

THE IRISH STATE TRIALS.

The jury fall to agree, and are discharged.

In the Dublin State trials on Tuesday, Judge Fitzgerald concluded his charge to the jury, strongly condemning the conduct of the Land League leaders. The jury retired, but failed to agree, and were discharged. The result was received with immense enthusiasm by the crowd on the street, who during the day almost worshipped Mr. Parnell in his passage to and from the Court.

Judge Fitzgerald, in summing up, was specially severe on the violence of the leading members and paid agents of the Land League. If the jury, he said, found all the charges not made out, it would be their duty to acquit the traversers. If, on the other hand, they found the charges brought home to one of the traversers, all according to law, were equally guilty. In connection with this point he told the jury that it was for the court to lay down the law, which if wrong, could be amended elsewhere. MacDonagh contended that the Judge should not have mentioned this power of appeal to the jury. The jury did not return into Court until sent for by the Judge at five o'clock. The foreman then said they had not agreed, nor were they likely to agree.

Judge Fitzgerald, in concluding his charge to the jury, asked them to perform their duty with the courage springing from a desire to act conscientiously without fear or favor. Replying to MacDonagh, of counsel for the traversers, he admitted that if his directions to the jury were wrong in point of law he would be put right by an appeal to the Supreme Court. MacDonagh began an argument, quoting authorities. Powell entered the Court, and was loudly cheered by the gallery. There was great excitement in the Court.

The jury were discharged at 7:45 o'clock, the foreman stating that it was utterly impossible they could agree. A juror had previously stated they were ten to two, but the Judge said he could only receive a unanimous verdict. Great excitement prevailed, which was heightened when the Judge said after the exhibition of Tuesday in the Court, he could not expect that there would be a free, unanimous verdict. An immense crowd were cheering outside the Court House. As soon as the result of the State trials was known in Dungarvin, the town was brilliantly illuminated. Bands paraded, and the traversers' names were cheered. The surrounding hills were ablaze for twenty miles. A mob of 400 persons groaned and hissed before the house of one of the jurors, supposed to have favored a conviction.

CHARLIE ROSS FOUND.

An Aldborough Farmer Traces His Son Through Canada.

Charlie Ross has been found once more. A farmer residing in the township of Aldborough, named Peter B. McCallum, came to St. Thomas on Monday and reported to the Chief of Police that he had succeeded in finding Charlie Ross, after tracing him for several months. McCallum states he has indisputable evidence that he has the child. He traced Charlie from Suspension Bridge to Tuscarora, where he has resided for some time among the Indians. The boy was left there by a white man, or woman, who stated they would have to kill the boy unless the Indians adopted him, as they were compelled to get rid of him. McCallum claims to have possession of the clothes which Charlie wore when he was stolen, and those which he wore when left with the Tuscaroras. The alleged discoverer furthermore states that he has had correspondence with Mr. Ross, which establishes the child's identity beyond peradventure, and offers to pay the expenses of the child to Philadelphia.

Mr. McCallum received a telegram from Mr. Ross, Philadelphia, last Monday morning, desiring him to hurry home with the boy, and all expenses would be paid. There is great excitement in the village regarding the affair.

Hanlan and Ross, challenge to row a double-screw race against any two men in the world for as much as $5,000 a side, has been accepted in an unexpected quarter. On January 15 M. F. Davis and John A. Kennedy, of Portland, Me., sent $1,000 to The Boston Herald, with an acceptance, in which they propose to row for $3,000 a side, and will allow the challengers $500 for the privilege of naming the course.

A one hundred mile skating race for the title of champion of America, at that distance, a belt worth $200, and a sweep stake worth $100 each, will take place at the quarter mile track of the Manhattan Polo Association in New York on February 12th. John Ennis has already entered, and it is expected that C. St. Clair Millard and Rudolph Goetz, both celebrated Western skaters, as well as Canadian experts and Eastern professionals, will send in their names.

A brakeman on the Intercolonial Railway, named George Terry, stopped between two cars at Norton, N. B., on Monday, and before striking the track his clothes caught and held him, his legs dangling on the ground. His right arm was pulled from the socket by the continued revolution of the wheels. He at last freed himself, and in walking back to Norton his feet and other arm were frozen. His cries brought assistance, and he was taken to the station.

A lawsuit has just been brought in Paris against the heirs of the Due de Monty by M. Fournier, formerly his Secretary, at the last hearing of which papers were produced and read, clearly proving that the disastrous Mexican expedition grew entirely out of the Jucker affair. Jucker, a citizen of Switzerland, long a resident of Mexico, advanced considerable sums to the bogus Government's generals, Zalazaga and Miramon. Jucker wanted the Liberal Government, upon its establishment in 1860, to pay the debts contracted by its enemies during three years of war. President Juarez could not be convinced of the justice of Jucker's claim; whereupon this individual became a French subject, made out a bill of $15,000,000, and succeeded in getting De Morny and the Princess Clothilde to become his agents at the French Court. His claim was finally paid at the instance of Maxi-
