Gossip and Comment

The Iberian stable attempted another killing at the Woodbine, with Protagonist, but failed. Protagonist was heavily backed at 15 to 20 to 1 and led in early stages, but died away. Willie Hammond, son of J. W. Hammond, of this city, had the mount.

Canada has its King's Plate run continuously for fifty years, but there is only one Derby, that of England, the greatest event in the turf world, that has been a prize of contention since 1783, and surely this year of grace comes as the best of it, when the race was actually won by the King's own horse, His Majesty's 3-year-old, and means "success," and, though by the shortest of heads, the royalty-owned thoroughbred proved the winner yesterday and Epsom Downs. W. Raphael's Louvier was second and Lord Michelham's William IV. was third.

The special number of the Canadian Sportsman issued recently is one of the finest of its kind that has come to our notice. The new management of this famous journal are certainly making it a fine paper and in return are meeting with the approval of horsemen generally. "Pop" Goode, the new editor, is more than making good.

President B. B. Johnson, of the American League, has devised a scheme whereby the National game will be faster. He has obtained a baseball which is springier and faster than the one now used and will distribute it to the clubs in his league. The teams will try out the ball in their practice, and if it is found satisfactory it will be used in all championship games.

The ball is much the same as that employed when Deleahanty first used to whack out 10 or 12 home runs during a game. In those times such a brief hit as a double was scored. It had to be a triple or a home run; nothing else went. If the ball stands the test the patrons of the American League will see an increase in batting.

From Woodstock Sentinel-Review: Among the most important sporting events ever held at Woodstock was the Queen's Plate, now the King's Plate, which was run here in 1875. Just a vestige of the old track may still be seen back of the C. P. R. depot on the river bank and immediately west of the isolation hospital. It was a course of which the people of this district were proud and many were the good races run over it.

Trumpeter, owned by Mr. Horton, of St. Thomas, won the race from a good field in the fifteenth Queen's Plate, which was run here about midsummer, 1875.

Woodstock horses have won the event on four different occasions. Five years after the plate was run here, John Forbes, of Woodstock, won the Queen's gold with "Bonnie Bird."

In three years Charles Boye, now one of the oldest and most esteemed turfmen in Canada, won with "Bobby Pringle," and in 1888, "Bos" Burgess prepared a colt named "Willie W" for the plate and succeeded in winning from a good field. "Fanny Wisner" which won the plate in 1882, was also bred here and raced under the name of "Mr. Abingdon."

JOHNSON AND KAUFMAN.

San Francisco, May 27.—It was learned yesterday that Champion Jack Johnson had declared his willingness to meet Al Kaufman in this city in July or August for $10,000, win or draw. Two local fight promoters, Lecari and Coffroth, have been in communication with Johnson and to both he made the same reply. They are endeavoring to bring Kaufman to terms and his manager Billy Delaney has promised an answer soon. It is expected that the match will be arranged within a few days.

Lecari wished to pull off the bout, July 8th, as a part of a big out of door sporting carnival.

Coffroth wants the August date, and the sporting fraternity is inclined to think he will get the match.

Italian Models in London.—In London," says Alma-Tadema in the May Strand, "a painter can obtain everything he wants in the way of models. Rome itself cannot produce more varying types of Italian models than are to be found here. There are those who say that my Greeks and Romans are too English in their appearance; but the difference between ancient and modern is not so great as we are apt to suppose. The old Romans were human flesh and blood like ourselves, moved by identical passions and emotions, and it is this truth that I have endeavored always to express in my pictures."

There is a fortune awaiting the inventor of a camera that will flatter.

SEISMIC'S HANDICAP.

Former Plate Winner Beat Lady Esther.

Good Races at Woodbine Yesterday.

Yesterday's Scores in the Big Leagues.

Toronto, May 27.—Stirring contests were in order at Woodbine yesterday. Four of the events furnished close finishes and in two of them the winner was in doubt until the official placing was displayed. Another brilliant assemblage gathered at the course, society being out in force.

Dress Parade's victory came only after a stirring contest and a gruelling stretch drive in which the McLaughlin colt just succeeded in getting up in time to beat Pulka out a nose at the post.

The Thorncliffe Purse, a handicap for hunters on the flat, proved to be very interesting. Eleven horses faced the starter. This is probably the high-water mark for a race of this kind here.

The winner turned up in Courtland Smith's Virginia horse, Lounny, splendidly ridden by the owner, Tournay was in front all the way, and won by two lengths from the Hon. Adam Beck's Elmhurst.

Gordon Henderson's Thomond, with the owner in the saddle, improved his position steadily till the stretch was reached, where his heavy impost began to tell.

Alan Case had the misfortune to fall from Sweetner, but escaped without injuries.

Seismic, J. E. Seagram's Plate winner of last year, triumphed over a good field of horses in the Leamington Handicap.

The stable companion, Throckmorton, was withdrawn, and Seismic alone bore the black and yellow. Lady Esther, the winner of the last race on the opening day, was the pacemaker. Musgrave was alert at the post, and took her right to the front till the stretch was reached.

Here she was passed by the winner, who had been in second place. Terah closed a good-sized gap in the last quarter, and ran a nice race.

Martin Doyle, winner of many races at Woodbine, was beaten off, and is a long way from his best form.

WOODBINE NOTES.
Yesterday was Derby Day at Woodbine as well as at Epsom, and not even on the great downs of Surrey, in the royal presence and on the actual scene of the outbreak of enthusiasm or a more devoted demonstration of loyalty to the fortunes of a good sportsman than when the announcement was made to the Woodbine visitors. Secretary W. P. Fraser, by request of the Governor-General, was the official herald, and a great burst of cheering followed. The Queen's Own Band played and the crowd sang "God Save the King" with real and earnest feeling. The outbreak was renewed when the Royal Standard was run up to the masthead and the great banner of England's King streamed out in all its brilliancy in the strong east wind, making a picture of wonderful beauty against the background of the unsifted sea of Lake Ontario. Never before was there such a scene as on yesterday on this continent, and every man, woman and child will treasure it as something like the like of which no man now living may ever see repeated.

