

40TH YEAR. NO. 17048

COLOMBIA IS HITTING BACK

Threatens to Give Part of Isthmus to Germany.

BECAUSE OF U. S. ACTIONS

Protest Presented to Roosevelt—American Warships Hold a Close Blockade.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The U. S. state department has been informed by an agent of the Panama Canal Company that the provisional government of Panama has designated a commission of three members, one of whom is Federico Boyd, a member of the junta, who will leave Panama tomorrow for Washington, to begin immediately the negotiations of a new canal treaty. The commission, it is stated, is clothed with full powers to conclude that instrument.

Embarkment of Colombian troops from Buena Ventura or any other Colombian port for the Isthmus will not be permitted by the Washington Government, and U. S. warships will be ordered to any port upon receipt of an intimation that Colombian troops will attempt to sail for the Isthmus. The Washington Government holds that this policy is in the interest of the general good.

COLOMBIA'S PROTEST.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Secretary Hay, during a call at the White House early today, placed in the hands of the President the Colombian protest against the course pursued by the Washington Government on the Isthmus, and its attitude toward the new Government of Panama. The protest came to the secretary from Dr. Thos. Herron, the Colombian charge, and was duly acknowledged. What action will be taken regarding the protest probably will be decided on at a conference between the President and Secretary Hay.

APPEAL TO GERMAN.

New York, Nov. 9.—Arturo de Brigard, consul-general for Colombia in this city, said today that he heard that it had been proposed to his Government to appeal to Germany to send a delegation to Panama to offer the Emperor certain pieces of land on both sides in return for Germany's protection. Of course, I do not know whether this will be done, but if it is, I imagine the land conceded to Germany will be that lying on the Panama border on both sides of the Isthmus.

Berlin, Nov. 10.—The Colombian commission, it is learned here, will receive no consideration from the German Government.

The correspondent of the Associated Press today called the attention of the German government to the statement made yesterday by R. DeBrigard, the Colombian consul-general in New York, that the Colombian Government was clamoring for a German protectorate over their country, and that the Colombian Government had been asked to look at Colombia from Germany to offer Emperor William certain pieces of land on both sides in return for Germany's protection. He said: "We have heard nothing on the subject, but if a commission comes with a proposition it would not be entertained for one moment. We have no intention of mixing ourselves in the affairs of the Isthmus States. We are still without any communication from the United States to ask for German interests. The statements regarding our commercial interests in Colombia and Panama have been much exaggerated, but we have no trade there, and prosper better after the United States builds the canal."

ORDERED DEATH FOR 47

Colombia Sent Gutierrez With Orders to Kill.

Colon, Nov. 9.—Gen. Ponciano Gutierrez, one of the Colombian leaders who arrived at Colon just about the time the revolution occurred, had orders to put to death forty-seven Nationalists, including Dr. Manuel Amador, who is minister of finance in the new Government; Jose A. Arango, Tomas Arias and Federico Boyd, the triumvirate governing the Republic; Gen. Huertas, Carlos Mendoza, who is now minister of justice, and Senor Zubiate. Gen. Gutierrez was made a prisoner upon arriving at Colon and was sent to Cartagena with the Colombian troops, who were occupying the city.

The de facto Government has the perfect confidence of the people, and there is great enthusiasm over the success of the coup d'etat. The new congress will meet next week.

Senor Porfirio Melendez, the new governor of Colon, has received the congratulations of the revolutionaries.

MISSED OLD GLORY

Excitement at a Performance in Ottawa Theater.

New York, Nov. 10.—A dispatch to the American from Ottawa says: That feeling here is still intense over the Alaskan boundary award is shown by the following incident: "The Prince of Pilsen" was produced on Saturday evening. At the finale of the first act two large American flags were waved in the air while there is singing and a drill. Many in the house at sight of the American flag shed a tear, and there was considerable excitement until the Union Jack was also brought on the platform. It was the first time in many years that the appearance of the Stars and Stripes in a public place had been reported in the Canadian capital.

