

A Progressive Business Man.

Mr. P. F. Collins, though not long in business, has shown himself to be possessed of the most progressive ideas and his energy and enterprise are worthy of all praise. He has built up for himself an excellent business on Water Street, a business which has increased so rapidly that of late he found that his present premises was too small. He has now acquired all the block on Water St. where he is located with the exception of that portion in which Lawrence & Co. do business. Mr. Collins will therefore have a frontage of 40 feet and will put in a new plan glass front and otherwise embellish the property, which will be commodious and up to date in every respect. He deserves the success he has acquired.

A Pleasant Event.

The employees of the Reid N.M. Co. machine shops to the number of 60, with their sweethearts and wives, had a most enjoyable tea and dance at Smithville last night. The music was furnished by Prof. Bennett's full orchestra and an excellent programme of dances were gone through. A sumptuous tea was served in a style which did credit to Mr. L. Furlong, the proprietor of the hostelry, and after tea excellent speeches were made and songs contributed. Mr. Turnbull, the superintendent of the shops, with his estimable wife were honored guests at the reunion, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

Leaves This Evening.

Mr. Bohana, who was here looking after his sleeping wife, leaves by this evening's train for St. John, N.B. He has taken a boarding house in the city for his wife, who will arrive here by the Fortin. She leaves by the Bruce express Sunday evening for St. John, where she will join her husband. They have agreed to forget the past and will re-establish their home in the New Brunswick capital.

Food That Makes It a Pleasure. "I have a large amount of laborious brain-fatiguing work to do," writes a young lady from Richmond, Va. "After returning from the office, I have found myself so completely exhausted that I was unable to engage in any recreation or amusement. "I tried several expensive tonics without effect, and finally noticing an advertisement of Grape-Nuts as a food recommended to brain workers, I purchased a package and tried it. "I found it extremely palatable, and after a week's use two meals of it a day I noticed a general improvement in my condition. The feeling of extreme exhaustion was growing less, and strength visibly increased. "I began to put on flesh, and felt ready to enter into amusements of the other members of the family, and now after using the food for eleven months I am like a new person. I do not have the sensation of fatigue; my brain is clear; my sight, skin, hair and healthy and my muscles have strengthened to a marked degree. "I am now able to walk from the office home, a distance of 3 1/2 miles up one of the steepest hills, for which our city is famous, and to engage in any amusements that may come in my way. "I am also using Postum with excellent results. My sister-in-law, who lives in Norwalk, Conn., writes me that she uses it also, and has not suffered from the distressing sick headaches she formerly had. "Read 'The Road to Wellville,' found in pkgs. 'There's a Reason.' "Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest. Japanese Plot.

A sensation has been aroused by the publication of the alleged details of a plot among his own subjects to assassinate the Emperor Mutsu Hiro. The plotters, who are now under arrest, will certainly be sentenced to death after trials before a special secret court. This, if not the first time in the history of Japan that the life of her Sovereign has been plotted against by his own people, is the first occasion on which the fact has been made known.

It is understood that a most rigorous censorship has prevented the public from as much as a hint of the conspiracy until the evening, when the Hochi Shimbun assumed responsibility for the alarming announcement. The paper's assertions are not without a show of authority. There are now in jail in this city a number of persons who are alleged to be active in the allied socialist movement, and those who may be considered responsible state, as does the discovery of a conspiracy followed the Hochi Shimbun, the arrests against the Throne. According to the paper, the assassins planned to accomplish their end while the Emperor was visiting the Military School just outside the Capital. The plot was discovered in time to protect His Majesty and the plotters were seized.

Maxim Gives Up.

Special Evening Telegram. LONDON, Sept. 21. Sir Hiram Maxim, after devoting years to the construction of a biplane, which has been described as the Pullman of the air, to-day announced that he had abandoned his experiments with aerial machinery, influenced by his advanced age and the difficulty of competing successfully with French inventors and builders. Sir Hiram is 70 years of age. He has long shown an interest in flying and has encouraged every effort in that direction. His own model was to have been exhibited soon, and great hopes of its success had been entertained. A novel feature was the employment of three screws designed to lessen the waste in power unavoidable in the French aeroplanes of the small single screw type.

