Whitbourne Notes.

The new station erected here about a year ago, is now completed. Messrs. Saunders & Howell, of Carleton Place, were the contractors for the building of the station. The building is modelled on the plan of the Brigus Junction, we understand. Mr. Ash, electrician, was here last week to install the telegraphic apparatus. Mr. Penny, of the Reid Co. acted as surveyor and overseer of the building operations. The Station Agent, Mr. E. Tipple and family, moved into the residential part on the 28th Nov. The old building is now being torn down, the north end, however, is to be repaired and painted and put in order for a residence for the foreman of the railway, Mr. Levi Sharpe and his family.

After a nice mild spell, the weather has now become wintry, and skating is being enjoyed by some of the most venturesome boys and girls, though the ponds are scarcely safe.

Whitbourne had the pleasure of a visit from the Rev. Canon Smart, R. D., early in November. The Canon being on his way home from his tour of Trinity Bay, remained over for a Magic Lantern Exhibition and lectures on China, on Friday evening, 3rd inst. The said lecture was given in the Anglican school building. Canon Smart's lectures are too well and favourably known for comment. Suffice it to say that China is now much better known at Whitbourne. The splendid lantern slides gave much pleasure and amusement. It was to be regretted that the seating capacity of the building could not accommodate all who sought admittance. A tiny little sum was, however, gathered in for the "Queen's College Canon Smith Studentship." The Canon was a guest at the Parsonage during his stay.

Rev. Mr. Bugden, Deacon (late of Queen's College), arrived here on the 24th, leaving by the Heart's Content train on the 25th for New Perlican and Winterton, he being appointed to that parish. We wish him good luck in his new sphere of work.

Mr. and Mrs. Peyton and family of Norris Arm, arrived here on the 27th and are now occupying part of the Methodist Parsonage.

Dr. O'Connell, of Placentia, was here visiting some of the sick folk on Thursday, 30th ult.

Mrs. Elliot Noseworthy, who has been very poorly for many weeks past, is, we are glad to learn, somewhat improved in health of late.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke, of Heart's Desire, are making their home with Mrs. Noseworthy during the winter months.

Rev. C. Jeffery left by Saturday afternoon's train for Placentia, where Advent Sunday was spent, returning to Whitbourne Monday.

Miss Beatrice Sharpe, left by this morning's train for town, where she will spend a couple of weeks.

Just Folks.

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

THE LEAK.
Hearing the thunder of a lake,
Which always the rushing waters make
I watched the waves come in and break.

Like men with silver in their hair,
Who lived their time and breathed
care,
They came to shore and vanished there.

Oh, they had travelled far and been
Through troubles, days, and days serene,
Much they have known and much they'd seen.

Gray-beards, they seemed, of many years,
Wise men in laughter and in tears,
Ending their turbulent careers.

And then at last they reached the shore,
And with one glad, exultant roar,
Found rest and peace forevermore.

Wave followed wave, the great and small,
Even the giants, towering tall,
Sharing the common fate of all.

Waves of the Sea of Life are we,
Journeying shorewards constantly
Where we shall find eternity.

Oh, man of might—oh, giant mind,
Reaching the port that all will find,
Would you could turn to look behind!

If you could stay to look upon
The sea of which your life has gone
You'd see the millions rushing on.

Millions, like waves upon the lake,
Seeking the shore, at last to break
Where worldly pomp no difference make.

Home come the others one by one,
Fading the grave's oblivion,
But always Life keeps thundering on.

The Seven Wonders of The World.

There are three distinct sets of wonders—ancient, mediæval and modern.

The ancient wonders were generally accepted to be:

1. The Pyramids, some 75 in number, really built as the tombs of the Kings of Egypt.
2. The Hanging Gardens of Babylon. These were really artificial hills laid out in a series of huge terraces, the topmost 300 feet high, and the plants and turf on them were watered by an elaborate system of artificial rivers.
3. The Mausoleum, a gigantic tomb 140 feet high, erected to King Mausolus by his widow.
4. The Colossus of Rhodes, a huge brazen image of an ancient god. The statue, about 100 feet high, stood astride two towers on either side of a harbour, so that ships entering passed between its legs.
5. The "Pharos," or Lighthouse of Alexandria, 500 feet high.
6. The famous statue of Jupiter, all covered with ivory and gold.
7. The Temple of Diana at Ephesus, the largest and most venerated "church" of the old pagan world.

