

Nyal's Spring Tonic

A Pleasant Bitter
Purely Vegetable
An Energizer
and Stimulant

An excellent tonic for any season but particularly necessary in the spring.
Get a bottle at the Nyal Store.

R. P. Reekie
Druggist Dutton
THE NYAL STORE

THE COUNTY

Happenings in Elgin During the Past Week

Cyrus Hancock, drayman, of St. Thomas, attempted to commit suicide by gashing his throat with a razor. He had been drinking.

Geo. Mitchell, an old resident of St. Thomas, died after an illness of several days. He leaves one brother, John Mitchell, residing at Port Stanley.

The death took place at the home of her father, William Stoner, Southwood, of Mrs. Thomas Coombs, of the Lake road, Southwood, after an illness of four months, aged 45 years. Deceased resided in St. Thomas for 30 years before moving to Southwood four years ago. A son and a daughter, besides her husband, survive her, as well as four brothers and three sisters.

The death took place in St. Thomas of T. S. Firth, aged 70 years. He was a native of England and came to Canada with his parents in the early forties, and settled at Port Stanley, where his father built one of the first flour mills in the district. He afterwards moved to a farm at Frome, and fourteen years ago made his home in St. Thomas. His wife, two sisters and one brother survive him. The funeral took place to the Frome cemetery.

On Wednesday afternoon the home of Godfrey McLaughlin, Edgewood road, Yarmouth, was the scene of a quiet event, being the marriage of his daughter, Estella Mae, to Francis S. Johnson, a prosperous farmer of North Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Buckborough, of New Sarum, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was an active member of the New Sarum Baptist church and leader of the choir.

While returning in a buggy from spending the afternoon with a neighbor, the three Misses Bears, of Malahide, turned their horse into a gateway to avoid two automobiles going in opposite directions. The horse caused the buggy to collide with the gatepost, throwing the three ladies out. Miss Sarah had her skull fractured, a splinter of wood penetrating her brain, and she cannot recover. Her right arm was also broken. Her sister, Sophia, had her lower lip cut entirely off, and was badly bruised. The third sister escaped with slight bruises.

Charles F. Maxwell, a well-known barrister of St. Thomas, has been appointed police magistrate for the city, succeeding the late H. F. Zell. The appointment is a popular one with all parties. Mr. Maxwell received his education in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute; studied law with the late John McLean, St. Thomas, and Justice Riddell, Toronto; was called to the bar in 1891 and has practiced in St. Thomas ever since. The new magistrate has a thorough knowledge of all court proceedings, being recognized as one of the most expert stenographers in Canada.

Word has been received in St. Thomas of the death in France of Miss Percy Richardson, sister of Mrs. Judge Ermatinger. When the war broke out, Miss Richardson was nursing in New York but gave up her position and volunteered for the first contingent and she left with the first Canadian nurses. She had already seen war service, for in the South African campaign she had served with the British forces, and for her work was awarded the Order of Merit by the British Government. Over-fatigue in nursing the sick and wounded on the French battle line is given as the cause of death.

OFFICIALS PRAISE CANADIANS

An official statement issued by a staff-officer in the field relative to the much-discussed question of the discipline of the Canadians in the trenches is as follows:
"The Canadians may have been full of boyish spirit when they landed in England, but they were men in the trenches. They have buckled down as British soldiers should, and their conduct has been not only without reproach but deserving the highest praise."

M. C. R. WILL REDUCE STAFF

It is rumored that the Michigan Central is feeling the effects of the depression of business throughout the country and are lessening the new time-table which will appear on the 26th. Two trains on the St. Clair branch will be discontinued. Four of the fastest trains will witness a reduction of their crews, Nos. 48, 8, 18 and 17, the crew consisting of one brakeman only. Other reductions are also rumored.

AROUND HOME

TYRCONNELL

J. C. Revell attended the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Donald Hutchinson, Ingersoll, on Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Kelly, of Dutton, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church on Sunday morning and spoke in the interest of the Dominion Alliance.