"Accessory After the Fact."

Special to the Evening Telegram. LONDON, Sept. 21. Dr. Crippen and his typist were formally committed for trial for the murder of Crippen's former wife, Cora Belle Crippen, the American actress, who was known on the stage as Belle Elmore. The doctor is charged as the principal and his companion as an accessory after the fact. For some time the Magistrate in the Bow Street Police Court has been hearing the evidence offered by the Crown, and at the conclusion to-day announced that he would hold Crippen on the capital charge, and without expressing an opinion on the evidence against Miss Le Neve, added that it was sufficient for him to commit her for trial as accessory after the fact.

Irish Delegation to Washington.

Special to Evening Telegram: SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 21. A distinguished delegation of Irishmen embarked on the steamer Oceanic to-day for New York. The mission of the members is to interview the officials at Washington on the question of inducing the Cunard Line to continue Queenstown as a port of call for its larger mail steamers. The number include the Lord Mayor of Dublin and the Presidents of the Chambers of Commerce of Dublin and Belfast, the Town Clerk of Queens-town, Sir Ed. Fitzgerald, Lord Mayor of Cork and Sir James Long, also of Cork.

Historic English Castle.

Longleat Castle, which is said to be the first well built house in England, was erected by Sir John Thynne, and its construction occupied twelve years, from January 1567, until 1579. The first royal visitor to Sir John's noble mansion was Queen Elizabeth, and the story runs that the owner was not very anxious for his sovereign to see his home, as she might ask him where he obtained the money to build so stately a house. Sir John Thynne, who was knighted after the battle of Pinkie, was the factotum of the Protector Somerset, and it is said that he built Longleat from designs prepared by his fallen master for a house of his own.

Crippen and LeNeve Committed for Trial.

(Daily News.) LONDON, Sept. 21. Clara LeNeve was hooted and jeered at by a crowd of men and women that awaited her arrival at the court room to-day. A crowd of women followed the cab occupied by the accused girl through the streets, yelling their opinions of the typist as they chased her along. When the vehicle stopped in front of the court building the crowd that filled the thoroughfare hooted derisively. Miss LeNeve held an open umbrella before her face and was fairly successful in escaping observation, as the police made a way for her. The financial affairs of the Crippens were gone into to-day in line with the prosecutor's opening assertion that the doctor, at the time of Belle Elmore's disappearance, was pressed for funds, and that the death of the woman was to the monetary advantage of her husband. At the close of the proceedings both Crippen and LeNeve were committed for trial, charged with the murder of the doctor's wife. Solicitor Newton reserved his defence for the trial proper.

Stricken With Paralysis Yesterday

We regret to learn that Mr. Jas. Moore, master cooper and storekeeper at Franklin & Co's. premises, was stricken suddenly with paralysis yesterday morning and has since been dangerously ill and being attended by a medical man. The attack came at his residence while Mr. Moore was preparing to take up the day's duties. His case is a sad verification of the adage that troubles never come alone. Only yesterday at noon his brother, the late Robert Moore, died after a lingering and painful illness, and the prostration of the surviving brother caused added grief to the members of the family. The many friends of Mr. Moore in the city will learn of his indisposition with regret.

Weasels Infest Suburbs

During the past week farmers and others living in the suburbs have noticed that weasels infest the country. In Freshwater and around the Sand Pits they have appeared in large numbers and have played havoc with poultry, killing hens, chicken and ducks, while not hesitating to attack turkeys and geese. The same applies to Pennywell and Merymeeting Roads, and daily boys chase and kill all they can of these destructive little animals.

One Dose Makes Indigestion Go.

Heartburn, Gas, Headache and other stomach misery vanishes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, burp or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something to stop food fermentation and cure indigestion.

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your Stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas, which sours your entire meal—interferes with digestion and causes so many sufferers of Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any Pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking a single dose that Permentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of Indigestion. No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use. Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out-of-order Stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.

To Explore Labrador.

