atlantic line

Minnetonka has found a new and profitable pastime in catching wandering birds during the voyage across the At-lantic and selling them on his arrival in port. All sorts of birds come aboard at sea, he declared, and many of the rarer specimens find a ready sale. His chief assistant is a whistling brown linnet, which lures the wanderers aboard from its cage is an open port. When it whatles the vagrant fliers alight on the spip, and presently flutter inside. Then e port is closed and the strange birds the "I have caught hundreds of them, and

The doctrine of free tolls, of examption from tolls, is about the most impudent plea that has been put up in the last forty years. That is the real way to look at it on the merits of the question. It is complicated further by the express agreement we made with Great Britain when getting her out of the istinuus, that all nations should be treated alike with reference to the use of the canal. Nobody pretends that all mations are treated alike when our own are allowed to go free and others must pay the tolls. The interpretation of the treaty as meaning that all other nations but our owe, is what was meant, convinces no one who was not convinced in advance and who refuses to be converted. No sub idea was thought of when the treaty until lately in defence of the scheme of giving monopolists a free route over that expensive waterway for their bene-in evolution of the in edit over The doctrine of free tolls, of examption

In explanation of ex-President Eliot's refusal to acept the post of Ambassa-dor to the Court of St. James it is said that, as a man of simple taste and a delicate stomach accustomed to plain food, he viewed with apprehension the prospect of having to submit to the solid and imposing menus of English dinners. Much have been written condemnation of John Buff's cooking, his everlasting roast beef and limited variety of vege-tables, but this is probably the first time in history that it ever loomed up as formidable enough to deter a man from decenting a great diplomatic posi-tion. Still, no one can blame Dr. Eliot. #### WHERE AMERICA FAILS. (Philadelphia Record)

(Philadelphia Record) Fire insurance rates in the United Sates are ten times as high as in any European country except Russia; in fact, in some countries (Switzerland, for instance) the premiums are merely nominal. The rea-son is that the cost of insurance is pro-portionate to the risk. When the risk is small the premium is correspondingly so. The charges are high in the United States because our fire losses are enor-mous, relatively as well as actually. The probability of loss is the regulating fac-tor; and no keenness of competition among underwriters will bring down premiums while the factor remains ab-normally large. FOR PANAMA ARBITRATION. (Buffaio-Express)

(Buffalo-Express) There is no doubt that sentiment has changed much in the house on the toll question. It it has changed enough to support the President in a demand for the repeal of this exemption clause, the conflict will be even more interes-ing. But if Congress is not to amend the law as proposed, it should not put any obstacles in the way of arbitration. The British Government asks for arbit-ration if the toll-exemption clause is to stand, and we certainly should grant it, as there is very grave doubt as to wheth-er or not we have live up to the obliga-tions we assumed when the Hay-Paunce-fote treaty was signed.