SPIRIT FOOLED LOVELORN MAIDS

Berlin Has a Sensational Spiritualistic Scandal On Its Hands.

Berlin, Nov. 10.—Berlin has another spiritualistic scandal, which is now occupying the criminal court.

The principal defendant is a former circus performer, Frau Gustava Schetter, who, posing as the widow of a distinguished official, received at her luxuriously-fitted-up rooms young men and women of all classes of society under the pretense of arranging seances. She claimed to have a medium, whom she named "Lieschen," at her command, and affirmed that she could make her materialize at will.

Lovelorn young ladies would call in the early mornings to inquire of "Lieschen" when and where on that particular day they would be likely to meet this or that handsome lieutenant. Was it by walking along Unter-den-Linden, or in the Friedrichstrasse?

Such questions would readily be answered by the obliging spirit. Some times, however, "Lieschen" replied savored rather of the ball-room atmosphere than of the other world, and many trusting young ladies were thus ruined.

One of them was Maria Horn, a talented singer, who now stands with blackmail, threatening the life of a rich lover, fraud, and several other offenses. Her women seem to have extorted enormous sums of money, which were squandered in riotous living.

When the crash came, and the police raided Schetter's apartments, the woman fled, and feigning lunacy, managed to find refuge in an institution for demented patients, where she stayed for many months before her identity was discovered. Some fifty witnesses told how the women had been fooled them.

ARMENIAN AGITATION

Confiscation of Church Property Arouses Sect.

London, Nov. 10.—A Russian correspondent of the Times says that a systematic agitation has been organized in the Russian provinces of Armenia, where the confiscation of the church property has converted the whole of the native population into rebels. Enormous crowds assemble at the churches, and violent speeches are made, followed by the singing of revolutionary hymns. At Achalkalek, in the Tiflis Government, after midnight mass was celebrated, a young woman delivered a fiery harangue by solemn maledictions upon the Russian Government. At a village near Frivan the proceedings were continued by giving up the church property, and the commissioner of police, in order to terrify the crowd, struck the mayor in the face. The mayor replied by knocking the commissioner down and tramping upon him. It was all the police could do to rescue their chief.

so effectively that the great nave seemed far from empty. In the chancel palms, Japanese chrysanthemums and English primroses were combined in an artistic color scheme, with which the orchids on the pulpit and the lilies about the altar toned beautifully. Forming in the outer vestibule of the church, the bride party proceeded down the aisle to the chancel steps, the bride on the arm of her brother, Robert Goellet. She was gown in white satin, veiled with point Valenciennes lace, and trimmed with wreaths of orange blossoms. Her veil was of tulle, and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maiden of honor, Miss Beatrice Mills, and the other bridesmaids, Lady Isabel Innes-Ker, Miss Martha Johnston, Miss Alice Babcock, Miss Marion Haven, Miss Therese Iselin, Miss Nina Thayer, of Boston, and Miss Pauline Whittier, wore gowns of pink mousseline de soie, of the quaint and effective Louis Seize period, combined with ecrue lace, tresses of pink velvet, trimmed with lace and sable, and carried in place of bouquets, muffs of pink velvet and sable.

The ushers, Hugo Barling, Howard Bassett, Robert White, and Gustav Winthrop, Henry Bull and William Woodward, did not precede the bride party, as customary, but were seated before the bride entered.

At the chancel steps the bride was met by the duke and his best man, the Hon. Reginald Ward, son of the late Earl of Dudley, and the betrothal service of the Protestant Episcopal Church was read by Dr. Stiles. The party then advanced to the altar rail, where the Episcopal marriage ceremony was said by Bishop Doane.

Afterwards the duke and duchess went to the home of Mrs. Ogdne Goellet, on Fifth avenue, where an informal reception, to which only a part of the wedding guests were invited, was held. It had been intended to make it a more brilliant function, but the death of Sir Michael Herbert, uncle of the bride, on Sept. 30, caused the change in plans.

MANY WISH TO SELL THEIR EARS

New York Doctor's Ad Brings Thousands of Offers.