In imitation of this list, scholars have compiled other lists. The Seven wonders of the Mediæval World were supposed to be:

1. St. Sophia's Church at Constantinople, the Porcelain Tower at Nankein in China, the Leaning Tower in Pisa, the Great Wall of China, the Catacombs, Stonehenge, and the Coliseum of Rome.
- Modern wonders have been catalogued as Cologne Cathedral, the Liberty Statue in New York Harbour, the Panama Canal, St. Gothard Tunnel, Quebec Bridge, Assouan Dam on the Nile, and the monster telescope at the Lick Observatory in U.S.A.

Caught Out.

A member of a School Board called one day to visit the school, and the teacher requested him to ask the geography class a few questions, which he promptly proceeded to do.

"What is the axis of the earth?" was the first question.

"An imaginary line passing from one pole to the other, on which the earth revolves," proudly answered a pupil.

"Yes," said the director, well pleased. "And could you hang your hat on it?"

"Yes, sir," was the quick response. "Indeed! What kind of a hat?" questioned the director, somewhat surprised at the answer.

"An imaginary hat, sir."

The director asked no more questions that day.

Oero Tennis Club.

STAGE BIG MINISTREL SHOW.

On Thursday last, Nov. 30th, a troupe composed of twenty-two members of the Aero Tennis Club, staged a Minstrel Show, in the Academy Hall which was a great success, financially as well as otherwise. On entering the hall and being greeted by the ushers, who appeared in blackened faces and fancy costumes—the ladies with their bright colors and the gentlemen attired in gala dress—the merriment began and continued all through the evening. Messrs. H. D. Archibald and L. Chafe were end men, and they indeed kept the laughter at a high pitch, between the various items. Mr. W. J. Mylius, filled the role of Mr. Johnson, Master of Ceremonies, in good style, and Mrs. C. L. Kennedy presided at the piano in her usual able manner. During the interval, candy was sold, and the proceeds for the evening amounted to $21.35. The Aero Club are desirous of raising funds in order to purchase tennis grounds and will, no doubt, put off other concerts later on, as a means to reach their objective. Their next effort, it is expected, will be in the nature of a Play, to be staged during the winter. The following was the programme rendered:

1. Medley—Plantation Airs—led with "Old Black Joe," L. A. Whitman.
2. Solo—"Coal Black Mammy," E. L. Oke.
3. Solo—"When the Ships come Home," Miss Carmel Casey.
4. Solo and Quartette—"Old Folks at Home," Mrs. W. L. Ross; Misses M. Chafe, C. Casey; Messrs. W. J. Mylius and L. A. Whitman.
5. Solo—"Georgette," Miss Gertrude O'Brien.
6. Mock Dance—W. J. Mylius.

INTERVAL.

7. Solo—"Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground"—E. D. Freeman.
8. Solo—"Tuck Me to Sleep"—Miss L. Joy.

9. Medley—Plantation Airs—led by "Carry me back to Old Virginia"—W. M. O'Connor.

10. Dance—Mrs. N. Davis, Miss C. Casey.

11. Sketch—"The Old Parson." CHARACTERS.

The old parson, a man of peace—H. D. Archibald.

Mr. Williams, a mediator—W. J. Hayes.

Jackson Doolittle, the bridegroom—L. Chafe.

Araminta Barnrake, the bride—Miss Jessie Sheppard.

Mrs. Barnrake, her mother—Mrs. N. Davis.

Topsey, always in trouble—Miss Gertrude O'Brien.

Chorus—Messdames H. H. Archibald, H. D. Archibald, C. Cron, N. Davis, W. J. Mylius, W. L. Ross; Misses C. Casey, M. Chafe, G. O'Brien, S. B. Hayes, J. Sheppard, G. Parsons, L. Joy and Messrs. L. Chafe, W. Hayes, W. M. O'Connor, J. E. Furneaux, W. J. Mylius, E. L. Oke, E. D. Freeman, L. A. Whitman, H. D. Archibald; Ushers, Mrs. L. A. Whitman, Misses R. G. Archibald; Messrs. W. L. Ross, B. Davis, J. LeDrew.

GOD SAVE THE KING.
Dancing was indulged in after the performance. CORRESPONDENT.

Household Notes.

Every busy housewife should try to snatch an hour in the afternoon for a refreshing bath; more restful and tonic than the quick morning plunge.

It is a clever idea for the busy mother to have a notebook of rainy-day games to which the children can refer when they become restless from staying indoors.

If a loose bottom pan is used for baking cake, run a piece of thread between cake and bottom of pan and the cake will not become broken in taking from pan.