The unknown regions west of Lake Temascamie in southwest Labrador will be explored by a party of Middlebury college professors which has just started on its long trip. The party, which is known as the McFarland expedition, consists of Professors Raymond and Phelps Nash Sweet. The first stage of the journey by rail via Montreal to Roberval, Lake St. John, in northern Quebec. There two canoes, guides and food supplies for six weeks will be obtained. Entering the canoes the party will proceed northward by the Chamouchuan River 225 miles to Lake Mistassini, thence northeast about 150 miles to Lake Temascamie. A full scientific equipment was taken along, and the hitherto unexplored regions will be examined carefully. When this work is completed the return to Lake St. John will be attempted by the Peribonka river, which is about 350 miles in length from its source to the lake.

Good Labrador Fare.

Skipper W. Dawe, of Bay Roberts, is a fortunate man this past summer. He fished north of Cape Muford and secured 700 qts. About three weeks ago he had only 450 qts. secured, but since that had a very good sport and secured 250 qts. more. He is a young and energetic man who rarely misses killing a voyage of fish, and this year, despite the scarcity of cod, has upheld his record.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES COLDS, Etc.

Exit Appendicitis.

(20th Century Magazine.) The following from Ellingwood's Therapeutist for June of this year, is of general interest and affords an admirable illustration of the empirical character of medical practice, even in its most scientific department—that of surgery.

"Now it happens that the appendix is not to blame at all. That all the fuss and flourish that has been made in the last twenty years as to the cause and offense of the vermiform appendix as the seat of such serious disease has been entirely unfounded and that the colon alone is to blame for all the trouble." Metchnikoff has contended for some time, and his articles have been widely published, that the difficulty lies in the colon in every case, and now McEwen of the university of Edinburgh has set his face hard and fast against appendectomy, holding that this organ is absolutely inoffensive and is most useful in pouring its lubricating and digestive secretions into the colon, and by this act preventing inflammation of this larger gut. Fatal to this most prolific source of late, surgical fees will be the theory, when it is accepted by the medical fraternity.

"So convinced was Metchnikoff of the correctness of his idea that he advocated removal of the colon as a means of prolonging life. Sir Henry Burdette, an eminent English surgeon, claims that the tendency at the present time is to put the knife into everybody on the smallest possible pretext.

"And now comes Dr. Page of Boston in the Medical Times, and makes a very strong plea against operations on the appendix at all, claiming in the light of the above statements and his own experience, that it is just as justifiable to cut off the little toe for a case of inflammation in the calf of the leg; that the name appendicitis is a false name, given to an inflammation of a part of the colon, and that by the simplest measures—these inflammations are readily reduced."

Tattooed by Lightning.

Two men named Caspian and Smith were killed by lightning and another badly injured at Linton, England. The men, who were fishing, took shelter from the storm under a larch bush, when they were struck by a flash of lightning. Two were killed instantly, and the third was much burned, but was breathing, and was revived with the aid of artificial respiration. The men killed were marked on the bodies with the exact representation of the bush, and a boy with them had imprinted on his back a representation of a tree near by. He was uninjured except for shock.

Chinese Children Are Happier.

In "The Streets of China," described in the English Illustrated, the writer declares that:— Children on the whole, however, look happy in China, happier than their peers in the Western world. They are everywhere to be seen playing and working, mudpie-making, bricklaying, sowing—if they are girls—and generally imitating their parents without fear of being driven away by angry scolding, as might happen elsewhere. If the child is very young, in summer time he may go about entirely unclad, and I have seen a sewing woman sitting in a lane at work while her little boy rolled on the ground naked and cheerful, his stomach calmly distended with the meal of steamed rice which had just been administered to him. No children are more fascinating than those of China, if once they can be persuaded to shake off their terror of the European.

Cooked Their Own Grub

There was no kitchen Committee at the House of Commons in the days when Pitt was Premier. Members of those times used to buy a chop or steak on their way to the House, and cook it for themselves over a big fire in Westminster Hall. Members who were averse to strong meats went to the House with their pockets stuffed full of oranges and nuts, which they sucked and cracked during the debate.

The local Conductor Howlett, arrived at 9.35 last night bringing Miss Horwood, Rev. J. St. John, Hugh Fraser, Mr. O'Neill, F. Winsor, Mr. Berteau and bride and 30 others.