Mrs. Seals, of Dutton, spent over Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Revell.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buras attended the funeral of Mr. Sutherland, the latter's father, on Saturday at Dexter.

Mrs. Mary McArthur has returned after spending the winter with friends at Clacbau.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McMullen visited friends at Cowal on Sunday.

IONA

Bud Clark left last week to take up his old position with the hydro gang on the London and Port Stanley road.

Mrs. Annie Liddell and daughter, Shirley, returned home Friday, after spending the winter at West Lorne with the former's daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Ripley.

Mrs. Owen Hitchcock, public temperance lecturer, of Toronto, gave an address in the Methodist church on Sunday morning.

A Bible class of young men has been started in the Methodist Sunday school, with Geo. Lumley as teacher.

F. H. Harrison, of Strathroy, spent the week-end with his niece, Mrs. T. A. Silcox. Mrs. Joseph Canfield and Nannie left on an extended visit to Detroit.

COWAL

Wallace Shippey, of Detroit, has the contract for painting and decorating Chalmers' church, and will complete it this week. The re-opening services will be held in the near future, an effort being made to secure Rev. Thos. Wilson, of Walkerton, for the occasion.

Dr. Thos. Watson, of New Mexico, and Robert R. Watson, of Manitoba, who were here attending their father's funeral, returned to their respective homes the beginning of the week.

David Carroll, the San Jose scale inspector, has begun his duties and is finding the pest in quite a number of the orchards that he has examined.

Farmers are about through with their seeding in this section.

Rev. D. McKay has purchased a five-passenger touring Ford car from J. A. Campbell, Dutton.

With advancing years comes constipation. Rexall's are a specially good laxative for ageing people. Sold only by A. E. Roberts, The Rexall Store, 10c, 25c and 50c boxes.

The conviction of the Brantford Gas Company for maintaining a public nuisance and a fine of $100 imposed by a Brantford magistrate has been confirmed at Osgoode Hall.

On Wednesday afternoon the home of Godfrey McLaughlin, Edgewood road, Yarmouth, was the scene of a quiet event, being the marriage of his daughter, Estella Mae, to Francis S. Johnson, a prosperous farmer of North Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Buckborough, of New Sarum, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was an active member of the New Sarum Baptist church and leader of the choir.

While returning in a buggy from spending the afternoon with a neighbor, the three Misses Bears, of Malahide, turned their horse into a gateway to avoid two automobiles going in opposite directions. The horse caused the buggy to collide with the gatepost, throwing the three ladies out. Miss Sarah had her skull fractured, a splinter of wood penetrating her brain, and she cannot recover. Her right arm was also broken. Her sister, Sophia, had her lower lip cut entirely off, and was badly bruised. The third sister escaped with slight bruises.

Charles F. Maxwell, a well-known barrister of St. Thomas, has been appointed police magistrate for the city, succeeding the late H. F. Zell. The appointment is a popular one with all parties. Mr. Maxwell received his education in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute; studied law with the late John McLean, St. Thomas, and Justice Riddell, Toronto; was called to the bar in 1891 and has practiced in St. Thomas ever since. The new magistrate has a thorough knowledge of all court proceedings, being recognized as one of the most expert stenographers in Canada.

Word has been received in St. Thomas of the death in France of Miss Percy Richardson, sister of Mrs. Judge Ermatinger. When the war broke out, Miss Richardson was nursing in New York but gave up her position and volunteered for the first contingent and she left with the first Canadian nurses. She had already seen war service, for in the South African campaign she had served with the British forces, and for her work was awarded the Order of Merit by the British Government. Over-fatigue in nursing the sick and wounded on the French battle line is given as the cause of death.

An official statement issued by a staff-officer in the field relative to the much-discussed question of the discipline of the Canadians in the trenches is as follows:
"The Canadians may have been full of boyish spirit when they landed in England, but they were men in the trenches. They have buckled down as British soldiers should, and their conduct has been not only without reproach but deserving the highest praise."

