THERE IS NOW
A MASS OF PROOF

That Lumbago is Always Cured
by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Quebec Man Cured His Kidneys With Dodd's Kidney Pills, And His Lumbago Vanished.
Quebec, P. Q., March 19.—(Special.) —John Ball, a bricklayer, residing at 57 Little Champlain Street, this city, has added his statement to the great mass of proof that Lumbago is caused by disordered kidneys, and consequently easily cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Ball says:
"I was troubled with Lumbago for two years, I could not work. I had to get up at nights to urinate so often that my rest was broken. I read of cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills and made up my mind to try them.
After the first box I could see and feel a change. Three boxes cured me completely.
Lumbago, like Rheumatism, is caused by uric acid in the blood.
Uric acid cannot stay in the blood if the kidneys are working right.
Dodd's Kidney Pills make the Kidneys work right."

TIED OF LIFE; NONE TO BLAME.
Dying Message of Ontario Girl Who Suicides in Winnipeg.
Winnipeg, March 17.—Ida Dixon, a domestic, committed suicide early yesterday morning by taking carbolic acid.
A sheet of paper was found on the table in her room, on which was written the words "Tired of life; no one to blame."
The girl's parents reside at Barwick, Ont. It is said that she had been worried at not hearing from them for a couple of months. She resided with the Bunnell family for four years, and came with them from Toronto.
She bore a good reputation and was a regular church attendant.

HOW TO CURE TOOTHACHE.
Any aching tooth can be relieved instantly with Nerviline. Fill the cavity with batting dipped in Nerviline and rub the gums with Nerviline also. If the free is swollen and soothe the painful parts with Nerviline and cover with a flannel.
This can't fail because Nerviline kills the pain outright and prevents it from returning. Stronger, quicker, more satisfactory than any other liniment. Folsom's Nerviline has been the largest seller for nearly fifty years; try it yourself.

Rudder Shaft Was Broken.
Halifax, N. S., March 17.—The North German Lloyd steamer Konigin Luise, on passage from New York to Italy, put in here Thursday with her rudder shaft broken. She has 300 passengers.
The accident occurred in a tempestuous sea on Tuesday.

THOUSANDS DIE OF CONSTI-PATION.
No condition causes so many incurable diseases as constipation. It not only prevents the kidneys from eliminating the poisonous wastes, but causes anæmia, stomach trouble and indigestion. Why don't you use Dr.
Hamilton's Pills and get cured? This excellent medicine restores normal bowel action in one night. Thousands say so. Your system will be pure and clean, you'll be free from headaches, no more sour stomachs—in short, you'll have jovial spirits and perfect good health. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are sold everywhere; 25 cents a box. Get the genuine.

Refuses to Plead.
Boise, Idaho, March 17.—Harry Orchard, who is alleged to have confessed that he killed former Governor Steuernberg, Thursday refused to plead, and a plea of not guilty was entered by order of the court. No time was set for trial.

THOSE ANNOYING BLACKHEADS.
External applications will never remove pimples or blackheads. Only by stimulating circulation and purifying the blood can it be done. For quick, sure release from these pests use Ferreroze; it drives all humors from the blood, makes the skin healthy, tones up the system. With the pure, nutritious blood made by Ferroze it's impossible to suffer from any skin disease. You'll have a smooth, delightful skin, healthy color and beautiful complexion by using Ferreroze—and you'll feel immensely better as well. Fifty cents buys a box containing fifty chocolate coated tablets at any drug store.

Manslaughter.
Collingswood, March 17.—Coroner Mc-Paul's jury, after three hours consideration last evening, brought in a verdict of felonious wounding, or manslaughter, against Louis Bartelle. Evidence went to show that Lewis had killed Bartelle and provoked an encounter by slapping his face. The slab-bing was done while the two were grappling and no one saw the blow struck.
Bartelle will appear before the magistrate to-day.

WHAT CAUSES SNORING.
When asleep, people that snore breathe through the mouth instead of the nostrils, which are choked with catarrh. Just use "Catarrho-zone" before retiring and you'll quickly cure the snoring habit. By destroying the cause of catarrh and healing the membranes, Catarrho-zone makes a complete cure in every case; it cleans the nostrils, stops the discharge and prevents drooping in the throat in a few minutes. Nothing so pleasant or certain to cure snoring, catarrh or colds as Catarrho-zone—that's worth remembering.

