Nickel Steel Yacht to Bear Canada's Flag.

Sydney, Sept. 29.—Canada's chance to compete for the America's Cup under conditions calling for a seaway boat that will be equally at home in rough and calm weather are exceedingly bright. This is the message that Alexander C. Ross, of the Royal Cape Breton Yacht Club, and originator of the idea of a Canadian challenger, brings back from New York, after conference with the members of the New York Yacht Club.

Tentative plans have been drawn for the proposed challenger, which will be built of nickel steel to give it lightness and strength. These plans provide for no top-heavy rigging, and no sacrifice to be made for speed, which it is designed to attain by construction. The schooner type of lines will predominate.

Mr. Ross is registered at the Chateau Laurier, and will be in Ottawa for several days attending to details in connection with the proposal to challenge in 1921 with a boat that will be named the "Maple Leaf," and which will be manned by Canadian fishermen, and built from funds raised by public subscription.

Answered!

The usual crowd of loungers was standing around watching the process of excavation for the new building. As the great steam shovel bit into the bank and then rose with its half carload of earth, one of the on-lookers remarked: "It makes me wild, looking at that thing taking the bread out of good men's mouths. Why, its filling up those wagons faster than a hundred men with picks and shovels could do it. 'Shucks!' exclaimed another onlooker. 'What kind of a fool argument is that? If it would be better to employ a hundred men with picks and shovels, why wouldn't it be better still, by your way of thinking, to employ a thousand men with forks and teaspoons?'"—Boston Transcript.