The congratulations of the Ontario Jockey Club were called immediately on receipt of the news of the result. Mr. Seagram, the president of the Ontario Jockey Club and of the Canadian Racing

ALL ABOUT THE DERBY

King's Victory Was Very Popular.

English Newspaper Comment on Race.

Yankees Lost $200,000 on Sir Martin.

Epsom, May 27.—King Edward's brown colt Minoru yesterday justified his name, which is Japanese for "success," by winning the Derby, which will be remembered always in the annals of Epsom as one of the finest races ever run on that historic track. W. Raphael's Louvier, with France's star jockey Stern on his back, came under the wire so close an attendant upon Minoru that the spectators were undecided which led until the King's number was displayed on the blackboard.

Lord Michelham's William the Fourth was a good third, and half a dozen of the fifteen starters well bunched behind. But one horse was soon following the field riderless. It was the American-bred colt, Sir Martin, which everyone had reckoned as Minoru's foremost rival. He had been crowded out of his stride just beyond the Tattenham corner about the middle of the course. Jockey J. H. Martin shot over his mount's head to the ground, as Sir Martin stumbled, and with him fell the hopes of hundreds of confident American onlookers, and many thousands of American dollars were lost. To Englishmen, even those who had staked their money on some other horse, the King's success was inspiring, as a victory in a great international contest, and compensated for the rain which drove across the field, making a wallow of mud underfoot. On every side it had been asked whether, if he won, his Majesty would consider it compatible with his exalted position to lead his horse from the track, as the winning owners have done for more than a century. There was no precedent for this, because no King before had ever won the Derby. King Edward, however, with the Prince of Wales following him, lived up to the custom, and in the minds of Englishmen clinched his claims to the title of a thoroughbred sportsman.

Only the accident to Sir Martin and the rain marred the day's sport. Electric Bay apparently was the horse that crowded the American colt, which at the time was well up to the fore and running strongly. Louis Winans, his owner, said to-night that it was a regrettable accident, but nothing more. To many Americans at the race track and on both sides of the Atlantic it will seem a calamity, judging from the amount of money, which some estimate at $200,000, that was up on the Kentucky-bred colt. This large amount placed on Sir Martin sent his price to 3 to 1 and made him a nominal favorite for a time.

At the time of the accident Brookland was leading with Louviers close up and Sir Martin, Minoru, Mayavado and Calens forming the second flight. Jockey Martin was badly dazed from the fall and his forehead was bleeding from a cut where the hoof of one of the other horses had grazed him, but the physicians who examined him said he would be all right in a day or two.

ENGLAND'S LOYAL PRESS.
London, May 27.—The winning of the Derby by King Edward is a theme of boundless pleasure and enthusiasm, and it is a long time since the morning newspapers have devoted so much space to this popular race.

"We hope," says the Daily Telegraph, "that the royal family of England will long continue to identify themselves, as King Edward so long has done, with the national sports and recreation of the English people. The turf is still the sport of Kings, and the English turf a splendid, historical institution, well deserving of the patronage and support of the highest in the land."

The other newspapers are similarly loyal in expressions of congratulations and satisfaction over the victory for King Edward. Sporting Life says: "What would have happened if no mishap had attended Sir Martin can only be a matter of conjecture, but certainly the interest of the exciting finish would have been heightened, for there is no question that the American colt was going wonderfully well up to the time of the disaster."

The Sportsman has this to say: "It was a most unfortunate occurrence, for, according to the accounts of several of the competing jockeys, Sir Martin was pulling double, and going better than anything, in fact, looking all over a winner."

YANKEES LOST $200,000.
New York, May 27.—Racing men and the general public at large received the news to-day that Sir Martin, the American-bred horse, and second choice in the betting, had fallen in the running of the English Derby, and thus lost all chance of capturing the honors of the blue ribbon of the turf with the keenest disappointment.

Estimates were made to-day that about $200,000 was lost to the English bookmakers by Americans, who sent their commisaires abroad to be wagered on the Ogden colt.

All last night, and even early to-day, wagers were sent from horsemen to London to be placed on Sir Martin at the prevailing odds.

SOME DERBY FACTS.
The Derby has been five times won by two twin brothers. The instance of Persimmon and Diamond Jubilee is, of course, well known; in 1826 and 1831 course, well known; in 1826 and 1831 two sons of Whalebone and a mare by Canopus were successful. These were Lap Dog and Spaniel, and, oddly enough, each started at the long price of 50 to 1.

The oldest jockey to win the Derby was Forth; the Yorkshireer who was on the back of Mr. Gratwick, Frederick when that colt won in 1829. He was then nearly 62 years of age. Forth also trained the second that year—a grey colt, called The Exquisite, who was ridden by Buckle.

The youngest jockey to ride successfully in the blue ribbon of the turf was Macdonald, who won on the outsider, Little Wonder, in 1840. The child—for he was little more—was presented to Queen Victoria and the Prince Consort after the race, and the former gave him a gold-mounted riding whip and praised his horsemanship.

RECENT DERBY HISTORY.
Yesterday is the first occasion in which King Edward has won the Derby since he ascended the throne. Twice he won the great race as Prince of Wales, in 1866 with Persimmon, and in 1900 with Diamond Jubilee, full brothers, and bred at his own farm. Here is the history of the classic race since 1804.