It never occurs to fools that merit and also good fortune are closely united.

BLACK FRIDAY.

The Mad Scene in the Gold Room on That Fateful Occasion.
In the middle of the gold room was a small fountain. Around this the day's proceedings began, writes T. Hendrick in the American Magazine. Jay Gould's own brokers, pale, haggard, half dis-trusting and half ashamed of their work started the bids. Gold had closed the day previously at 144. Now a Gould broker offered 145 for $100,000 gold.
His only response were the curses and fist slappings of a bedraggled, perspiring crowd.
"One hundred and forty-six for $100, 000 gold."
Still there was no response.
"One hundred and forty-seven." Each advancing point meant millions in profits to Gould and likewise millions in losses to the community. At every advance the crowds, losing all reason, alternately roared and wept.
"One hundred and forty-eight."
"One hundred and forty-nine."
Above the pandemonium the monotonous voices of the Gould brokers could be heard, quietly, remorselessly putting up the price.
"One hundred and fifty."
"One hundred and fifty-one."
At this point the buying began. Hitherto the crowd had been held magically spellbound. The audacity of the Gould brokers had paralyzed all. Board brokers were particularly dazed. In face of the clique's demonstrated power no one seemed able to bid, even to make the feeblest attempt to check the terrible sale.
A few nervous merchants now, however, started to purchase. Soon the bidding degenerated into panic. Every one scrambled to get his gold now while the price, judged by what had already happened and the unquestioned power of the gang, seemed low.
All purchases, however, meant enormous losses.
Fortunes accumulated through years of self sacrificing toil were swept away in a moment. In their crazy men ran aimlessly about the room, moaning, screaming, vainly appealing for help.
Outside, where the crowds breathlessly waited for news, the same scenes were repeated. Hired men, unable to get into the building itself, pushed, cursed and fought. At each rise in the price the rage against Gould increased.
When the bid reached 150 there were cries of "Lynch! Lynch!" And meanwhile what was the plotter of all this mischief doing? He was selling gold. To whom was he selling?
To Fisk and all his own associates. He was the only man who really understood the situation—who knew, that is, upon what a flimsy basis his "corner" rested. He sent Fisk, Belden and Speyer into the gold room to advance the price ostensibly for the benefit of the clique, and when it had reached a certain point unloaded on his own account. He had sold largely, unknown to his confederates, the day before.

The Greatest of Rivers.
The Amazon is the king of streams.
From first to last it receives over 1,200 tributaries, of which more than 100 are large sized rivers and rise so far apart and have their floods and ebbs at such different seasons that the Amazon is at about the same height the year around.
At some points on its lower course one bank is invisible from the other. The beholders seem to be looking on a great yellow sea of fresh water. When discovered some tribes of Indians on the lower portion knew nothing of the existence of the opposite shore and did not believe that it existed, saying that "the great river flowed all around the world." Its mouth, including that of the Para, is 180 miles in width, and it is navigable for large sized ocean steamers for 1,000 miles from the sea, and so vast is the flood that the ocean is tinged yellow for 400 miles from the coast of Brazil.

The Achaean League.
The Achaean league was formed by the twelve towns of Achaia for mutual protection against foreign aggression. It was broken up by Alexander the Great, but reorganized B. C. 280 and again dissolved B. C. 147. The second of these leagues comprised all the leading cities of the Peloponnese and, indeed, most of the cities and states of Greece. It was this league which contended with the Romans for the independence of Greece; but, its troops being defeated by Metellus at Scarpheia and by Mummius near Corinth, the league was dissolved, and all Greece submitted to the Roman domination.

Tough Eating.
Those who have partaken of peacock declare that gorgeous bird to be decidedly tough eating, while it is said of the swan that the fact of its ever having been a familiar dish speaks highly in favor of ancient English cutlery.
Moreover, it should not be forgotten that when bostards' and boars' heads were as common as sirloins and saddles now are there were scarcely any vegetables to eat with them.