It is rumored that the Michigan Central is feeling the effects of the depression of business throughout the country and are lessening the new time-table which will appear on the 26th. Two trains on the St. Clair branch will be discontinued. Four of the fastest trains will witness a reduction of their crews, Nos. 48, 8, 18 and 17, the crew consisting of one brakeman only. Other reductions are also rumored.

On Wednesday afternoon the home of Godfrey McLaughlin, Edgewood road, Yarmouth, was the scene of a quiet event, being the marriage of his daughter, Estella Mae, to Francis S. Johnson, a prosperous farmer of North Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Buckborough, of New Sarum, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was an active member of the New Sarum Baptist church and leader of the choir.

While returning in a buggy from spending the afternoon with a neighbor, the three Misses Bears, of Malahide, turned their horse into a gateway to avoid two automobiles going in opposite directions. The horse caused the buggy to collide with the gatepost, throwing the three ladies out. Miss Sarah had her skull fractured, a splinter of wood penetrating her brain, and she cannot recover. Her right arm was also broken. Her sister, Sophia, had her lower lip cut entirely off, and was badly bruised. The third sister escaped with slight bruises.

Charles F. Maxwell, a well-known barrister of St. Thomas, has been appointed police magistrate for the city, succeeding the late H. F. Zell. The appointment is a popular one with all parties. Mr. Maxwell received his education in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute; studied law with the late John McLean, St. Thomas, and Justice Riddell, Toronto; was called to the bar in 1891 and has practiced in St. Thomas ever since. The new magistrate has a thorough knowledge of all court proceedings, being recognized as one of the most expert stenographers in Canada.

Word has been received in St. Thomas of the death in France of Miss Percy Richardson, sister of Mrs. Judge Ermatinger. When the war broke out, Miss Richardson was nursing in New York but gave up her position and volunteered for the first contingent and she left with the first Canadian nurses. She had already seen war service, for in the South African campaign she had served with the British forces, and for her work was awarded the Order of Merit by the British Government. Over-fatigue in nursing the sick and wounded on the French battle line is given as the cause of death.

An official statement issued by a staff-officer in the field relative to the much-discussed question of the discipline of the Canadians in the trenches is as follows:
"The Canadians may have been full of boyish spirit when they landed in England, but they were men in the trenches. They have buckled down as British soldiers should, and their conduct has been not only without reproach but deserving the highest praise."

It is rumored that the Michigan Central is feeling the effects of the depression of business throughout the country and are lessening the new time-table which will appear on the 26th. Two trains on the St. Clair branch will be discontinued. Four of the fastest trains will witness a reduction of their crews, Nos. 48, 8, 18 and 17, the crew consisting of one brakeman only. Other reductions are also rumored.

On Wednesday afternoon the home of Godfrey McLaughlin, Edgewood road, Yarmouth, was the scene of a quiet event, being the marriage of his daughter, Estella Mae, to Francis S. Johnson, a prosperous farmer of North Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Buckborough, of New Sarum, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was an active member of the New Sarum Baptist church and leader of the choir.

While returning in a buggy from spending the afternoon with a neighbor, the three Misses Bears, of Malahide, turned their horse into a gateway to avoid two automobiles going in opposite directions. The horse caused the buggy to collide with the gatepost, throwing the three ladies out. Miss Sarah had her skull fractured, a splinter of wood penetrating her brain, and she cannot recover. Her right arm was also broken. Her sister, Sophia, had her lower lip cut entirely off, and was badly bruised. The third sister escaped with slight bruises.

Charles F. Maxwell, a well-known barrister of St. Thomas, has been appointed police magistrate for the city, succeeding the late H. F. Zell. The appointment is a popular one with all parties. Mr. Maxwell received his education in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute; studied law with the late John McLean, St. Thomas, and Justice Riddell, Toronto; was called to the bar in 1891 and has practiced in St. Thomas ever since. The new magistrate has a thorough knowledge of all court proceedings, being recognized as one of the most expert stenographers in Canada.

