> Liberal should vote for the candidate of his choice. It is a duty which devolves on every one to cast his ballot on this occasion.

The officers elected should be the ones who are acceptable to the majority of the club, this can only be by every ticket-holder voting.

Good music will be furnished during the balloting. Let every Young Liberal vote. WORK AT THE G. T. R. SHOPS.

A force of sixteen carpenters began work this morning at the Grand Trunk shops. They are a portion of the staff laid off last June, and are not sorry to find themselves in work again. Whether the job will be steady all winter or not, the men do not know. They are engaged on a number of freight cars, making them of a uniform height, so that the couplings will be safer. The fact of even such a small number of men being put to work so soon is a welcome sign to East Enders, who had begun to think that it would be spring at least before anything could be done.

A TELLER'S DEPARTURE. It has been current report around town for several days that the teller of the London Loan Company had disappeared and a local contemporary has stated such to be the case and that his shortage with the company had been covered by a draft on the young man's father for $1,400. To-day the "Advertiser" made further inquiries at the bank and there it was stated as it was on Thursday last, when similar inquiries were made, that the young man's cash was $38 53 cents ahead instead of being behind. Mr. M. J. Kent, the manager, is at present

ART OF CANNIBALISM. The Buffalo Commercial publishes the folowing letter:

I had a letter from Jack Trencher, who is now in Cape Town, and he gave me entertaining accounts of the growth in African culture since his last visit. Take cannibalism, for instance. You know how disgust-ingly crude, and how grossly sensual were the cookery and the table manners in middle and lower Africa 50 years ago. Men and women were eaten freshly killed, and there was little attention paid to the serving of