Why He Was Timid.
"Why do you avoid the man to whom I introduced you? He is very agreeable and interesting."
"I avoid meeting agreeable and interesting people," answered the mis-anthrope. "That was how I came to get my life insured in a bad company."

Proof.
"They tell me that Skinner has jostled the church. Do you believe he is in earnest?"
"He must be. I saw him put a dollar in the contribution box."

The Portuguese say no man make a good husband who doesn't eat a good breakfast.

WHOLESALE GROCERS' GUILD.

How Screws Were Put On to Bring a Firm into the Fold.
Hamilton, March 17.—How George Robertson & Sons of Kingston were brought into the fold would seem an appropriate verbal garment with which to clothe what was disclosed in yesterday's investigation of the conspiracy charges against the Dominion Wholesale Grocers' Guild. This firm was a most refractory one, it is shown, and for a long time hung out against the overtures of organization, preferring to sell and to buy as best suited them. They became a thorn in the guild's side, a thorn which caused a voluminous correspondence, and Crown Attorney Washington occupied nearly all the sitting in reading it.
Robertson & Sons finally "came into the fold," as more than one letter expressed it, but not until "the screws were put on," as Mr. Washington observed. The methods used to embarrass the firm's trade and to force them to "bend the knee" formed interesting evidence yesterday.

Business Concluded.

Albany, N. Y., March 17.—The hearings before the legislative insurance investigation committee on the bills proposed by it for the amendment of the insurance and other laws as the result of its investigation of life insurance methods and conditions, was concluded and finally adjourned at 2.30 yesterday afternoon. The proceedings of yesterday's session were comparatively dull and without sensational incident. The Senate insurance committee yesterday morning reported favorably Senator Brackett's bill repealing the famous "action 50" of the insurance law, which requires the participation, or at least the consent, of the Attorney-General in actions against insurance companies.

CHAMPION LINIMENT FOR RHEUlain's Pain Balm is the champion of all liniments. The past year I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism in my shoulder. After trying several cures the storekeeper here recommended this remedy and it completely cured me." There is no use of anyone suffering from that painful ailment when this liniment can be obtained for a small sum. One application gives prompt relief and its continual use for a short time will produce a permanent cure. For HANDLING BALKY HORSES.

Kindness and Firmness Needed to Break Bad Habits.

Concerning balky horses a correspondent of Rural New Yorker says: I have had some experience with almost all kinds of horses, and a balky horse I find the most provoking I have ever had in my possession.
Horses are so different in disposition that it takes a good horseman to understand just how to handle each animal. In my experience I find that the balky horse has been spoiled by a poor driver or by some one who did not understand how to handle that kind of animal, which is usually of a contrary nature. Like some men, they want their own way or no way at all.
I find it best to study the disposition of the horse, and if I see that he is a naturally contrary animal I try all the kindness possible and never lose my own temper. A good sound thrashing kind of animal, which with a natural will do sometimes, but with a naturally contrary horse I seldom use a whip, only to straighten him up, and then more in the stable than when he is hitched.

When you want him to stand over, tell him so with a firm "Get over," not a yell, but so he will know what you mean, or to back up in the stall.
Use him firmly so he will know that you mean what you say, and do not say too much. I use a good blacksnake whip because I can handle it the best.

If I cannot make him do what I want him to after several days' training, I take him on a good sod field—plenty of room—tie up his left front foot firmly with a good strap so that the foot is up to the body; then I put a good strap on the right foot. Just above the hoof and over his back; then I take a firm hold of the strap with the right hand and at the bit with the left hand, and I tell him to get up, and as he does so I pull up the foot; down he comes on both knees. Then is your time to stay by him. Don't let go. He will go down on his side if you stay by him long enough. Then get on his head quick and keep him there till he will lie quiet. Let him up; put him down again till you are sure he is under your control; then if you hitch him put no load behind him and put him with a good, true horse so he will learn how to go, but do not use the whip if possible, and in time with good firm usage you have a good horse.
The man who tries to break a balky horse would better break himself of losing his temper and gather up all the horse sense that he can find in his topknot, then be determined to break the horse or break himself of his bad habits if it takes him a year.