Word has been received in St. Thomas of the death in France of Miss Percy Richardson, sister of Mrs. Judge Ermatinger. When the war broke out, Miss Richardson was nursing in New York but gave up her position and volunteered for the first contingent and she left with the first Canadian nurses. She had already seen war service, for in the South African campaign she had served with the British forces, and for her work was awarded the Order of Merit by the British Government. Over-fatigue in nursing the sick and wounded on the French battle line is given as the cause of death.

An official statement issued by a staff-officer in the field relative to the much-discussed question of the discipline of the Canadians in the trenches is as follows:
"The Canadians may have been full of boyish spirit when they landed in England, but they were men in the trenches. They have buckled down as British soldiers should, and their conduct has been not only without reproach but deserving the highest praise."

It is rumored that the Michigan Central is feeling the effects of the depression of business throughout the country and are lessening the new time-table which will appear on the 26th. Two trains on the St. Clair branch will be discontinued. Four of the fastest trains will witness a reduction of their crews, Nos. 48, 8, 18 and 17, the crew consisting of one brakeman only. Other reductions are also rumored.

On Wednesday afternoon the home of Godfrey McLaughlin, Edgewood road, Yarmouth, was the scene of a quiet event, being the marriage of his daughter, Estella Mae, to Francis S. Johnson, a prosperous farmer of North Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Buckborough, of New Sarum, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was an active member of the New Sarum Baptist church and leader of the choir.

While returning in a buggy from spending the afternoon with a neighbor, the three Misses Bears, of Malahide, turned their horse into a gateway to avoid two automobiles going in opposite directions. The horse caused the buggy to collide with the gatepost, throwing the three ladies out. Miss Sarah had her skull fractured, a splinter of wood penetrating her brain, and she cannot recover. Her right arm was also broken. Her sister, Sophia, had her lower lip cut entirely off, and was badly bruised. The third sister escaped with slight bruises.

Charles F. Maxwell, a well-known barrister of St. Thomas, has been appointed police magistrate for the city, succeeding the late H. F. Zell. The appointment is a popular one with all parties. Mr. Maxwell received his education in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute; studied law with the late John McLean, St. Thomas, and Justice Riddell, Toronto; was called to the bar in 1891 and has practiced in St. Thomas ever since. The new magistrate has a thorough knowledge of all court proceedings, being recognized as one of the most expert stenographers in Canada.

Word has been received in St. Thomas of the death in France of Miss Percy Richardson, sister of Mrs. Judge Ermatinger. When the war broke out, Miss Richardson was nursing in New York but gave up her position and volunteered for the first contingent and she left with the first Canadian nurses. She had already seen war service, for in the South African campaign she had served with the British forces, and for her work was awarded the Order of Merit by the British Government. Over-fatigue in nursing the sick and wounded on the French battle line is given as the cause of death.

An official statement issued by a staff-officer in the field relative to the much-discussed question of the discipline of the Canadians in the trenches is as follows:
"The Canadians may have been full of boyish spirit when they landed in England, but they were men in the trenches. They have buckled down as British soldiers should, and their conduct has been not only without reproach but deserving the highest praise."

It is rumored that the Michigan Central is feeling the effects of the depression of business throughout the country and are lessening the new time-table which will appear on the 26th. Two trains on the St. Clair branch will be discontinued. Four of the fastest trains will witness a reduction of their crews, Nos. 48, 8, 18 and 17, the crew consisting of one brakeman only. Other reductions are also rumored.

On Wednesday afternoon the home of Godfrey McLaughlin, Edgewood road, Yarmouth, was the scene of a quiet event, being the marriage of his daughter, Estella Mae, to Francis S. Johnson, a prosperous farmer of North Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Buckborough, of New Sarum, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was an active member of the New Sarum Baptist church and leader of the choir.