MEN AND WOMEN THROUGH OFFICE

Anxious to Sacrifice Beauty and Comfort in Exchange for the Money.

New York, Nov. 10.—Scores of women and girls, men and boys, all eager to sell their ears for $5,000, came with a rush yesterday to Dr. A. L. Nelden's office, in East Twenty-ninth street.

The doctor has a rich patient, a western mining man, who will pay that sum for an ear, which must be grafted on his head in place of an ear which he lost by accident. But this ear must be perfect and of precise dimensions.

The doctor's waiting-room was filled at all hours, and many stood outside. Then they came singly, in twos and threes, all the afternoon. At nightfall, more than a hundred ears had been examined, and the respective owners' names and addresses written down. Others who came later were turned away and asked to come again today.

Telegrams have come by dozens from men and women who live out of town, and are willing to sell an ear for $5,000. Letters will probably arrive in this morning's mail containing similar offers. One telegram received from a woman in Buffalo read as follows: "To Dr. A. L. Nelden: 'Read your offer of $5,000 for an ear. I have a perfect ear, but have reason to care no more for the ear or other features upon which I once prided myself. Let me know at once if you want me to come on.'"

In pitiful contrast to the gay parade of the Fifth avenue throngs in the sunshine Sunday afternoon was the odd assortment of men and women who slipped through the procession into the shadow of Twenty-ninth street to collect in a silent, unfriendly, cheerless group in front of the office of Dr. A. L. Nelden.

To sell an ear for $5,000 these individuals, representing all degrees of life, came from all parts of the city and outlying districts. That others were apparently willing to have their ears severed for a small fortune, the cheerless group in front of the office of Dr. A. L. Nelden.

One of the first of those to arrive with ears to sell was a young woman about 28 years of age. She was attired plainly, but evidently had seen more prosperous days. Her eyes lacked luster, her shoulders were slightly rounded, and her face was prematurely lined with wrinkles of worry and trouble. Her ears, however, were small and shapely.

"Does the doctor here that wants to buy an ear for $5,000?" she inquired of the girl who answered her ring of the bell.

"You want the doctor to look at your ear?" the girl asked, with a tinge of curiosity in her tone, for up to this time she had seen none only.

"Yes," the young woman answered, and then she looked eagerly: "He hasn't bought the ear yet, has he?"

"No," answered the girl. "You may stop in and wait for him, and the young woman joined the throng in the ante-room."

CAPE VERDE IN GRIP OF FAMINE

Officials Unable to Stand Awful Sights Ask To Be Recalled.

Lisbon, Nov. 9.—The dreadful news that daily from twenty-five to thirty men, women and children die of hunger in the Cape Verde Islands, is now officially confirmed. On one day last week fifty persons died the most horrible of deaths, and Government officials and newspaper men stationed in the islands ask frantically to be released, as they cannot stand the awful sights.

It looks now as if the whole population was to die, for the Governor-General wires that the starvation has reduced to skeletons and totally unfit for work, while all industry has ceased and domestic animals die for want of care. The inhabitants are now reduced to a mixture of Portuguese and negro races and never showed much power for resistance to disease. From this and other Portuguese cities large consignments of food are being shipped with every steamer to help the poor starving people, but unless the most important factor was forgotten with characteristic Portuguese negligence, namely, that the islands are almost without physicians, as a consequence, the diseases incident to lack of food were allowed to spread unchecked, and now that the omission has been discovered, it is almost too late to save the threatened depopulation.

In the deal are also interested Sir William Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific, and Minor Keith, of the United Fruit Company. Behind these three men are interests they represent, while with President Cabrera are associated a number of German capitalists.

The enterprise involves the completion of the Guatemala Northern Railroad through the Pacific coast and the establishment of terminals which will undertake to handle cargoes from Europe and America to Asia and to the west coasts of North and South America.

The railroad will endeavor to capture the trans-isthmian traffic now handled by the railroad from Colon to Panama.

The tender was thrown up, beside the freight shed, but the engine ran down the track over the C.P.R. junction. A car of barley jumped up in the air and landed on top of the ruined engine, and up.
