Decreased Immigration to Canada. LONDON, Aug. 11 .- The emigration to Canada from British ports for the seven months ending July 31, shows, according to the official compilations just published, a considerable decrease when compared with a similar period in the previous year. The falling away is considered the more remarkable when the prominence which Dominion matters have received during the past year is taken into account. The Favored Few.

about 50 shots. The attacks, it is thought, were a ruse to draw fire in order to ascertain the strength and position of the Chinese guns. No damage is reported to have been done at either Wei-Hai-Wei or Port Arthur.

Great Beer-Guzzling. BERLIN, Aug. 12 .- The 21st congress of the Austro-German Alpine Club this week attracted 5,000 mountain climbers to Munich. Most of them arrived on Wednesday by special trains. They were received by bands, and were entertained by the prince regent in the evening at a complimentary concert in the great Pschorre brewery. At the trueschoppen, or beer breakfast, on Thursday the delegates con-

The contests were tame, and there was considerable friction over the snobbish conduct of the Royal Yacht Squadron. A. D. LONDON, Aug. 12 .- The London Times publishes a column letter from the Allan Line Steamship Company of Glasgow, in which they state they are much aggrieved at the statement of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, Canadian Minister of Marine and Fisheries, in the Canadian House of Commons on July 11 last, to the effect that they (the Allans) were helping to throw discredit on the safety of the St. Lawrence route because the proposed line would hurt their personal interests. They contend, however, that the outlook for a fast Atlantic line to Canada is not very bright, because of the prevalence of isebergs, disasters in the St. Lawrence, and the absence of local trade at Halifax and Quebec. Mr. Jas. Huddart, the promoter of the new line, says he is quite satisfied with the assurances of Sir Chas. Hibbert Tupper as to the safety of

The Eight Hour Law.

London, Aug. 12.-The one remaining subject likely to give rise to a spirited debate in the House of Commons this session is the Eight Hours Miners Bill. The topic is important enough to have brought Mr. Gladstone suddenly again to the front from the depths of his political seclusion and the rural solitudes of Hawarden. The halfforgotten leader issues a manifesto in the form of a letter to Mr. Thomas, a Welsh Radical member. This letter is written in reply to a personal appeal by one to whom he writes as a personal friend in the character, as he takes pains to explain of a friendly adviser, "and not as in any manner committed or engaged in controversy" He emphasizes his separation from his party, and clearly means to hold himself aloof from every political responsi-bility. He nevertheless fences with the question in his old manner, and with that lexterity which is his alone. If the miners want eight hours "with a degree of concurrence approaching unanimity" they have in Mr. Gladstone's opinion
"a moral title to it," but he declares himself very doubtful of the moral title of the majority to impose their will on a considerable minority. He, however, declares that the general adoption of the eight-hour law would give him personally very great satisfaction. The upshot of the whole letter is that he personally thinks it would be well if the question could be set-tled by local option, the option to be exercised in districts of considerable area. Reviewed British Troops.

LONDON, Aug. 13 .- Emperor William of Germany arrived at Aldershot this morning in the uniform of a colonel of dragoous, and reviewed 12,000 troops commanded by the Duke of Connaught.

Mr. Raisley, under the supervision of the Government, has been examining the physical characteristics of the natives of northern India. He has carefully measured all their noses and deduced therefrom a nasal index. He has found close correspondence between the gradations of racial type indicated by the nasal index and certain social data ascertained by independent inquiry. If you take the series of castes and arrange them in the order of the average nasal index so that the caste with the finest nose shall be at great damage to property, and caused the | the list, it is found that this order substanloss of many lives. "Philanthropist" Pullman Decides to Evict the Strikers.

Five Thousand Men, Women and Children Will Be Put on the Street.

Four Hundred Houses Already Vacant-The Place Will Be Depopulated.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 12.—Mr. Pullman has decided to turn his striking tenants into the streets. He made up his mind yesterday to evict them early this week. The legal papers which must be served on the strikers, preliminary to setting their goods into the streets were understood to be in course of preparation in Attorney Runnell's office under positive orders of the Second Vice-President Wickes confirmed the report that the tenants would be put out of Mr. Pullman's houses as soon as the company could get rid of them. Mr. Wickes admitted Friday afternoon that something of the kind would have to be done if the strikers who are living in the The other companies comprising the regicompany's houses did not return to work ment are No. 2 Company, Toronto; No. 3

On Friday Mr. Pullman visited the shops, pany, Frederickton, N. B. Each will He evidently determined then to get rid of leave their respective stations so as to his unprofitable tenants and settle the question himself, since no meeting of the directors was held in the interval. The reason given for turning the strikers out is that the houses are needed by new workmen who have taken the places of strikers.