While returning in a buggy from spending the afternoon with a neighbor, the three Misses Bears, of Malahide, turned their horse into a gateway to avoid two automobiles going in opposite directions. The horse caused the buggy to collide with the gatepost, throwing the three ladies out. Miss Sarah had her skull fractured, a splinter of wood penetrating her brain, and she cannot recover. Her right arm was also broken. Her sister, Sophia, had her lower lip cut entirely off, and was badly bruised. The third sister escaped with slight bruises.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

George N. Pabitt, deputy receiver-general for New Brunswick, dropped dead in his office at Fredericton, N.B., on Saturday.

In recognition of the devotion of Lady Ralph Paget, the municipality of Uskub, in Serbia, has decided to rename the finest street in that city after her.

Six thousand bales of American cotton aboard the steamer San Guglielmo were destroyed by fire in the harbor at Naples. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

A fire in the shoe factory of C. K. Fox, Inc., Haverhill, Mass., Saturday, resulted in a loss estimated at more than $75,000. The damage was due principally to water.

Maj.-Gen. Hughes, Minister of Militia, was in Belleville for a few minutes Saturday afternoon, and reviewed the members of the 39th Battalion in a march-past.

The Royalist newspaper, Libre Parole, of Paris, has been ordered to suspend publication for 48 hours for publishing news which had not been approved by the censors.

Pope Benedict has issued a decree for the recital of prayers for peace in Roman Catholic Churches over the world during the month of May. The prayers were composed by the Pope.

Violent snowstorms are raging in the Vosges mountains, but the fighting continues. Two hundred railroad cars filled with German wounded passed through Leopoldshöhe, near Basle, last Tuesday.

On Wednesday afternoon the home of Godfrey McLaughlin, Edgewood road, Yarmouth, was the scene of a quiet event, being the marriage of his daughter, Estella Mae, to Francis S. Johnson, a prosperous farmer of North Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Buckborough, of New Sarum, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was an active member of the New Sarum Baptist church and leader of the choir.

While returning in a buggy from spending the afternoon with a neighbor, the three Misses Bears, of Malahide, turned their horse into a gateway to avoid two automobiles going in opposite directions. The horse caused the buggy to collide with the gatepost, throwing the three ladies out. Miss Sarah had her skull fractured, a splinter of wood penetrating her brain, and she cannot recover. Her right arm was also broken. Her sister, Sophia, had her lower lip cut entirely off, and was badly bruised. The third sister escaped with slight bruises.

Charles F. Maxwell, a well-known barrister of St. Thomas, has been appointed police magistrate for the city, succeeding the late H. F. Zell. The appointment is a popular one with all parties. Mr. Maxwell received his education in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute; studied law with the late John McLean, St. Thomas, and Justice Riddell, Toronto; was called to the bar in 1891 and has practiced in St. Thomas ever since. The new magistrate has a thorough knowledge of all court proceedings, being recognized as one of the most expert stenographers in Canada.

Word has been received in St. Thomas of the death in France of Miss Percy Richardson, sister of Mrs. Judge Ermatinger. When the war broke out, Miss Richardson was nursing in New York but gave up her position and volunteered for the first contingent and she left with the first Canadian nurses. She had already seen war service, for in the South African campaign she had served with the British forces, and for her work was awarded the Order of Merit by the British Government. Over-fatigue in nursing the sick and wounded on the French battle line is given as the cause of death.

An official statement issued by a staff-officer in the field relative to the much-discussed question of the discipline of the Canadians in the trenches is as follows:
"The Canadians may have been full of boyish spirit when they landed in England, but they were men in the trenches. They have buckled down as British soldiers should, and their conduct has been not only without reproach but deserving the highest praise."