ORIGIN OF WEDDING CAKE.

Roman Maidens Carried Three Ears of Wheat to the Altar.

In ancient or Imperial Rome a maiden was wedded according to custom, she always carried three ears of wheat in her hand, while over her head was broken a simple cake of far and mola salsa as a presage of plenty and an ample abundance of the good things of life.

In this primitive custom, then, we see the germ from which grew the elaborate plum loaves and daintily berib-boned boxes of luscious richness that form so conspicuous a feature of our marriage feasts to-day.
The bride's wreath of an early English bride was likewise fashioned of bearded (and sometimes gilded) wheaten spikes, while on her return from church and other ceremonies were showered upon her and then carefully gathered up and consumed by the wedding guests. In this also we recognize a rude ancestor of a modern fashion—that of sending a newly married pair off in a small blizzard of hard, snowy rice.

In the course of time, however, the golden grain was ground and made into large, thin, dry biscuits, which were gayly shattered above the blushing maid's flowing locks and then distributed among the bystanders. To this day, too, in some portions of highland Scotland it is still customary for the best man and first bridesmaid to break an oatmeal cake over a young wife as she crosses the threshold of the first house entered after the marriage ceremony. This bannock is then partaken of by all the assembled friends and washed down with the Scotch whiskey in which the bride and groom and their respective clans—Lippincott's Buried Above Ground.

In the churchyard of the Little Mid-diesex village of Plinner there stands a monument quite distinct from all those which surround it. It consists of a tall, square pyramid, overgrown with ivy, through the middle of which projects a coffin made of stone. This monument was raised by a son to his parents, William and Agnes Loudon, as the inscription tells. They do not, however, tell why he chose to have his parents' remains poised in mid air in the stone shell, instead of being buried in the usual manner. It appears that his parents came into some money which was to be theirs "so long as their bodies were above the ground." When they died, therefore, in order that the money should not pass into other hands, their son "buried" them in this curious manner, and, despite the apparent injustice, his object was attained.

He Won the Bet.

He was sitting next to the driver on a London "bus, and the two got into a discussion as to whether or not a certain reverend-looking man in the "bus was the Archbishop of Canterbury.
Finally the man wagered a shilling, and the one who was free went inside to have the question decided. Approaching the passenger in respectful mien and with head uncovered, he asked, "Excuse me, but are you the Archbishop of Canterbury?" Whereupon the man addressed turned upon him with a snarl and said, "What the — is it to you whether I am or not?"
Withdrawing crestfallen, the man returned to the driver, gave him the shilling, and said, "You win; it's his Grace."

The Losing Side.

McBigger—Say, what is the reverse side of a coin anyway?
Thingumbob—It depends. If you call "heads," for instance, the reverse side is "tails," of course.

Conkling and Thurman.

Senator Roscoe Conkling was once addressing the senate in an impassioned manner and seemed to direct his remarks to Senator Thurman. At length the latter got irritated.

"Does the senator from New York," he roared, "expect me to answer him every time he turns to me?"

For a moment Mr. Conkling hesitated, and everybody expected a terrific explosion. Then, with an air of exquisite courtesy, he replied:

"When I speak of the law I turn to the senator from Ohio as the Muscu-lum turns toward Mecca. I turn to him as I do to the English common law as the world's most copious fountain of human jurisprudence."

The usually decorous senate broke into a storm of applause, and the Thurman eye moistened a little. The two statesmen were the best of friends and greatly enjoyed each other's society when "off duty."

the life blood circulating. That's sidered their sittings for the hearing of evidence regarding the causes of the great diminution of game fish and the best methods that should be adopted for protecting the same. Only one witness, Edward Harris, was examined, and he gave many reasons for the diminution and many suggestions as to the best way to protect the fish. Mr. Harris, who is about 80 years of age, has been an experienced fisherman for fifty years, and he said he firmly believed in Government ownership of these waters. A better patrol system, if Government ownership was not adopted, with a well paid inspector and efficient overseers, were considered by Mr. Harris the only other means of preserving the fish. The commission leave for