There are now nearly 400 vacant houses in Pullman. Should the company carry out its programme the town of Pullman would be almost wholly depopulated. No less than 5,000 men, women and children will be turned into the street. About 1,500 strikers are tenants of the Pullman company, most of them having large families. Few, if any of them, paid a dollar of rent since the strike was declared. Most of section of anthropology has established them are on the point of starvation, and so day many were singing songs with much poor they could not pay an expressman for gusto. The strikers have avoided discussing the possibilities of eviction, although they were warned that it would surely come. They have been hoping the trouble would be settled in some way that would not drive them from the town.

"God pity the officials of the company if they attempt to evict us," said Robert Coombs, a member of the strike committee. "I don't like to think of what would happen. I want to get away before anything of that kind begins."

HANGING IN MID-AIR.

Untatisfactory Situation in Regard to the Wilson Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12 .- The week just ended left the Tariff Bill hang. ng in mid-air. What its condition will be by the time the present week is ended the most sanguine politician will not predict. There is a strong hope that the time for action has arrived and that the long struggle is about to cease.

The situation has become clear to a certain extent, for it is no longer a question of choice between the Senate and the Wilson Bill, but between the Senate Bill and the McKinley law.

The debate in the Senate on Mr. Hill's resolution will begin promptly after routine business on Monday, and when it will end cannot be foretold. Leading Democrats, who are leagued with the Administration in this issue, say that there will not be any effort at filibustering against it.

The night before the House caucus which will settle the fate of the pending tariff legislation finds the Democratic leaders in that body confident of a satisfactory solution of the knotty problem before them. Messrs. Wilson and Breckinridge spent the most of the afternoon together talking over the situation. The understanding tonight is that no opposition will be made tomorrow to the motion to concur in the Senate amendments to the tariff biil. There is no good reason to believe that the President will attempt to interfere.

No. 1 Company R. C. R. I. Take an Early Morning Trip

And Leave the City at the Mercy of the Enemy.

Coxey's Army, Please Stay Away Until Canada's Only Permanent Corps Get Through Meeting in Camp-Will Return About October 14.

The officers and men of No. 1 Company R. C. R. I. marched out of the barracks today in the dim gray light of early morning and commenced their journey to Quebec where the companies of the Royal Regiment of Canadian Infantry will meet together as a regiment for the first time in its existence. The historic Plains of Abraham will no doubt welcome Canada's premier corps and warlike Quebec will look for the first time on the only regiment of the permanent force of the infantry corps that Canada possesses, Company, St. Johns, P. Q., and No 4 Company, Frederickton, N. B. Each will arrive at Quebec about the same time.

There were great preparations being made for the trip at the barracks yesterday. The soldiers were not allowed out of bounds and civilians, except a privileged few, were not allowed to pass the guard. Bedding and baggage, pots and pans and bundles and boxes were all being loaded on baggage wagons preparatory to their removal to the train. Arms and accontrements were being made to glitter and shine as good soldiers love to see them. Lucky was the soldier who had his work done. Those who had were contemplating the trip as civilians do a well-carned holiday, and despite the sacredness of the final instructions and rations at 4 o'clock, and at 6 o'clock the bugle sounded "lights out," although it was yet broad daylight. This was to give the men a chance to rest before "reveille" sounded, shortly after 3 a.m. During the evening the bandsmen of the Seventh, who were to play the soldiers to the train, commenced to arrive, and the majority stayed at the barracks all night. It was hovering twixt night and morn when the men, in obedience to the bugle, assembled on the square in heavy marching order. The situation at Pullman yesterday kept Good-bye was said to wives and children, Behind Me," "The British Grenadiers" and "Auld Lang Syne," until the C. P. R. crossing at Adelaide street was reached. In the absence of the corps a great many repairs, alterations and extensions will be made to the barracks.

It is rumored that when the company returns about Oct. 14 another company will be formed, and both will have their headquarters here. CHICAGO, Aug. 11. - Attorney-General Majoney this afternoon filed a petition in the office of the circuit clerk of Cook county for a bill in equity against the Pullman Palace Car Company, calling upon it to show cause why it should not be prohibited from further doing business under the laws of the State.

The petition sets forth that the company has violated the franchise conferred upon it by the State in numerous particulars. and lays stress upon the fact that the company is carrying on a hotel business and real estate business at Pullman without warrant.

The petition is said to be one of the strongest that has been so far drawn by the Attorney-General against trusts and