It is rumored that the Michigan Central is feeling the effects of the depression of business throughout the country and are lessening the new time-table which will appear on the 26th. Two trains on the St. Clair branch will be discontinued. Four of the fastest trains will witness a reduction of their crews, Nos. 48, 8, 18 and 17, the crew consisting of one brakeman only. Other reductions are also rumored.

On Wednesday afternoon the home of Godfrey McLaughlin, Edgewood road, Yarmouth, was the scene of a quiet event, being the marriage of his daughter, Estella Mae, to Francis S. Johnson, a prosperous farmer of North Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Buckborough, of New Sarum, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was an active member of the New Sarum Baptist church and leader of the choir.

While returning in a buggy from spending the afternoon with a neighbor, the three Misses Bears, of Malahide, turned their horse into a gateway to avoid two automobiles going in opposite directions. The horse caused the buggy to collide with the gatepost, throwing the three ladies out. Miss Sarah had her skull fractured, a splinter of wood penetrating her brain, and she cannot recover. Her right arm was also broken. Her sister, Sophia, had her lower lip cut entirely off, and was badly bruised. The third sister escaped with slight bruises.

Charles F. Maxwell, a well-known barrister of St. Thomas, has been appointed police magistrate for the city, succeeding the late H. F. Zell. The appointment is a popular one with all parties. Mr. Maxwell received his education in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute; studied law with the late John McLean, St. Thomas, and Justice Riddell, Toronto; was called to the bar in 1891 and has practiced in St. Thomas ever since. The new magistrate has a thorough knowledge of all court proceedings, being recognized as one of the most expert stenographers in Canada.

Word has been received in St. Thomas of the death in France of Miss Percy Richardson, sister of Mrs. Judge Ermatinger. When the war broke out, Miss Richardson was nursing in New York but gave up her position and volunteered for the first contingent and she left with the first Canadian nurses. She had already seen war service, for in the South African campaign she had served with the British forces, and for her work was awarded the Order of Merit by the British Government. Over-fatigue in nursing the sick and wounded on the French battle line is given as the cause of death.

An official statement issued by a staff-officer in the field relative to the much-discussed question of the discipline of the Canadians in the trenches is as follows:
"The Canadians may have been full of boyish spirit when they landed in England, but they were men in the trenches. They have buckled down as British soldiers should, and their conduct has been not only without reproach but deserving the highest praise."

It is rumored that the Michigan Central is feeling the effects of the depression of business throughout the country and are lessening the new time-table which will appear on the 26th. Two trains on the St. Clair branch will be discontinued. Four of the fastest trains will witness a reduction of their crews, Nos. 48, 8, 18 and 17, the crew consisting of one brakeman only. Other reductions are also rumored.

On Wednesday afternoon the home of Godfrey McLaughlin, Edgewood road, Yarmouth, was the scene of a quiet event, being the marriage of his daughter, Estella Mae, to Francis S. Johnson, a prosperous farmer of North Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Buckborough, of New Sarum, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was an active member of the New Sarum Baptist church and leader of the choir.

While returning in a buggy from spending the afternoon with a neighbor, the three Misses Bears, of Malahide, turned their horse into a gateway to avoid two automobiles going in opposite directions. The horse caused the buggy to collide with the gatepost, throwing the three ladies out. Miss Sarah had her skull fractured, a splinter of wood penetrating her brain, and she cannot recover. Her right arm was also broken. Her sister, Sophia, had her lower lip cut entirely off, and was badly bruised. The third sister escaped with slight bruises.

Charles F. Maxwell, a well-known barrister of St. Thomas, has been appointed police magistrate for the city, succeeding the late H. F. Zell. The appointment is a popular one with all parties. Mr. Maxwell received his education in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute; studied law with the late John McLean, St. Thomas, and Justice Riddell, Toronto; was called to the bar in 1891 and has practiced in St. Thomas ever since. The new magistrate has a thorough knowledge of all court proceedings, being recognized as one of the most expert stenographers in Canada.

Word has been received in St. Thomas of the death in France of Miss Percy Richardson, sister of Mrs. Judge Ermatinger. When the war broke out, Miss Richardson was nursing in New York but gave up her position and volunteered for the first contingent and she left with the first Canadian nurses. She had already seen war service, for in the South African campaign she had served with the British forces, and for her work was awarded the Order of Merit by the British Government. Over-fatigue in nursing the sick and wounded on the French battle line is given as the cause of death.

An official statement issued by a staff-officer in the field relative to the much-discussed question of the discipline of the Canadians in the trenches is as follows:
"The Canadians may have been full of boyish spirit when they landed in England, but they were men in the trenches. They have buckled down as British soldiers should, and their conduct has been not only without reproach but deserving the highest praise."

It is rumored that the Michigan Central is feeling the effects of the depression of business throughout the country and are lessening the new time-table which will appear on the 26th. Two trains on the St. Clair branch will be discontinued. Four of the fastest trains will witness a reduction of their crews, Nos. 48, 8, 18 and 17, the crew consisting of one brakeman only. Other reductions are also rumored.

On Wednesday afternoon the home of Godfrey McLaughlin, Edgewood road, Yarmouth, was the scene of a quiet event, being the marriage of his daughter, Estella Mae, to Francis S. Johnson, a prosperous farmer of North Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Buckborough, of New Sarum, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was an active member of the New Sarum Baptist church and leader of the choir.

While returning in a buggy from spending the afternoon with a neighbor, the three Misses Bears, of Malahide, turned their horse into a gateway to avoid two automobiles going in opposite directions. The horse caused the buggy to collide with the gatepost, throwing the three ladies out. Miss Sarah had her skull fractured, a splinter of wood penetrating her brain, and she cannot recover. Her right arm was also broken. Her sister, Sophia, had her lower lip cut entirely off, and was badly bruised. The third sister escaped with slight bruises.

Charles F. Maxwell, a well-known barrister of St. Thomas, has been appointed police magistrate for the city, succeeding the late H. F. Zell. The appointment is a popular one with all parties. Mr. Maxwell received his education in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute; studied law with the late John McLean, St. Thomas, and Justice Riddell, Toronto; was called to the bar in 1891 and has practiced in St. Thomas ever since. The new magistrate has a thorough knowledge of all court proceedings, being recognized as one of the most expert stenographers in Canada.

Word has been received in St. Thomas of the death in France of Miss Percy Richardson, sister of Mrs. Judge Ermatinger. When the war broke out, Miss Richardson was nursing in New York but gave up her position and volunteered for the first contingent and she left with the first Canadian nurses. She had already seen war service, for in the South African campaign she had served with the British forces, and for her work was awarded the Order of Merit by the British Government. Over-fatigue in nursing the sick and wounded on the French battle line is given as the cause of death.

An official statement issued by a staff-officer in the field relative to the much-discussed question of the discipline of the Canadians in the trenches is as follows:
"The Canadians may have been full of boyish spirit when they landed in England, but they were men in the trenches. They have buckled down as British soldiers should, and their conduct has been not only without reproach but deserving the highest praise."

It is rumored that the Michigan Central is feeling the effects of the depression of business throughout the country and are lessening the new time-table which will appear on the 26th. Two trains on the St. Clair branch will be discontinued. Four of the fastest trains will witness a reduction of their crews, Nos. 48, 8, 18 and 17, the crew consisting of one brakeman only. Other reductions are also rumored.

On Wednesday afternoon the home of Godfrey McLaughlin, Edgewood road, Yarmouth, was the scene of a quiet event, being the marriage of his daughter, Estella Mae, to Francis S. Johnson, a prosperous farmer of North Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Buckborough, of New Sarum, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was an active member of the New Sarum Baptist church and leader of the choir.

While returning in a buggy from spending the afternoon with a neighbor, the three Misses Bears, of Malahide, turned their horse into a gateway to avoid two automobiles going in opposite directions. The horse caused the buggy to collide with the gatepost, throwing the three ladies out. Miss Sarah had her skull fractured, a splinter of wood penetrating her brain, and she cannot recover. Her right arm was also broken. Her sister, Sophia, had her lower lip cut entirely off, and was badly bruised. The third sister escaped with slight bruises.

Charles F. Maxwell, a well-known barrister of St. Thomas, has been appointed police magistrate for the city, succeeding the late H. F. Zell. The appointment is a popular one with all parties. Mr. Maxwell received his education in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute; studied law with the late John McLean, St. Thomas, and Justice Riddell, Toronto; was called to the bar in 1891 and has practiced in St. Thomas ever since. The new magistrate has a thorough knowledge of all court proceedings, being recognized as one of the most expert stenographers in Canada.

Word has been received in St. Thomas of the death in France of Miss Percy Richardson, sister of Mrs. Judge Ermatinger. When the war broke out, Miss Richardson was nursing in New York but gave up her position and volunteered for the first contingent and she left with the first Canadian nurses. She had already seen war service, for in the South African campaign she had served with the British forces, and for her work was awarded the Order of Merit by the British Government. Over-fatigue in nursing the sick and wounded on the French battle line is given as the cause of death.

An official statement issued by a staff-officer in the field relative to the much-discussed question of the discipline of the Canadians in the trenches is as follows:
"The Canadians may have been full of boyish spirit when they landed in England, but they were men in the trenches. They have buckled down as British soldiers should, and their conduct has been not only without reproach but deserving the highest praise."

It is rumored that the Michigan Central is feeling the effects of the depression of business throughout the country and are lessening the new time-table which will appear on the 26th. Two trains on the St. Clair branch will be discontinued. Four of the fastest trains will witness a reduction of their crews, Nos. 48, 8, 18 and 17, the crew consisting of one brakeman only. Other reductions are also rumored.

On Wednesday afternoon the home of Godfrey McLaughlin, Edgewood road, Yarmouth, was the scene of a quiet event, being the marriage of his daughter, Estella Mae, to Francis S. Johnson, a prosperous farmer of North Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Buckborough, of New Sarum, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was an active member of the New Sarum Baptist church and leader of the choir.

While returning in a buggy from spending the afternoon with a neighbor, the three Misses Bears, of Malahide, turned their horse into a gateway to avoid two automobiles going in opposite directions. The horse caused the buggy to collide with the gatepost, throwing the three ladies out. Miss Sarah had her skull fractured, a splinter of wood penetrating her brain, and she cannot recover. Her right arm was also broken. Her sister, Sophia, had her lower lip cut entirely off, and was badly bruised. The third sister escaped with slight bruises.

Charles F. Maxwell, a well-known barrister of St. Thomas, has been appointed police magistrate for the city, succeeding the late H. F. Zell. The appointment is a popular one with all parties. Mr. Maxwell received his education in the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute; studied law with the late John McLean, St. Thomas, and Justice Riddell, Toronto; was called to the bar in 1891 and has practiced in St. Thomas ever since. The new magistrate has a thorough knowledge of all court proceedings, being recognized as one of the most expert stenographers in Canada.

Word has been received in St. Thomas of the death in France of Miss Percy Richardson, sister of Mrs. Judge Ermatinger. When the war broke out, Miss Richardson was nursing in New York but gave up her position and volunteered for the first contingent and she left with the first Canadian nurses. She had already seen war service, for in the South African campaign she had served with the British forces, and for her work was awarded the Order of Merit by the British Government. Over-fatigue in nursing the sick and wounded on the French battle line is given as the cause of death.

An official statement issued by a staff-officer in the field relative to the much-discussed question of the discipline of the Canadians in the trenches is as follows:
"The Canadians may have been full of boyish spirit when they landed in England, but they were men in the trenches. They have buckled down as British soldiers should, and their conduct has been not only without reproach but deserving the highest praise."

THE RIGHT HOUSE